False Witness Against the Tariff.

In St. Louis and elsewhere ignorant or reckless talkers persist in laying upon the tariff the blame for the high prices in food products. At a meeting of the Central Trades and Labor Union of St. Louis on Sunday, in discussing this subject, one speaker said: "It is the tariff wall that keeps the price of necessities up. The steel trust went before Congress and told it that a high tariff was needed to protect the trust against its employees—against the workmen."

The silliness which attributes to our tariff the rise in the cost of living can be shown in many ways. Says a letter from Berlin which is published in the London Daily News: "A sadder Christmas Germany has scarcely ever had since the foundation of the empire, and if the world had times was ever justified it is so at present. Owing to the short-sightedness of the people who have shaped the policy of the empire during recent years the prices of the necessities of life have reached a height never before attained."

Even if the charge were true that the tariff caused the higher prices for the necessities of life—and, except in a minor and indirect degree, it is not true—how would the removal of the tariff help matters? Under the Democratic Wilson-Gorman tariff of 1894-97 prices of wheat, corn, meat and other foods were lower than they are now. But that was during the industrial collapse which Democratic victory in 1862 brought. As the country knew just what was coming when the Democrats carried the country, the collapse arrived before the Democrats had a chance to legislate. The low food prices of the Democratic days carried very little comfort to the idle workers—and there were millions of them—who had no money to buy them. Prosperity always brings increased prices for the necessities of life. The tariff is a very large factor in producing prosperity. The tariff sets the wheels of industry in motion, it gives activity to the railways, fills the pay envelopes of the wage-workers, swells the deposits in the savings banks, and enables the people to eat more and better food and wear better clothes. This increased demand for the necessities causes a rise in prices. But the man who was idle in the Democratic days find that, to him, the prices of the necessities have fallen instead of risen. It is easier for the man who is employed to pay $1.25 a bushel for wheat to-day than it was to pay 50 cents a bushel for it in Democratic times when he was idle and did not have the 50 cents. To the extent to which it brings prosperity the tariff, indirectly, aids in advancing prices of the necessities of life. But the fair minded, intelligent wageworker will be very slow about condemning the tariff on that account. The Democrats threaten to bring the high prices into politics as a pretext for an assault upon the tariff. As the congressional canvass is near at hand this will be an excellent time for them to push this issue forward. This would give the Republicans an opportunity to make a contrast between conditions now and in the Democratic days. Under this sign the Republican party would conquer.—Globe Democrat.

Importance of Grass.

In attempting to farm without grasses the farmer is lifting without a lever. He is pulling his load with the weight on the hind wheels. He is cutting with a dull saw. First of all, grow more grasses and study how to build up the fertility of the soil so that it will grow larger and better crops of nutritious grasses. You may convert the grass into milk and its products into flesh and into manure for grain crops, or you may sell the hay by the ton, according to the facts of your particular location. It sounds foolish to hear men talking about farming without grasses and land that can be made to yield at least two tons of well-cured hay to the acre. The greatest thrift that we have seen among the farmers in various parts of the ten leading agricultural states has been on farms of about 100 acres where grass was the basis of their farming and where this grass was fed out to animals that were kept on their farms. Without grass it is impossible to keep up a rational system of crop rotation and build up the fertility of the soil for future crops. A farmer can not afford to grow half a ton of grass to the acre any more then he can afford to grow ten bushels of wheat or corn. Such crops will keep him poor forever.—Agricultural Epitomist.

The Man Who Wins.

The man who wins is the man who works— The man who toils while the next man shirks; The man who stands in his deep distress With his head held high in the deadly press— Yes, he is the man who wins. The man who wins is the man who knows The value of pain and the worth of woes— Who a lesson learns from the man who fails And a moral finds in his mournful wails; Yes, he is the man who wins. The man who wins is the man who stays In the unsought paths and the rocky ways, And perhaps, who lingers now and then, To help some failure to rise again, Ah, he is the man who wins! And the man who wins is the man who hears The curse of the envious in his ears But who goes his way with his head held high And passes the wrecks of the failures by— For he is the man who wins. —Baltimore News.

Suction Pumps.

As all schoolboys know, a suction pump can theoretically elevate water only about 23 1/2 ft., a column of water of that height balancing the atmospheric pressure. Recently, however, a means has been found of causing a suction-pump to raise water to a height of even 60 feet. The invention was made by a workman in the French marine, M. Eysserie, the chief engineer of the marine, remarked that one particular pump showed extraordinary qualities in drawing water from ship's holds, inquiry developed the fact that a workman named Alzai had thought of the plan of introducing air into the water at the point where the suction was applied, thus producing an emulsion of air and water, which, because of being elevated to considerably greater heights than pure water. The air is introduced through a small brass tube.

Won't Need a Crutch.

When Editor J. P. Sossaman, of Cornelius, N. C., bruised his leg badly, it started an ugly sore. Many salves and ointments proved worthless. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve healed it thoroughly. Nothing is so prompt and sure for Ulcers, Sores, Burns, Bruises, Cuts, Corns, Sores, Pimples, Eczema or Piles. 25c. at C. I. Clough.

Common Cold.

We claim that if catching cold could be avoided some of the most dangerous and fatal diseases would never be heard of. A cold often forms a culture bed for germs of infectious diseases. Consumption, pneumonia, diphtheria and scarlet fever, four of the most dangerous and fatal diseases, are of this class. The culture bed formed by the cold favors the development of the germs of these diseases, that would not otherwise find lodgment. There is little danger, however, of any of these diseases being contracted when a good expectorant cough medicine like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It cleans out these culture beds that favor the development of the germs of these diseases. That is why this remedy has proved so universally successful in preventing pneumonia. It not only cures your cold quickly, but minimizes the risk of contracting these dangerous diseases. For sale by Lamar's Drug Store.
