

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.
STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.)
One year..... 1.50
Six months..... .75
Three months..... .50

The Tillamook Headlight.
Fred G. Baker, Publisher

Editorial Snap Shots.

The horse laugh is again on those who dragged the editor into court.

The Gem Theatre is misleading its patrons. It failed to state whether the picture was after the sanguinary battle or legal fight. Say, Charley, was it after the double flanking that the victim sweat those drops of blood.

The announcement that a passenger boat is to be put on the run between Tillamook and Astoria, with three trips a week, is good news. As a large number of persons are expecting to visit Tillamook this year, this will provide accommodation for them.

Judge Galloway has made the statement that all the proprietors of the near beer joints are liable to be arrested and that the city council had no authority and can be enjoined from issuing licenses. The judge certainly knew what he was talking about. The sheriff and prosecuting officer had better get busy.

Don't be a knocker, get in and boost, no matter who may be at the head or the tail of the Commercial Club. It is boosters that this city needs who are head and shoulders above personal and factional strife. This is the platform upon which the snap shot man and all other Tillamook City and County boosters stand and will win out on.

We want to congratulate Webster Holmes upon being unanimously re-elected president of the Tillamook Commercial Club, and we predict that he will help steer the club to success, and that the club will be a factor in bringing the business men together upon a common platform—all working harmoniously together for the development and improvement of Tillamook City and County.

That was not at all nice of McMinnville to rob Tillamook of Prof. W. R. Rutherford, the popular and efficient principal of the high school in this city. But we suppose congratulations are in order, for the McMinnville school directors certainly used good judgment when they engaged Prof. Rutherford for superintendent of the schools in that city, yet for all that we feel like expressing a little resentment at this city and the public school being deprived of a real gentleman and excellent instructor.

We think it is a just complaint jurymen make that they are dragged away from their farms at this busy season of the year to attend court. There is no disputing the fact that they are financially injured thereby. But the attorneys who drag little, fool, trumpety cases into court, and most everybody knows they have been too numerous in this county, are to blame for it. But some of the attorneys don't care one iota what trouble and inconvenience they put the jurymen to and the expense to the taxpayers as long as they can drag such cases into court, making the courts appear a farce instead of courts of justice.

My! How, horrible! The Bay City News murdered some good cuts of that city and vicinity last week. As the snap shot man has the boosting spirit pretty bad, and like the Commercial Club it is not confined to this city, if the editor of the News will loan us the cuts we will give the entire write up in the Headlight next week. We have an idea that we can turn out a much better job, and as it will not cost anything for giving us the opportunity, it is up to the News to accept of our offer, and if we cannot re-produced better pictures of Bay City, why, we will simply have to admit that the press balked and daubed up the pictures. We don't like to see Bay City muddled up in that manner.

The population of Tillamook City is variously estimated from one to three thousand. The snap shot man will place the population at a little over 1,300, and in another year or so it will double that number now that the business men are getting together, pulling together and showing a certain amount of civic pride in the city. The Headlight contends that Tillamook City is splendidly situated in the center of the county and at the head of navigation, and there is no reason why it cannot be made one of the prettiest towns in the State. It can be, with a little more civic pride and less personal strife. But everybody must put their shoulder to the wheel, for drones, knockers and mossbacks will retard, if anyone does, the growth and development of the city.

Every once in a while we hear a person bubbling all over in advocacy of Statement No. 1. In a few years, when U'Ren's populist fallacies have run their course in Oregon, the Republicans who shout loudest now for the Holy Statement will feel ashamed of themselves for bringing disruption and defeat to the Republican party in Oregon, for the reason that the Holy Statement can never be made a fundamental principle of the Republican party of this or any other state. The Republican party of Oregon was united at the last presidential election and won a great victory on account of the fact there were none of the U'Ren populist fallacies injected into the campaign. And when the Republicans of Oregon let go of these passing isms and get back, as they will before long, to Republican principles, then the party will again be united and victorious in State elections. But not as long as Republicans so readily "bite" at U'Ren's populist and other isms and make them the bone of contention.

Judge Galloway made a remark at the meeting of the Commercial Club on Monday evening that the county needed more newspapers. We are probably in a position to know something about that, and we must differ with the judge. Considering the small population of the county in past years, Tillamook has been well represented with newspapers, and as the pioneer newspaper the Headlight has done its part in advertising and boosting the county for over 21 years. The county is now well represented with newspapers, and we will gamble that some of them are hardly making expenses. Attempts have been made several times to run three newspapers in Tillamook City where, really, one is all that is needed. With a multiplicity of newspapers it divides the business up, and where often a business man would advertise and could afford to do so in one leading county newspaper, they will not do so when there are three or four city newspapers covering the same territory with a limited circulation. It is a burden upon business men who advertise to expect them to support any more newspapers in this city or county. For these reasons we decide that Judge Galloway was not well informed when he made his remarks. If anyone, however, doubt us in this matter and want to butt in with more newspapers the field is wide open to those who want to get a little expensive experience.

More U'Ren Schemes.

Roseburg Leader.
The authors of the "Please-Read" pamphlet have proposed many amendments to the constitution of the State of Oregon, which, if adopted, would entirely change our present representative system of government. Nearly every one of the 38 sections in Article IV have been changed, and many additional sections added, designated as section 3a, section 3b, section 3c, section 3d, section 3e, etc. We wish to call attention to those just named, found on page 21 of that pamphlet, for they provide for the recall of the entire legislative assembly as a body.

Section 3a provides that "if at any time a petition shall be filed with the Secretary of State signed by a number of legal voters equal to not less than 25 per cent of the whole number of votes cast for Justice of the Supreme Court at the last preceding general election, and such petition shall demand the recall of the legislative assembly, or either house thereof," the Secretary of State must order a special election to decide whether the legislative assembly, or the house against which it is directed, shall be recalled, and to choose the successors of the Senators and Representatives.

The proposition is manifestly unfair and unjust. Now observe this: The recall of the entire assembly is voted on by the entire state. Suppose Douglas County, or any other county, has a member with whom the people are satisfied, he can be recalled just the same by the entire electorate of Oregon. The voters of Douglas County would have nothing to say about it, except as so many voters in the entire State of Oregon. It would hardly be possible to secure a Legislature without securing some good men, but those men would have to share the disgrace of all the bad men in the Legislature if the recall election succeeded. The state would still be divided into Senatorial and Representative districts, but for the purpose of the recall, all district lines would be abolished, and every member would be subjected to a state majority in the special election. Section 3c provides that any single member may be recalled, but provides for the same petition, 25 per cent of the voters of the state. In such case the special election would be held only in the member's own district, "unless the reasons given for the recall petition is refusal to obey an instruction from the state." If the reason given in the petition for the recall is "refusal to obey an instruction from the state," whatever that may mean, the election will be held in every county in the state, to recall the member from Douglas County, and elect his successor.

The scheme is wild, visionary and impracticable. What would the people of Eastern Oregon know about the qualifications of a candidate in Douglas County? Should not the people of Douglas County have a right to say whom they want to represent them without interference from the balance of the state?

And it is further provided that the filing of the recall petition "shall operate as a complete suspension from office of all the Senators and Representatives against whom it is filed." That is, under our present system, with only two parties, it takes a majority of the voters in each district to elect a man to office, but 25 per cent of the voters of the state can put him out. There is no limit to the amount of harm such a law would do, and there is no limit to the frequency of the recall elections. It could be used by scheming politicians like its authors to prevent and destroy all legislation. Just as well abolish the Legislature at once.

But there is another phrase of the subject to be noticed. The scheme is revolutionary. Under our present representative system of government, the man who is elected to the legislature assembly from Douglas County represents the people of that county. He should and does work for the good of the entire state, but he represents the people of his district and is elected by their votes. Under the proposed plan, the member from Douglas County may be recalled with the entire assembly by a majority of the voters of the state. Or one member may be recalled and his successor elected by the votes of all the electors of Oregon. Thus it destroys county or district lines and county or district representation, and entirely changes our present system of government. The state is the unit, and county or district representation may be entirely abolished. There are or have been a few counties in Oregon that give Democratic majorities, but the state has always been largely Republican. Under the proposed system, destroying district lines, the state, could elect for those Democratic counties Republican representatives. A more unfair or unjust system could not be well imagined.

Every recall election will be a special election, and there is no limit to the number or frequency of them. And yet, the authors of this crazy misconception of government object to the constitutional convention because it will entail two special elections, one in 1911 and one in 1912. Isn't it about time that we have a constitution amended by delegates elected by the people and responsible to the people to protect us from the menaces of this self-appointed committee of constitution tinkers?

Confirmation of the reported discovery of a new substance to prolong life by Dr. Doyen, the famous Paris physician, has been cabled from the doctor himself. He says that the substance, which he calls mycolysine, is now available to duly authenticated American physicians for test and experiment if they apply through the American embassy at Paris. Dr. Doyen says further that four weeks will suffice to convince the doctors of the value of this discovery provided the experiments are conducted intelligently and faithfully and not with incurables who are already near death. He asserts positively that his discovery will prolong human life from fifteen to twenty years and that most diseases of the respiratory organs and digestive tract will disappear, also cancer of the skin. Mycolysine, which is a word meaning "germ solvent," is composed of colloids, which are fine particles of insoluble substances, but how derived the doctor does not say, but indicates that they are extracted from the ferments of alcohol and from putrid fats. These colloids have the quality of rapid destruction of poisonous microbes by increasing the number of white corpuscles (phagocytes) which act as natural scavengers and destroy the disease microbes. Then, their work done, the phagocytes disappear.

Foley's Kidney Remedy will cure case of Kidney and Bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more. C. I. Clough.

There is no cough medicine so popular as Foley's Honey and Tar. It never fails to cure coughs, colds, croup and bronchitis. For Sale by C. I. Clough.

First Officers and Executive Board of the Tillamook Commercial Club.

Front row, reading from left to right: James Walton, Jr., treasurer; Webster Holmes, president; Erwin Harrison, secretary. Top row, Rollie W. Watson, Fred C. Baker and Charles I. Clough, members of the executive board. This picture was crowded out last week for want of space, and since then E. T. Halton and Frank Severance have been elected to take the place of Messrs. Watson and Leach on the board.

Passenger Steamer for Tillamook.

Within two weeks a passenger steamer will be placed on the run between Tillamook and Astoria, making three round trips weekly. This will greatly relieve the congested condition of the present traffic. L. P. Branstetter, manager and chief stockholder of the Portland & Tillamook Bay Steamship Company, returned yesterday from San Francisco and has announced that he has taken the option on a steamship for service between Astoria and Tillamook. The vessel has accommodations for 48 people with berths and 100 people on a daylight run.

Mr. Branstetter announces, further that the steamship Golden Gate will be kept on the freight service between Portland and Tillamook Bay. The new boat will not come up the river. The craft on which the option is held is a vessel measuring 104 feet in length, 24 feet beam and drawing 8 feet of water, loaded. It is stated that she will be able to make 13 miles an hour.

The Portland & Tillamook Steamship Company, headed by Mr. Branstetter, formerly operated the steamship Argo between Portland and Tillamook Bay. The vessel was lost November 26, 1908, and later the Golden Gate, formerly a fishing boat was purchased and placed on the Portland-Tillamook run. The Golden Gate is a freight packet and has no accommodations for passengers. It is in the passenger traffic that the greatest returns are made.

It has been rumored that the steamship Lydia Thompson, purchased by Captain Good of Portland, recently at Seattle, was the craft on which Branstetter had the option. It is hardly possible that this is the case, as the Thompson is a vessel much smaller than the one mentioned by Mr. Branstetter and in addition she has not a license for outside waters.—Oregonian.

Rheumatism.

More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's Liniment is all that is needed, and it is certain to give quick relief, give it a trial and see how quick it will relieve pains and soreness. The medicines usually given internally for rheumatism are poisonous or very strong medicines. They are worse than useless in cases of chronic or muscular Rheumatism. For sale by Lamar's Drug Store.

He Got What He Needed.

"Nine years ago it looked as if my time had come," says Mr. C. Farthing, of Mill Creek, Ind. Ter. "I was so run down that life hung on a very slender thread. It was then my druggist recommended Electric Bitters. I bought a bottle and I got what I needed—strength. I had one foot in the grave, but Electric Bitters put it back on the turf again and I've been well ever since." Sold under guarantee at Chas. I. Clough drug store. 50c.

Object to Strong Medicines.

Many people object to taking the strong medicine prescribed by physicians for rheumatism. There is no need of internal treatment for chronic or muscular rheumatism, and more than nine out of ten cases of the disease are one or the other of these varieties. When there is no fever and little [if any] swelling, you may know that it is only necessary to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely to get quick relief. Try it. For sale by Lamar's Drug Store.

Undenominational.
New Testament.
Church of Christ.
GOOD MUSIC.
A HOMELIKE CHURCH

THERE ARE MORE ECCENTRICITIES

of man's physique than there are eccentricities of taste—when clothes are the subject uppermost.

Every careful dresser realizes that his clothes to proclaim his individuality must be draped to suit his own individual figure. He knows it is absurd to expect his form to conform to the clothes.

The selection of absolutely exclusive material is the first important step.

MORRIS SCHNAL,
Popular Priced Men's Clothier,
Tillamook, Oregon.

Change of Business.

Having purchased the H. C. Neal & Co.'s stock of groceries, we are in a position to solicit your valued patronage.

We shall carry an up-to-date stock of fancy and staple groceries, flour and feed, fruits and confectionery.

We extend to all a hearty invitation to visit our store, where you will at all times receive courteous treatment.

Alva Finley,
H. A. Kinnaman.

MOKATIL.

The Pure Food Ice Cream.

Made by the Tillamook Ice and Cold Storage Co.

A mere glance through our Spring and Summer weaves and patterns will suffice to convince the most fastidious clothes connoisseur that every one are specially selected gems of the looms of Europe and America.

Their newness bespeaks the "distingue" of advance Fashion. When such fabrics, shaped by the shears of New York's foremost master tailors, bears of New York's foremost master tailors, bear this illustrious makers' name.

B. STERN & SON,
Exclusive Custom Tailors,
New York.

The eye needs no better visible endorsement of elite style than the graceful lines in the garments themselves. The label however is there to guarantee the workmanship.

Its presence on your clothing places you in the index of America's Blue Book of First Fashionable Men.

Through our connection with these well known and old established custom tailors you pay even less for the highest grade hand-tailoring than any local tailor can afford to give you—and exist.