

Editorial Snap Shots.

Bro. Hofer is in the county. Wonder whether he has quit praying for rain.

Not much doing lately in Tillamook City property, but wait until the harbor improvements are completed.

It was a good thing to have the business part of the city cleaned up. We never saw it look as clean. Keep the good work going.

The members of the Tillamook Commercial Club have shown that the club room is not only for the members but their wives and lady friends as well.

Every dairyman in the county is interested in the price of butter fat, and the high price of cheese again this year is making them feel good, but not so with the few butter fat "knockers."

The Prohibitionists held an assembly in Portland last week, but we notice that the Democrats, who are making a great fuss because the Republicans are going to hold an assembly, have nothing to say about that.

Republicans are not saying much about those who continually cavil about the Republican party running its own affairs to suit itself, like any other organized body. The day of election will show that Republicans will repudiate those who want to dictate to them.

The next time that Bro. Hofer attempts to find the "bumps" and "cluck holes"—which he was talking about—on the head of the snap shot man, there is liable to be a lively newspaper scrap. Moral: Keep out of Hofer's reach when he commences swinging those arms and hands.

Probably it is unfortunate that there is to be an election this year, for the reason that it is the cause of so much factional and personal strife in Tillamook. And at a time when there should be united effort, when all should be striving and putting their shoulders to the wheel to make Tillamook the garden spot of Oregon.

We hear that some of the South Prairieites are renowned clam diggers, but the clams fooled them the other day. Having loaded up with an unusually large load of clams, they were greatly surprised and humiliated to find on reaching home that the clam shells contained nothing but sand. Don't you, Guy, for he's a crackerjack clam digger.

Down in Oregon City the State Grangers had a number of yells, among them one:

Room, bang, bum!

What's the matter with Statement One? Why, it's "bum." That's what's the matter with it. The question is its own answer.—Polk County Observer.

We want to ask any reasonable or fair minded person whether it is good sense on the part of some of the county newspapers to keep publishing insinuations and unkind remarks about Congressman Hawley? When a community keeps that up it is not to be expected that a congressman will work as hard for a county as where he was treated decently and respectfully. Some of our county newspapers are not doing that.

We notice that some of the Grangers in this county are still passing the stereotyped resolutions sent out by "unscrupulous politicians" in opposition to the Republicans holding an assembly. We don't see what right the Grangers have to hold meetings and pass resolutions, if they won't allow Republicans to do the same thing. Things are coming to a pretty state of affairs when Republicans can't run their own affairs like other organizations. Why, the Grangers will be wanting to put every Republican in a straight jacket before long, or will dictate to them that they mustn't kiss their wives or sweet hearts.

The snap shot man, if the city will revise its charter, placing more stringent regulations on saloons, cutting out all kinds of games, seats and screens, would recommend giving it a trial for twelve months. It is generally known that we took an aggressive part in the three local option elections in this county, and, probably, had a great deal to do with the results, but as there appears to be a disposition on the part of quite a number of persons to give the saloons another trial under restrictions we have indicated, we are willing also that it be tried out. The people could put the county in the "dry" column if it did not work satisfactorily. A great many persons are disposed to condemn the local option law, but we want to say right here that local option is a thousand times better than when Tillamook

City was a "wide open," gambling town.

We have had several editorials and articles sent us in opposition to the Republican party holding an assembly. We wish to remind the reader that the Journal is a Democratic newspaper and is fighting the Republican party in every possible manner, not only so, for so long as it can keep Oregon Republicans from getting together and keep them fighting on side issues, there is a good chance of electing more Democrats to office. We wish to remind our Republican friends of Tillamook County that Statement No. 1, our fool initiative and referendum laws and U'Renism gone crazy, are not fundamental principles of the Republican party and are only side issues worked up by scheming politicians to defeat the party. But if Republicans want to take their political gospel from democratic newspapers that is their privilege. We wish to remind our friend that there are two sides to this question, but the snap shot man is not going to be misled by Democrats or disgruntled politicians, who are talking so much about "the people," "ring rule" and what an awful thing it will be for the Republican party to hold an assembly.

The opening of the Tillamook Commercial Club on Wednesday evening was a success in every way. It starts off with a great future before it and important responsibilities confronting it. It has a good membership of business and representative citizens; it has splendid club rooms that the members have reason to be proud of, and we believe brains, energy and get up to make it the most important organization in the county for development work. All that is necessary to make the club a gigantic success is harmonious and united action for a common purpose—the up building of the city and county—morally and industrially. There is sure to be some differences of opinion, and we hope there will be, but these matters can be amicably settled after discussion and mutual agreements. It is now up to the officers and members to accomplish that for which the club was organized and one of the most important things to start off with is a better understanding and more friendly spirit one to another, and all pulling together. As an active booster from the start for a club, the Headlight will take this opportunity to congratulate the members of the Tillamook Commercial Club upon the splendid success that attended its opening, and we wish it bon voyage.

Farms in the United States produced $8,700,000,000 in 1909. But did the farmer get his share of it? We read a whole lot about the American farmer being king and we are told of the farmers sporting automobiles and sending their children to college or to Europe if they have been given the college course, but it is the one best bet that the average farmer is no plutocrat. The farmer is considered lucky if he can keep the interest paid up on the mortgage, and if after years of hard labor, he owns his place clear of all indebtedness he is considered well off. The American farmer is a long way from being the real ruler of the country.—Field and Farm.

A Dreadful Wound
from a knife, gun, tin can, rusty nail, firework, or any other nature, demands prompt treatment with Bucklen's Arnica Salve to prevent the blood poison or gangrene. It is the quickest, surest healer for all such wounds as also for Burns, Boils, Sores, Skin Eruptions, Eczema, Chapped Hands, Corns or Piles. 25c. at Chas. I. Clough's.

Of Interest to Farmers and Mechanics.
Farmers and mechanics frequently meet with slight accidents and injuries which cause them much annoyance and loss of time. A cut or bruise may be cured in about one-third the time usually required by applying Chamberlain's Liniment as soon as the injury is received. This liniment is also valuable for sprains, soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. There is no danger of blood poisoning resulting from an injury when Chamberlain's Liniment is applied before the parts become inflamed and swollen. For sale at Lamar's drug store.

If You are Worth $50,000 Don't Read This.
This will not interest you if you are worth fifty thousand dollars, but if you are a man of moderate means and cannot afford to employ a physician when you have an attack of diarrhoea, you will be pleased to know that one or two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy will cure it. This remedy has been in use for many years and is thoroughly reliable. Price 25 cents. For sale at Lamar's drug store.

What Everybody Ought to Know.
That Foley Kidney Pills contain just the ingredients necessary to tone, strengthen and regulate the action of the kidneys and bladder. Sold by Chas. I. Clough.

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB IS OPENED.

About 200 Persons Participate in the Banquet.

The opening of the Tillamook Commercial Club on Wednesday evening was a decided success in every particular and marked the beginning of a new epoch in the history of Tillamook County and City. The occasion was commemorated by a banquet, covers being laid for 225 persons. The large reception hall was used for this purpose and was decorated with green and gold bunting, being festooned from the ceiling, and with five long tables, and with one at the head laden with flowers and good things, as the hall presented a gay appearance as the orchestra played sweet music while the guests and members with their wives and lady friends filed into their places.

President Webster Holmes, with a number of visiting guests were escorted to the head of the table, amongst whom were Ex-Senator J. M. Gearin, Russell Hawkins, A. W. Norblad, B. F. Crawshaw, F. W. Evans, H. A. Allen, J. T. Ross, Engineer G. L. Davis, Colonel D. M. Dunne, L. P. Branstetter, Captain Snyder, W. Lytle, Representative A. G. Beals, etc. A seat was reserved at the head table for Colonel E. Hofer, but as he appeared to enjoy the company of some of Tillamook City's handsome belles, he occupied a less prominent position. Mayor T. Coates was given a position directly opposite the president at the other end of the hall, and was supported by two of the executive board, while the other members of the board occupied positions at the head of tables and other prominent places. The ladies looked charming in their beautiful dresses, adorned with choice flowers, which made the occasion much more pleasant on account of their presence at the opening.

After the banquet had been served, Mayor Coates, in a few appropriate remarks welcomed the visitors to Tillamook and the club, after which President Holmes made a short address.

James Walton acting as toast master, the first to be called upon for a speech, in the absence of Judge Martin Pipes, was Ex-Senator J. M. Gearin, who received a flattering applause as he rose to speak. After congratulating the members of the club upon the success of the club and the commodious and beautiful quarters they were occupying, he dwelt first upon the great timber resources of the county and the enormous amount of money it would take to manufacture and market it, which was at the present time in a dormant state owing to the lack of railway and shipping facilities. He then referred to the cheese industry and the large amount of money it was bringing into the county as well as the reputation it has gained all over this Pacific Coast. He strongly advocated harbor improvements for Tillamook, both slough and bar, saying that 90 per cent of the timber of the county would go out over the bar. He advised the people to help themselves in this matter and he knew from positive experience that where the government saw the people were willing to help themselves it would always aid them in commendable harbor improvements. It was his advice that the people should tax themselves for this purpose.

A. W. Norblad, President of the Astoria Commercial Club, was the speaker, and he dwelt upon the importance of commercial clubs to a city and county, when business men could get together and talk over things, and where they did that it was invariably the rule that business men found their interests were in common. He advised the members of the Tillamook Commercial Club to avoid all personal and petty jealousies and factional strife and pull together for a common interest. He felt pleased to see that the members of the club had invited their wives and lady friends to the opening banquet, for it showed that a commercial club was not for men only, but where the ladies could be going and participate in its enjoyments and work. He thought that the club had started off under favorable conditions with a membership of 75 and beautiful club quarters, considering the size of the city. Before closing Mr. Norblad said it was the duty of the club to work for a greater city, a greater county and a greater Oregon.

Colonel Dunne caused some amusement when he started to speak by saying that Tillamook County was noted for its timber, its cheese, and a special kind of a animal called the "blind pig." He complimented the members on the splendid results attended the opening of the club that evening and he was exceeding pleased to be with them. Colonel Hofer was the next speaker, who responded for the ladies, but soon diverged from the fair sex to the good roads movement, and he recommended the building of state high ways and the employment of convict labor upon the public high ways.

As the hour was late, no more speakers were called upon to speak, although there were several who were desirous of doing so.

The banquet was under the management of Frank Severance and Fred C. Baker, and was the largest affair of that description ever pulled off in Tillamook.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen, of the Allen House, served the banquet, and they are deserving of a great deal of praise for the excellent manner in which they served it, which was no small job to make arrangements for a banquet for 225 persons where crockery, glass, cutlery and silver were so hard to get for so large a crowd.

The orchestra furnished some excellent music during the banquet, and altogether the opening of the club was a gigantic success in every way.

TILLAMOOK BOOSTERS. Who are Charter Members of the Commercial Club.

Below we give a list of the Tillamook Boosters who are charter members of the Tillamook Commercial Club, who will not only help to boost Tillamook city and county, but one another's business as well.

- Allen, J. P., hotel keeper, proprietor Allen house.
- Atkinson, C. S., feed and implement dealer.
- Baker, Fred C., editor Tillamook Headlight.
- Baker, W. F., postmaster Tillamook City.
- Beals, A. G., farmer, joint representative for Tillamook and Yamhill Counties.
- Beals, F. K., real estate.
- Botts, H. T., attorney.
- Brodhead, S. A., contractor.
- Buchanan, C. E., painter and decorator.
- Coates, T., abstracts, Mayor of Tillamook City.
- Christensen, F. W., factory inspector and cheese grader for Tillamook Creamery Association.
- Clough, C. I., druggist.
- Crawshaw, H., sheriff.
- Clements, C. W., pool room.
- Edmunds, H. R., groceries, etc.
- Edmunds, Geo., groceries, etc.
- Garrett, W. J., clerk, Haltom's department store.
- Groat, John, captain in charge of government improvements.
- Goyno, T. H., attorney, abstracts.
- Hiner, Len, blacksmith and machinist.
- Hawkins, Russell, representative Whitney Co., Limited.
- Haltom, E. T., department store.
- Harter, J. H., real estate.
- Holden, J. C., county clerk.
- Harrison, Erwin, cashier Tillamook County Bank.
- Harris, W. G., livery.
- Handley, T. B., attorney.
- Haradon, F. H., representative Pacific Navigation Co.
- Holmes, Webster, attorney.
- Hoag, E. D., millwright.
- Haberlach, Carl, attorney, secretary and salesman for 25 cheese factories.
- Illingsworth, Joe, employee Tillamook Lumber Mfg. Co.
- Johnson, T. P., pool room.
- Jones, J. L., furniture, etc.
- Jenkins, Eugene, jeweler.
- Knudson, C. P., furniture, etc.
- Kerron, S. M., physician.
- Kiger, Geo. W., real estate.
- King, W. C., hardware, etc.
- Lamar, J. S., druggist.
- Lamb, G. B., president Tillamook Lumber Mfg. Co.
- Laughlin, E. F., pool room.
- Leach, M. F., Meat Market.
- Lamb, B. C., Agent Pacific Navigation Co.
- Maddux, J. W., real estate.
- Mason, Homer, farmer.
- McNair, Alex., hardware, etc.
- Mendenhall, Boyd, clerk Haltom's Department Store.
- Mills, Grant, groceries, etc.
- Norton, F. E., real estate.
- Patzlaf, C. A., department store.
- Potter, T. B., Potter Realty Company, Bayocan.
- Ray, Chas., merchant, Cloverdale.
- Rowe, Frank A., banker, Nehalem.
- Rosenberg, J. H., groceries, etc.
- Rosenberg, H. H., groceries, etc.
- Severance, Frank, farmer.
- Smith, Ira C., hardware, etc.
- Small, F. D., cold storage.
- Sharp, P. J., dentist.
- Shortridge, C. F., toggery.
- Schrader, Paul, captain steamer Sue H. Elmore.
- Schnal, M., clothier.
- Smith, I. M., physician.
- Todd, P. W., county treasurer.
- Turner, H. S., editor Pacific City Outlook.
- Trombley, C. E., editor Tillamook Herald.
- Viereck, S., bakery.
- Ward, G. H., real estate.
- Walton, James, cashier First National Bank.
- Willett, Geo., attorney, deputy district attorney.
- Williams, W. A., harness.
- Watson, R. W., real estate.
- Zachmann R. F., plumbing.

Gladd to Recommend Them.
Mr. E. Weakly, Kokomo, Ind., says: "After taking Foley Kidney Pills, the severe backache left me, my kidney's became stronger, the secretions natural and my bladder no longer pained me. I am glad to recommend Foley Kidney Pills." In a yellow package. Sold by Chas. I. Clough.

Obituary.

"And then I think of one who in her youthful beauty died, The fair meek blossom that grew up and faded by my side; In the cold, moist earth we laid her where the forests cast the leaf, And we wept that one so lovely should have a life so brief; Yet not unmet it was that one, like that beloved of ours, So gentle and so beautiful, should perish with the flowers."

Died, at her home near this city, June 1, 1910, Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Eichinger, age 31 years, 11 months and 22 days.

Helen Beatrice Eichinger was born at Leroy, Dodge Co., Wisconsin, June 9, 1878. At the age of two years she moved with her parents to Kansas. For some years she attended the public schools of that state and distinguished herself as an almost infallible scholar.

In October, 1892, she removed with the family to Tillamook Co., Oregon, where for sometime she continued her work in school. Her youthful reading was extensive, the Bible being her favorite book, having studied through twice.

The deceased believed in the ultimate triumph of truth over error and inculcated a womanly self-reliance and an absolute trust in God. Retiring and modest in disposition, she loathed the grossness of every form of obtrusiveness. She led a purely spotless and unselfish life, and most of her time was devoted to doing good for others.

She loved little children and was ever ready to speak a cheery word and lend a helping hand to the aged. She was fond of pets and her gentle nature drew all such creatures to her.

Of Christianity she made no public show, but displayed it most in the home where her tender devotion to those she loved is beyond praise and where her death leaves a painful sense of incompleteness and loss.

She was kind and compassionate in sorrow but her belief in God and trust in his over-ruling power formed the essence of her character.

Miss Eichinger had been an invalid for about a year and pain and suffering had wasted the little form but she bore all patiently and without a murmur.

Her last hours were calm and peaceful, and as the Grim Destroyer approached she spoke soothing and farewell words to the sorrowing family, leaving a message and a token for all.

By the request of the deceased the funeral services were conducted at the M. E. Church, by Rev. D. L. Shrode, and the remains laid to rest in the I. O. O. F. Cemetery.

She leaves to mourn her loss her parents, three sisters, two brothers, a number of nephews and nieces and a host of friends. "She is not dead,—the child of our affection, But gone into that school poor protection, And Christ himself doth rule." C. C. E.

THERE'S A FEW
and a
Welcome for You
At the Church of Christ.
Where they plead for the Union of all Christians on the Bible alone.

Marvelous Discoveries
mark the wonderful progress of the age. Air flights on heavy machines, telegrams without wires, terrible war inventions to kill men, and that wonder of wonders—Dr. King's New Discovery—to save life when threatened by coughs, colds, influenza, hemorrhages, hay fever and whooping cough or lung trouble. For all bronchial affections it has no equal. It relieves instantly. Its the surest cure. James M. Black of Asheville, N. C. R. R. No. 4, writes it cured him of an obstinate cough after all other remedies failed. 50c. and $1.00. A trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Chas. I. Clough.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.
Department of the Interior,
U. S. Land Office, at Portland, Ore., April 28th, 1910.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT MARY E. SMITH, whose post-office address is Hobsonville, Tillamook Co., Oregon, did, on the 15th day of October, 1909, file in this office sworn statement and application, No. 02271, to purchase the Ne 1/4 of Ne 1/4 Section 18, Township 2 North, Range 9 West, Willamette Meridian, and the timber thereon, under the provisions of the act of June 3, 1878, and act amendatory, known as the "Timber and Stone Law," as such value as might be fixed by appraisement, and that pursuant to such application, the land and timber thereon have been appraised, the timber estimated 20,000 board feet at $0.25 per M. ft poles, 150 pieces, 15c. each; cedar $0.60; that said applicant will offer final proof in support of her application and sworn statement on the 29th day of June, 1910, before T. H. Goyno, United States Commissioner, at Tillamook, Oregon.
Any person is at liberty to protest this purchase before entry, or initiate a contest at any time before patent issue, by filing a corroborated affidavit in this office, alleging facts which would defeat the entry.
CHAS. B. MERRICK, Register.

Master Marka Tumb.
Dey say set was hees job for the An' poka fun at anemple food. I don't 'is ondrastan'. I nevva read w'at's een hees book. I only see da way he looke. I only know da man. An' evva time he passa by He show to me so kinda eye. Ees beautiful to see. For, dough I'm domba dagnam. So strange, so queer een dene me. He nevva laugh at me.
An' dey dat say he only job An' maka fun weech seempie. Ees mebbe so dey lie. Ees mebbe so dey no could see. How moocha sweets charity. Ees smilla from nees eye. An' now dat he es gon' an' chime For 'sudder land dat ees a strage. To beem an' set can be. I can baylieve dey dene are vud. To beem, poor stranger, as I like. Dat pere he was to me.
—T. A. Daily in Catholic Standard Times.

Undeniably.
The milk of human kindness is condensed.
You can't preserve friendship in a cobol.
It's safer being bent on eccentric than broke on extravagance.
Many family trees are shady.
If the birds were all early wouldn't be worms enough to round.
The ancients believed the world was square. Perhaps it was in those days.
—Success Magazine.

When a Feller's Gittin' Gray.
In a mighty hurry for the time of day.
But it's briefer than a dream is a feller's gittin' gray.
Haven't time for roamin' to reap a o' May.
River beats your runnin' when a feller's gittin' gray.
A minute's worth so much that! The only this to say—
The world seems brighter, sweeter, when a feller's gittin' gray.
—Frank L. Stanton.

Cut Off in Flower of Youth.
Mr. Johnson, aged ninety years, his faithful wife, aged eighty years, were returning from the burial of the only son, who had died at the age of sixty-three. The father was talking a loss very much to heart, when his mother put her hand on his arm and said:
"It ain't so sudden, Rastus. I know I always said we'd never see dat chile."—Everybody's Magazine.

Factors of Spring.
Buds, broods,
Whitewash and suds,
Birdies that gleefully sing;
Icees, trees,
Maybe a freeze—
Such are the factors of spring.
Flats, gnats,
Stray butterflies on the wing;
Bleat, neat,
Carpets to beat—
Such are the factors of spring.
—Pittsburg Post.

Got Them.
"Katie, what in the world is that by crying so about?"
"The master's shirt studs, ma'am."
"Why don't you let the little one have them, then?"
"I did, ma'am, and he's swallow 'em!"—Yonkers Statesman.

Do You?
When the telephone rings
And it isn't for you
Do you ever say things,
When the telephone rings,
That if words could have wings
Would paint all the air blue,
When the telephone rings
And it isn't for you?
—Detroit News.

Forced to the Measure.
"Why do you lift the child or the one arm only?" asked the party on the platform.
"He is getting so large I cannot lift him by the ear any more," explained the woman, who must have missed the car.—Buffalo Express.

Jovous Spectacles.
In a world that presents many insolent glum
These make us forget all our sorrows and sin—
The snicker whose hammer lands on his own tin
And the kicker who awkwardly hits his own shins.
—Washington Post.

Modern Maids.
"Do you mean to say that you refused the millionaire who proposed to you?"
"No, I didn't. I got a ten days' detention on him."—Cleveland Leader.

Yes, but Get a Move On!
To pay as one goes.
As every one knows,
Is a trait of which all should be ashamed.
But, oh, what a host
We'd like better who boast
Of the fact if they'd only go faster!
—Browning's Magazine.

Blindness a Recommendation.
Blotches—Blindness is a terrible affliction. What would you do if you should lose your sight?
Blotches—I'd get a job as a chauffeur.
—Philadelphia Record.

Probably.
When aeroplanes are common things
And men fly by with canvas wings
I wonder will some fellow try
To start a road house in the sky.
—Detroit Free Press.

Where He Qualified.
Shade of 1910—They say that a convicted burglar is a Yale grad.
The bread-protider—Yes, he was on the ride team.—Yale Record.

A Hope.
According to a prophet grim,
The coming brings disaster.
But if its tail will waggle 'round,
Oh, may it come the faster!
—Philadelphia Ledger.

Evidence of Wealth.
Stella—Are they wealthy?
Hella—They gave baby an extra cut to cut its teeth.—Cincinnati Enquirer.