The Tillamook Headlight.

Attention is directed to the fact that all of the trouble in Washington is precipitated by male stenographers.

Some of the English Edwards were fami warriors, but none of the line will hold as high a place as the man of peace.

Perhaps it is lucky for the astronomers that sunspots have returned in the nick of time to enable them to drop discussion of the comet.

An effort has been made to steal the papers to be used by the prosecution of the Illinois grafters. In this and other ways guilt seems to be established before the trial begins.

Germany's latest leviathan battle ship has a speed of twenty-eight knots. A floating fortress that could overhaul the Lusitania or Mauretania will create a sensation in naval circles.

Attorney General Wickersham is receiving numerous petitions from business men protesting against the proposed June increase in freight rates. Why not have one sent in by the ultimate consumers?

The latest alchemist claims that he can take a grain of silver and inexpensively increase its size and weight, without loss of fineness, a hundred fold. But folks will be as skeptical with this story as with the plan to make 40 cents worth of silver pass for 100 cents.

The president hurls back with scorn any insinuation that he has ever reflected upon the grace and generosity of Southern hospitality. This was not necessary after he refused, in full view of a tempting breakfast in Atlanta, the offer of a preliminary cocktail for an appetizer.

Mistakes so easily gain general circulation that all possible care should be taken to avoid them. For example, it was recently asserted that in the famous Durant case at San Francisco, the pastor of the church had confessed on his death bed, five years after the tragedy, that he committed the two murders, and that Durant was innocent. The statement was untrue; nothing of the kind occurred, and nobody knows how such a story was started.

In preventing the threatened advance in rates by the Western railway the government has acted with creditable promptness and vigor. The complaint of the Western shippers was laid by Attorney General Wickersham before the president. Friday the proposed advance was to go into operation, the thirty days notice by the roads having been given to the Interstate Commerce Commission at the beginning of May. Under instructions from the president, the attorney general immediately ordered injunction suits to be brought against the roads, and the change in rates has been averted, for the present at least. It is altogether probable that the threatened advance has been halted permanently, although this, of course, will depend largely upon the result of the hearing before the courts. The charge is made that the proposed increase was a conspiracy among the railway chiefs, and was thus in contravention of law. This point will be brought up immediately in the courts.

After reaching the conviction that flight through the air in machines guided by men on board is practicable, inventors in the leading countries are pushing the idea with resolute courage, and the capital required is generously supplied with the understanding that it is for experiment and not to be treated as a commercial investment. The spirit of the time should receive due credit for what is going on in aviation. Navigation of the air is not a necessity, unless one nation should push on with it and accomplish results that would eventually compel action by the others. To some extent this incentive exists now, but in the main the aerial flights are due to individual efforts and not to government bureaus. Though aeronautics were in a state of suspended life for more than a century inventors continued to insist that flying machines would come some day, and that they could be reached successfully along several lines of mechanical combination. Many men have come forward to take the physical risks, inventors are deep in the various problems, and the money needed is furnished without bargaining as to dividends.

Two dreadnoughts a year, at a cost of from $12,000,000 to $18,000,000 apiece! Such is the policy which the Senate went for to establish last Monday, when it voted, 39 to 26, to authorize the construction of two 26,000-ton battle ships, this being the third year in succession that Congress has voted a similar increase to the navy, and the House having already passed the two-ship programme for the current session. The decision was the outcome of the discussion of the naval bill begun the preceding week, during which several senators attacked this policy as an unwarranted extravagance. Hale referred to the Roosevelt peace speech in Norway, advocating the limitation armaments as being favorable to the smaller expenditure, and Clay said that the nation will be bankrupt if we don't stop. Clay figured that the present naval appropriation would total $140,000,000, or a tax of about $2 a head for the entire population of the country. One amendment provides that at least one of the new ships shall be constructed in a government yard. Another appropriates $450,000 for the purchase of torpedo boats with "vitals below the normal lead line," while a third amendment cut out the scheme to permit contractors to deposit railroad, county or municipal bonds as security. Dewey made the statement that Spain was willing to give up Cuba and Porto Rico without war on as favorable terms as were obtained after the war, but that popular sentiment forced the war on President McKinley and Congress.

Mr. Hawley's Success.

The conference committees of the Senate and House have agreed upon the $100,000 appropriation for the purchase or construction of locks at Oregon City, and $60,000 for the improvement of the Upper Willamette River. This is a very important appropriation, and the work it provides for is of great interest to the producers of the entire Willamette Valley. To Representative Hawley more than any one else is credit due for securing this handsome appropriation. Since his first campaign for the office he now holds Mr. Hawley has been a steady and persistent advocate of opening the Willamette River, and the success that has rewarded his efforts has been most flattering. With the free lockage past the Oregon City falls, there will be a material reduction in freight rates, and an improved service along the river.

So long as the locks remained in the possession of private owners, levying heavy toll for every ton of freight passing through, small owners of boats and barges could never find the Willamette River route a very attractive one on which to engage in business. With the locks under Government control, the river trade above the falls, as well as below, will be open to all who care to engage in it. The success of Representative Hawley in this matter, as well as in numerous other river and harbor appropriations, fully vindicates the judgment of the people in returning him to the post which he has filled with such credit to himself and credit to the state.

INTERESTING GAMES.

Tillamook Commercial Club Wins Two out of Three Games.

The Tillamook Commercial Club Baseball team defeated the Sherwood White Sox on Friday by the score of 5 to 2, and again on Sunday by the score of 4 to 3, but lost on Saturday by the score of 12 to 3. The game on Sunday was by far the best and hottest game ever played in Tillamook and will long be remembered by those who saw it.

Tillamook was represented by the fastest team we ever had and we think we are safe in saying that we have the fastest team in Oregon out side of McCreddie's Coast League bunch. With men like "Dutch" Armbuster, "Collie" Druhot, "Shorty" Duvall and "Bull" Jones we have some who are about as fast as any of them. Sunday's game was always in doubt, Sherwood scoring one run in the fourth by T. Baker getting a hit after two were out and was safe at second on "Shorty's" error and scoring on F. Parrot's success in reaching first on another error. Again in the 6th Sherwood got busy when G. Baker singled and going to second on J. Parrot's single and one score resulted when T. Baker doubled to right garden. Then Druhot became invincible and oozed Parrot, Moore and Todd all in a row. Tillamook's first score came in the 7th, when Edmunds singled over 2nd, but was forced out at 2nd Schofield being safe at first. Schofield then stole second, Duvall going out on a fly to center with two out Jones singled to left landing Schofield on third, then Jones stole second and "Dutch" Armbuster singled to center scoring both Schofield and Jones. This evening matters up, but Sherwood again got busy in 8th when F. Parrot got two base hit to right and scored a moment later on an error. But Tillamook rallied finally in the ninth when Edmunds, who was first up, got a base on balls and advanced to second on Schofield's sacrifice, and chased all the way home on "Shorty" Duvall's single. Then with Duvall on first "Bull" Jones faced the pitcher and on the first ball pitched he landed hard and the sphere sailed high in the air over the right fielder's head scoring Duvall, Jones landing on third base.

We desire to call special attention to the playing of Clent King, who will make a good ball player as he is some handy with the stick and it was his hard drive that helped to win Friday's game.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best on the Market.

"I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and find it to be the best on the market," says E. W. Tardy, editor of The Sentinel, Gainsboro, Tenn. "Our baby had several colds the past winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy always gave it relief at once and cured it in a short time. I always recommend it when opportunity presents itself. For sale at Lamar's drug store."

Of Interest to Farmers and Mechanics.

Farmers and mechanics frequently meet with slight accidents and injuries which cause them much annoyance and loss of time. A cut or bruise may be cured in about one-third the time usually required by applying Chamberlain's Liniment as soon as the injury is received. This liniment is also valuable for sprains, soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. There is no danger of blood poisoning resulting from an injury when Chamberlain's Liniment is applied before the parts become inflamed and swollen. For sale at Lamar's drug store.

What a Summer Cold May Do.

A summer cold if neglected is just as apt to develop into bronchitis or pneumonia as at any other season. Do not neglect it. Take Foley's Honey and Tar promptly. It loosens the cough, soothes and heals the inflamed air passages, and expels the cold from the system. Sold by Chas. I. Clough.
