There is a fine prospect for a crop of insurgents in Great Britain, where it is proposed to give King George a subsistance fund of $2.-350,000.

Col. Bryan has just been defeated in an attempt to control the state pelitics of Nebraska. He could not wait for his regular quadrennial reverse at the polls.

Women are employed to do the baking for the regular army. It is believed that the soldiers will fight better if given the kind of bread that mother used to make.

Last year's export of cotton from the United States was worth $450,-000,000. Cotton is no longer king of American productions, but can easily rank with the grand dukes.

Minnesota's inheritance tax and other sources of special revenue will enable the authorities to dispence with a state tax next year. Several other states are similarly situated and they ought to show the value of the example.

American exports of automobiles have doubled within a year. Europeans may be mortgaging some of their spare castles to make this investment, but they will get plenty of satisfaction out of the best machines.

Upon his return from Argentina. Maj. Gen. Wood has spoken with suggestive approvel of the compulsory military service prevailing in that country, although saying that it will be a long time before we in America are ready for universal military service. He had already urged a shorter term of enlistment. Gen. Wood thought this would make army service more attractive. and he further advocated sending of profit or expose its record of instruction that they have no more boys to West Point.

national costume is best seen. In the north the women wear short dark gowns, with fringed bandkerchiefs tied becomingly over their curly fair hair, black ones for the matrons and Pacific Railway and Naviwhite ones for maidens. In the south the old Norwegian dress is often worn. It consists of a short dark petticoat, with a stripe of bright colors, a full white blouse and a red bodice heavily embroidered, while on Sundays a quantity of silver pins and chains are added: The headdress varies according to the occasion and the wearer's social condition. The girls wear jaunty red caps, the married women a colf made of many folds of starched white linen. plaited over a wooden frame, and a bride wears a high metal crown curiously chased and set with jewels.

Pascal's Early Observation.

Blaise Pascal, who wrote a remarkable treatise on the laws of sound. was constautly observing the familiar occurrences about him even as a boy. When he was only ten years old he sat at the dinner table one day striking his plate with his knife and then listening to the sound.

"What are you doing with that plate, "What are you doing with that plate, Blaise?" asked his sister. "See," be replied. "When I strike Blaise?" asked his sister.
