

Editorial Snap Shots.

Say, Bro. Miller, get up early and point Bay City with that keg of red ink by way of a novelty.

There was a falling off of 39 births in the county last year, as the advent of only 71 babies are recorded. It may be that an annual baby show would foster this infant industry.

The bootleggers and the gambling den proprietors had better sit up and take notice, if they are not aware that there is a new justice of the peace whom none of the attorneys can control, run or bullyrag. And a new deputy district attorney as well.

C. E. Trombly has taken over the management of the Herald plant, and in extending to him a welcome hand, the snap shot man is in hope that he will be more successful than his predecessors, who have had to "get" whenever the powers behind the throne decreed that it was time for them to get down and out.

Road district No. 3 has a new road supervisor. It is to be hoped that B. W. Alderman will become the boss of the road work in that district, for there appears to be a general opinion that there have been too many bosses in that district and not enough road improvement for the large amount of money expended.

We are afraid that Bro. Turner is troubled with a chronic case of sore head. The snap shot man was a pretty good kind of a fellow when he gave Turner an indorsement to become the "pap sucker" at Hemlock post office, but failing to land it, gee, he has been sore ever since, and the whole universe is out of whack. Poor fellow, but he has our tender sympathy and compassion on account of his bad ailment.

We are glad that none of the Republican attorneys jumped around like cats on hot bricks drumming up a case to muzzle the press and choke off free criticism. No matter how big a grafter or scoundrel may be running for office, the democrats want to muzzle the Press and muzzle the people and make it a criminal offence to publish the truth. Isn't that enough to make the few remaining democrats who cling to the tail of the democratic mule disgusted with their party? Great is democracy—in Tillamook.

The question of starting a Commercial Club is again on the tapis. If the hall in the Tillamook Building could be leased for five years for that purpose it would give the club commodious and up to date quarters. Every business man in the city ought to be willing to pay $25 entrance fee, and as there should be no trouble in getting 100 or more to join, that amount of money judiciously expended in partly furnishing and paying for hall rent would go a long way in getting a good start. Try it. The city needs a Commercial club, and it will need it badly this year.

Bay City News is the name of a newspaper published at that place, with B. M. Miller as publisher. In the boom days of Bay City some years ago it had a newspaper, but it died a natural death when the bottom dropped out of it and the great expectations of making that the county seat and the center of commerce and industrial enterprise went up in smoke. The Headlight is still on deck to welcome another newspaper venture at Bay City, and which no doubt, will be used to give the city on the bay another boost and boom and create at the same time a healthy, yet friendly, rivalry between the two cities. If it is again to be a survival of the fittest between the two cities, civic pride, enterprise and a united effort will count for much in either place, for that will interest investors and home seekers much sooner than a town where there is factional strife. Anyway, the Bay City News has made its initial bow, and its aim and object will be, naturally, to boost and boom and yell and fight for Bay City, but to be successful it must have the united support and the kindly support of the enterprising, broad minded and liberal business men of that city.

Probably the Nehalem Enterprise had better devote its attention to the moral atmosphere of Nehalem before it undertakes to write about the moral condition of Tillamook City, something which it evidently knows nothing about. It did not look, if the last term of the circuit court, and the pointed remarks of the presiding judge that the moral atmosphere of Tillamook City nor of Nehalem had improved, for the judge made the public statement from the bench that there was more lawlessness in Tillamook than any county in his district. This is legitimate news that correspondents and newspapers are expected to report so as to enlighten the people. We noticed that the Enterprise kept pretty mum about the Nehalem bootleggers, who helped to add to the immoral and lawless atmosphere of the county. The Enterprise had better pluck the mote out of its own eye, and after doing so will see more clearly that bootleggers have brought Tillamook City as well as Nehalem into disrepute and with it a certain amount of criticism upon city officials for allowing it to go on. Another thing, here in Tillamook the city derives a license from soft drink places which became blind pig joints, yet the city officials make no effort to stop the traffic or revoke their licenses, consequently the city pockets the revenue and the county is put to the trouble and the expense of prosecuting these cases.

Justice courts in Tillamook were quite an expensive luxury the past year, for they cost the taxpayers double the amount of money over the previous year, and the worse feature of all was the glaring fact that the deputy district attorney could not get justice in the late Justice Sappington's court and had to desist prosecuting a number of cases which would have reduced the expenses of the justice court had justice been fairly and properly administered. But it was not and the taxpayers, as usual, have to bear the burden. The expenses of the justice courts amounted to $600.75 in 1908, and they jumped to $1,477.75 last year, or more than double in one year. There are too many trumpety cases dragged into the justice and circuits, a number of which are brought out of petty jealousies or to enable some attorneys to work their clients for a big fee. For several years past the circuit court dockets have contained cases which show how ready some attorneys are to rush their clients into court over some paltry affair, and while such cases are being aired they cost the taxpayer probably $150 a day in jurors and witnesses fees. Take, for an illustration, the case of suing the editor for simply making a mistake in a person's name or having him arrested for printing a circular for other parties, shows, on the face of it, that courts of justice in this county are being used, not for justice, but for personal spleen, and at the taxpayers' expense. If the costs in a number of cases which find their way into the justice court had to be charged up to those who rush into court, and not to the taxpayers, there would be less cases. We will cite several cases and give the costs of them in the future just to show that some of the attorneys, instead of following Judge Burnett's advice to avoid litigation, have been crowding the courts with cases which have no merit, but simply to obtain fees and cause trouble and bad feeling amongst people. Life had something to say along this line which is worth reprinting:

WHAT EVERY LAWYER KNOWS That fees stop when cases are settled. That technicalities furnish a multitude of fees. That it is all right to be honest if convenient. That no one is ever satisfied with the outcome of a lawsuit. That a lawsuit is a conundrum at which the judge has the last guess. That it is a great deal easier to get into a lawsuit than it is to get out. That knowledge of human nature is more important than knowledge of the law. That the chief mourners usually stop at the court-house on the way back from the funeral.

CITY WINS ROAD CASE. County to Pay City Back Road Tax Collected.

Judge Burnett has rendered a decision in the case where the city is suing the county for back road taxes collected within the corporate limits in favor of the city. Judge Galloway rendered a decision adverse to the city at the April term and the case being resubmitted was argued before Judge Burnett at the November term and taken under advisement.

PASTOR AND PEOPLE DELIGHTED.

Revival at Church of Christ Growing in Interest and Power. There is always a little feeling of uncertainty with the coming of a New Evangelist to lead a church in its revival, but the pastor of the Church of Christ and the members are delighted with the work of Evangelists Holmes and Shields. Mr. Holmes has taken great care in the preparation of his addresses and has a pleasing address as well. He has served both as pastor and evangelist, and has a splendid grasp of the needs of a community along religious lines, and does not hesitate in setting forth his ideas. It is refreshing to one to here a man who has a message and has the courage to set forth his convictions in an open, frank way. Mr. Holmes does not abuse other people either. He has frequently declared that while he believed that the Church of Christ is right, he recognized that much of truth is taught and great good is done by denominations. He says he accepts all their truth and admires all their good work, but by the return to the Apostolic Church excludes all possibility of the error from human creeds, and the mistakes that grow out of wrong church policy. Another thing, Mr. Holmes believes the world will never be saved as a whole, until divisions are done away, and firmly believes that the only possible basis of union is revealed in the Bible to the exclusion of all matters of opinion as tests of fellowship. He is urging a closer fellowship among the local church and appreciates the attendance of members from other congregations. He has announced a strong line of sermons for next week and all should here him. On Saturday night in connection with his work in the city he will give the "Famous Passion Play in Moving Pictures." He has as good an outfit as money can buy, and nothing else in the line of moving pictures has ever attracted such attention as this great drama. He has the Patha film, and will use several illustrated songs in connection. A reduction in the price of tickets is made up to Friday night. See any one directly connected with the work and buy tickets early. Mr. Holmes will discuss the "Unpardonable Sin" Sunday night.

A YEAR'S RECORD. Of Births, Marriages and Deaths in Tillamook.

The births numbered 71 for the year 1909, and included 36 males and 35 females, which is a decrease of 39 from the previous year.

The total number of marriages were 55, an increase of 9.

There are 32 deaths recorded, but this is not complete, as the certificates of deaths of several persons, including the victims of the Argo, have not been filed, as they should be, with the County Health Officer, Dr. I. M. Smith. The deaths would number 40 had they all been recorded. The previous year only 21 deaths were recorded. It may be interesting to know the cause of some of the deaths apart from those who died in infancy and old age: Tuberculosis, 2; pneumonia, 3; typhoid, 1; accidentally killed, 5 (not including the five persons drowned by the Argo wreck and life boat accident; murdered, 1; heart failure, 5; asthma, 1; found dead, 2; Bright's disease, 1; suicide, 1.

Dogs in Germany. The dachshund is the favorite dog in Germany, and a very useful and pleasant companion he seems to be. The English bulldog is a good second in popularity, and the neary he is to our standard points the better he is liked, says Farm and Home. The fox terrier varies a good deal in size and making, and is evidently not so well known in Germany as he deserves to be. The ladies there are as fond of their little Poms and their King Charles's as are their English sisters of their pet dogs at home. Some few dogs in the streets are harnessed to four-wheeled trucks. Usually a man and a dog pull. The work seems too heavy and exhausting for the dogs, which are generally mongrels of the mastiff type. They look in fair condition and are not ill treated.

A Traveling Salesman. H. F. Beers, 617-7th Ave., Peoria, Ill., writes: "I have been troubled for some time with kidney trouble, so severely at times I could scarcely carry my grip. After using one bottle of Foley's Kidney Pills I have been entirely relieved, and cheerfully recommend them to all." Foley's Kidney Pills are healing and antiseptic and will restore health and strength.—C. I. Clough, Tillamook.

Came Near Choking to Death. A little boy, the son of Chris. B. Peterson, a well known resident of Jacksonville, Iowa, had a sudden and violent attack of croup. Much and thick stringy phlegm came up after giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mr. Peterson says: "I think he would have choked to death had we not given him this remedy."
