About six cars of lumber is at the depot ready to be loaded for Bay City, which is to be used in the new salmon cannery which is to be built there. This is the largest amount of lumber, apart from construction work, that has been shipped on the new railroad, and this small beginning will grow to immense proportions as soon as the railroad is completed. The lumber for the cannery is supplied by the Tillamook Lumber Mfg. Company of this city.
Attorney Holmes left for Nehalem this morning to straighten out a mistake Justice of the Peace Kffenberger has made by arresting Mr. Milner, in charge of Sweeney's camp at Nehalem, and placing him under $5,000 bonds, for issuing time checks to the men. As the justice had no right to do what he has done, the railroad contractors could make it exceedingly interesting and expensive for Kffenberger if they decide to push the case.
On June 29th, at the home of the bride's parents on the Wilson river, Miss Edith Estelle Smith and Harry F. Loomis were united in marriage by V. E. Hoven, the Christian minister. The home was prettily decorated with roses and evergreens, the bride and groom standing under a floral arch during the ceremony. Many relatives and friends were present, and all sat down to a most elaborate wedding dinner. The young couple will make their home on the Wilson river, where Mr. Loomis will work for the United Railways Co.
