

Editorial Snap Shots.

To give some idea of good and bad roads, take a trip to Netarts on the short road. But what a blessing it will be when that road is all made like the first few miles.

The snap shot man does not want to get into another local option fight, but if it is a case of where the liquor interests have entered politics again to control municipalities, the proper thing is for the people to do is to get in a fight.

It was not truthful on the part of the Herald to say, there is some opposition to starting a milk condenser. This dairymen and the dairy associations have had the matter under consideration for a number of years, but thus far have not been convinced wherein they would be benefited.

It is all right and proper to consider the matter of a milk condenser, but it must be also borne in mind that it took a number of years on the part of the co-operative associations to establish a wide reputation for Tillamook cheese, and to switch off to something else may prove a mistake. It is well enough to let well alone.

A great many men will get into a fight in favor of saloons, but when they are raising sons and see that the liquor habit is sending them to the devil, then they will look at the matter from a different stand point. The saloons and the bootleggers in this city have done enough mischief in ruining a number of bright young men.

We want to inform our readers that the Greater Oregon Home Rule Association is a very seductive and misleading name, but we want to advise them that it is the liquor interests that is at the back of it seeking to give every city control of the liquor question within its corporate limits, and in this way nullify to some extent the local option law. The liquor interests in Oregon have spent barrels of money in elections in Oregon, and, we suppose, the same corrupt methods will be used in trying to pass this bill, also in endeavoring to disguise the identity of the liquor interest by assuming the sheep's clothing and calling it the Greater Oregon Home Rule Association.

What with the Bourne political machine endeavoring to dominate the Republican party; the Democrats endeavoring to cause a factional fight in the Republican party over holding an assembly; the Prohibition party trying to force prohibition on the State before it is ready for it; the liquor interests, posing as the Greater Oregon Home Rule Association, intent on partly killing the local option law and obtaining control of cities, so that they can control the liquor question, in shouting for "Rome Rule"; the U'Ren populist machine seeking to destroy representative government and pass fool laws; and a lot more fool bills to fool "the people," it is no wonder, then, that "the people" are beginning to see what a big humbug the initiative and referendum law is and what it is responsible for.

It is with regret that we have to record the death of Harvey W. Scott, editor of the Oregonian. If any one was entitled to the honor of being the "Grand Old Man of Oregon," it was Harvey W. Scott, for no one has done more to boost and boom Oregon for a number of years and was who instrumental in bring thousands of settlers into the state and a large amount of capital for industrial purposes. He was Oregon's biggest booster and biggest scrapper, when it came to fighting for the State's interest and industrial development. He was a peer in the newspaper world—fearless and outspoken—making the Oregonian one of the greatest and most influential newspapers in the United States. Mr. Scott made many enemies, but he was head and shoulders above those who assailed him—politically and otherwise. We have always thought that the State Legislature made a mistake when they failed to honor Mr. Scott by electing him United States Senator. If any man was ever entitled to that honor it was Mr. Scott, and, no doubt, looking back at his long career and long life of useful work in the interest of the State of Oregon, many will regret that this honor was not conferred upon him.

Foley Kidney Pills.
Tonic in quality and action, quick in results. For backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness, urinary irregularities and rheumatism.—For sale by C. I. Clough.

She Likes Good Things.
Mrs. Chas. E. Smith, of West Franklin, Maine, says: "Like good things and have adopted Dr. King's New Life Pills as our family laxative medicine, because they are good and do their work without making a fuss about it." These painless purifiers sold at drug stores 25c. For Sale by Chas. I. Clough.

"HOME RULE" FARCE IN TILLAMOOK CITY.

City Officials Responsible for the Bad Reputation the City Fell Into.

"I beg to acknowledge receipt of your esteemed favor of the 29th inst., and take great pleasure in signing the application for membership in your association.

"For nearly six years Tillamook County had been a dry county, so far as the law is concerned, but I believe there is just as much liquor used as ever. A large quantity is sold in violation of the law. The local officers have honestly done their best to enforce the law, but the difficulty of getting the necessary evidence is so great that it is almost impossible to secure enough to convict, and in almost every instance where there has been a conviction, the character of the witnesses and their methods of securing evidence has been so repulsive that the juries have condemned the witnesses more than the law breakers. Were it not so deplorable, the situation in Tillamook County, so far as the law is concerned, could be termed a farce. Tillamook City was always against prohibition, but the rural districts carried the day for it. As a sequence, our finances have suffered severely without checking in the least the use or abuse of liquor, besides making it much more difficult to control the places where it is sold. I have heard so many of our citizens express themselves that I am sure Tillamook County will go wet at the next election, but in any event, I am heartily in accord with the plan to give incorporated cities the right to govern their own affairs, and I shall be pleased to do anything I can to help in that direction."

The above is a letter written by Mayor Thos. Coates to the Greater Oregon Home Rule Association, and as the letter has somewhat to say about local conditions and has something to do with a bill to be voted upon, it is a matter for discussion, and although we differ with Mayor Coates in some of his assertions, we will attempt to give our impressions as to the deplorable local conditions and the reign of lawlessness which have brought the city into disrepute and the cause of factional strife, so if we make some pertinent remarks and point to the deplorable conditions which have existed, as well as show where and upon whom the responsibility rests, we do so in the interest of the city, not caring one iota who we please or who we may offend.

Now as to the Greater Oregon Home Rule Association. Who does it consist of and what is its object? It has the ear marks of the Wholesale and Retail Liquor Association, posing as a wolf in sheep's clothing, intent on partly killing the local option law by framing a bill which is to give incorporated cities control of the liquor question. Any one can see that this is a move on the part of the liquor interests to deceive the voters by calling it the Greater Oregon Home Rule Association, and in its campaign it is procuring letters from those who are opposed to the local option law and publishing them, which, of course, gives but one side.

Now as to Mayor Coates' letter. Why and for what reason did the people of Tillamook vote on three occasions to keep the county dry? Simply because business men and a large number of the city officials did not have the moral courage to control the saloons, consequently the saloon element controlled the city, and as a result, no matter whether under licensed saloons, the lawless people brought the city into bad odor, and, probably, not until the business men band themselves together and elect a mayor and city council with the back bone and determination to grapple with the situation will a change for the better take place in this poorly governed city and farcical manner in which saloons and blind big joints have been allowed to run.

We want to say right here that conditions are far better in Tillamook City under local option than when the town was "wide open," and we want to recall Mayor Coates back to the time when people with money were railroaded into the saloons and made drunk and then fleeced at the gambling tables, to the disgusting scenes which used to take place at the White Corner when the loggers were paid off, but the city officials, nor did the business men, do anything to protect or befriend the loggers who were fleeced out of their hard earned wages in a few hours; to the system of saloon keepers paying the city marshal for protection, to women with families going to the saloons for their husbands and sons, and to a great many other disgusting events in this city. Nothing like that has taken place in this city under local option, and as the conditions were so deplorable under licensed saloons, the Mayor must admit that it was a farce to run a city in that manner, just as much as it is a farce today to allow convicted gamblers and bootleggers to run soft and pool joints.

That is a fair way to look at it. Mayor Coates has placed himself on untenable ground when he makes the assertion that local option is a farce. Let us call his attention to the character and standing of some of the persons arrested for bootlegging who violated the law under the saloon regime. It was a few local attorneys who attempted to make the local option law a farce, who abused the State's witnesses, and a former mayor who helped run out of the county a witness in a bootleg case, and it was local attorneys who undertook to bulldoze and insult a circuit judge and a justice of the peace in liquor cases. So disgusted were a large number of persons with these attorneys that they withdrew their business, with the result that attorneys are now afraid to defend bootleg cases on account of the bad reputation and the loss of business, so they advise the bootleggers to plead guilty. In view of the fact that seven bootleggers pleaded guilty and paid $350.00 in fines last week knocks the pins from Mayor Coates' assertion that local option is a farce. And as to the city's finance having suffered, any city that allows saloons to run as they were in this city should lose the revenue, but had the city authorities regulated the saloons instead of the saloons regulating the city authorities, the city would probably not have lost the revenue from saloons. This is the key to the whole situation and where the blame lies.

The County officials, especially Sheriff Crenshaw, have done their best to enforce the local option law, but we do not know of one instance where the present city administration has assisted him, in fact, it was made more difficult when the city licensed the soft drink places to sell nymph, and since then there have been more drunkenness in the city. And as all of the soft drink proprietors and their flunkies have been fined for bootlegging and the city authorities have taken no action to revoke the licenses or declare their bonds forfeited, a great many persons will agree with us that it is a farce to run a city in that way, and a farce to put a bootlegger on a committee to revise the city charter.

In conclusion, we want to say this, if Tillamook City cannot control soft drink places it will never be able to control saloons. We hope before a great while to see the business men taken more interest in city affairs, for they must all admit that the saloon keepers, the bootleggers and the lawless element have helped to give Tillamook City a tough name. So now is as favorable time as any for the mayor and city council to put home rule into effect and close up the blind pig joints, the same as other towns have been forced to do, not close their eyes to the very things which have and which will continue to give Tillamook City a bad reputation, even should the county go wet again.

Notice.

The President of the Rebekah Assembly will meet with Tillamook Rebekah Lodge Wednesday night, Aug 17th. Members requested to attend.

MARIE LINDSEY, N. G.
Ruby Morris, Secty.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given, that the County Court of Tillamook County, Oregon, will receive bids for clearing right-of-way on what is known as the Wm. Squires road, said right-of-way to be cleared at a width of thirty feet, commencing at the initial point of the said survey, and running to Tillamook river, and forty feet for the remainder of said road, according to the survey.

Also for making a fill of about 100 feet between the initial point and the river, said fill to be twelve feet in width, and one foot high.

All bids to be filed with the County Clerk on or before September 7th, 1910.

The Court reserving the right to reject any and all bids. By order of the County Court.

J. C. HOLDEN, County Clerk.

Wood For Sale.

For sale, 100 cords of wood. For further particulars apply at the County Clerk's office.

U. B. Church Notes.

Sunday School 10 a. m. Preaching 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Visiting pastors will preach.

A group of seventeen young people gathered at the parsonage Wednesday evening, enjoying a brief social time and special music furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Masters, of Portland. They organized under the Adult Bible Study movement, with following officers: President Hans Hansen, Vice Pres. Clyde Kinman, Secretary Miss Barbara Hathaway, Treasurer Harold Glad.

Champ Clark gives a long list of the great things the Democratic party will do if restored to power. Mr. Clark has an imagination so powerful that he makes the millennial look like a short order.

IF A BANK DRAFT IS LOST MONEY IS NOT.

A bank draft need not be sent by registered mail so far as safety is concerned. The person to whom a draft is made payable must endorse it before it can be cashed.

If a draft purchased of us should miscarry or be stolen, notify us and we will trace it up or issue a duplicate without any "red tape."

Capital Business College

Prepares young people for bookkeepers, stenographers, correspondents and general office work. The development of the Northwest will afford openings for thousands in the next few years. Prepare now. Send for catalogue.
W. I. STALEY, Principal. Salem, Ore

TILLAMOOK TRIP FULL OF ADVENTURE

Motorists Have Narrow Escapes, Catch Many Fish and Bag Big Buck.

From the Evening Telegram.

Charles B. Shanks, representative of the American Automobile Association for Oregon, and of the Fred A. Jacobs Company, has returned from a 300-mile tour through Tillamook County and he has a few "kind remarks" to make about the need of good roads missionary work in that region. At the same time his trials were rewarded by bringing back as a trophy of the trip one of the finest deer that has been bagged by a local Nimrod since the season opened. It was a magnificent buck and probably the finest one brought out of the wilds this year.

Shanks started out on the trip equipped with all the paraphernalia of a Glidden cup race. He expected trouble and so he took along four inner tubes, several sleeves to lace over bad "blow-outs," several miles of tire tape and other repair truck. Also he carried with him tents, guns, fishing tackle and a complete camping outfit.

He found the roads "horrible," thank you, for a considerable portion of the way. He went to McMinville, thence to Sheridan and to Grand Ronde, Hebo and Blaine. A side trip to Tillamook was taken and at times it was only his fine skill as a driver that saved his neck on the hazardous mountain roads.

"While the roads are in deplorable shape for miles at a stretch," he said, "we had no bad accidents, just a little tire trouble now and then, but we need to pull hard and long for improved roads especially as we have an inexhaustible supply of construction material right under our noses.

"We caught so many fish in the Big Nestucca that we got tired of pulling them out and it was my good luck to bag as pretty a buck as you ever saw. Got him just about the crack of dawn last Wednesday morning. We got up about 4:30, having seen signs of deer for two or three days previously and we had the hunch that we could spot some of the deer on the runway down toward the river where the game goes for water. There were plenty of hunters with dogs up in the mountains and we figured that they would scare the deer down along the slopes. The hunch was a good one, for about 5 o'clock we spotted a big beauty less than 150 yards away. He was sauntering slowly down to the edge of the river and I brought him down just as he was about to poke his nose into the water. I fired for his heart but aimed a little high and broke his back instead. He dropped in his tracks."

"How much did he weigh, Charlie?" one of the boys asked him.

"Didn't have any scales, but I should judge about two ton by the time we got him back to camp."

Fred Larson, also of the Fred A. Jacobs Company, accompanied Shanks on the trip.

A board of army engineers has been named to raise the Maize. A deputation of this kind almost invariably accomplishes what it undertakes, from a Panama Canal downward.

Singer Sewing Machines.

Now is your opportunity to get a machine that will last you a life time, on easy monthly payments that you will scarcely miss and no interest.

I personally guarantee every machine and will keep it in repair free of charge.

Your old machine will be taken as part payment.

Machines delivered at your home, on free demonstration trial.

Call in and see the New Singer 66. BURDETT SHIPMAN, Tillamook, Ore. Whalen's Jewelry Store.

Madriz declares that Americans are in no danger in Nicaragua. The reason why they are safe can be seen at Bluefields in the shape of American gunboats and marines.

Postal banks have been established in some leading countries for half a century. The idea that they are untested should give no anxiety in the United States.

Forty people in Joplin have been poisoned by eating ice cream sold by what a cautious press calls "a certain dairy." A dairy of that kind, however, seems to be uncertain.

YOU SEND MONEY BY MAIL?

Then try one of our BANK MONEY ORDERS. They are cheaper than either express or post office orders, are easier to obtain, are good anywhere, and quickly made good if lost or destroyed.

TILLAMOOK COUNTY BANK.

Cholera Infantum Cured.

"Something like two years ago my baby, which was then about a year old, was taken seriously ill with cholera infantum, vomiting and purging profusely," writes J. F. Demsey of Demsey, Ala. "I did what I could to relieve her but did her no good, and being very much alarmed about her went for a physician but failed to find one, so came back by Elder Bros. & Carter's store and Mr. Elder recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. I procured a bottle of it, went home as quickly as possible and gave the baby a dose of the remedy. It relieved her in fifteen minutes and soon cured her entirely." For sale by Lamar's drug store.

Why James Lee Got Well.

Everybody in Zanesville, O., knows Mrs. Mary Lee, of rural route 8. She writes: "My husband, James Lee, firmly believes he owes his life to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery. His lungs were so severely affected that consumption seemed inevitable, when a friend recommended New Discovery. We tried it and its use has restored him to perfect health." Dr. King's New Discovery is the King of throat and lung remedies. For coughs and colds it has no equal. The first dose gives relief. Try it! Sold under guarantee at drug stores, 25c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. For Sale by Chas. I. Clough.

WHERE IT BELONGS

Both the express companies and post office are trying to handle a line of business which legitimately belongs to the bank, and which the bank can take care of at less cost than they can. Do you know that we will furnish you a BANK MONEY ORDER that is better in every way than that furnished by either express company or post office, that may be procured quickly and without red tape, and that is cheaper on every amount over $5.00? Next time you want to send money away, come to us and buy a BANK MONEY ORDER. You will never again employ any other method.

When the Brethren Cry Amen
When I'm prayin' loud to meet the self an' teller men
Don't think the annee near me
brotherin cry "Amen"

I'm wantin' that indoesment, as tender then,
Fer I know the annee near me
brotherin cry "Amen"

It sorter keeps you thinkin' that don't of yer foot
An' walkin' all the annee from dust to west.

It's a fine, refreshin' season to spit them.
An' I know my pra's annee
brotherin cry "Amen"

English.
"A Brooklyn Judge" says all are not angels."

"He ought to study English tion."

"What has English compositio to do with it?"

"The judge evidently meant that not all women are angels, I agree with him. I have wives who are still livin'."

"Do you mean still living or still?"

"No; I mean living yet."
Record-Herald.

The Aftermath.
Fluffy Ruffles swatches and It's her fragile form;
Sneezing, grunting, she is bustlin'
For a spot that's warm.

Fluffy Ruffles coughs and sneezes
In distressing way,
But, by thunder, 'tis no wonder!
She was queen of May.
—Louisville Courier-Journal

No Chance of Departing.
The editor looked out of his window. In a nearby locale an aeroplane twisted and tangled that would require a cyclone to extricate it.

"Ah," chuckled the rural editor doncantly, "I'll write off a little entitled 'The Aeroplane Has Stay'."
—Chicago News.

The Rooters' Cry.
What a catcher for the team,
Stout batsmen and a pitcher
Keen fielders, basemen full of steam,
And then we want the ump-for you! Make it a homer run! Hi, yi, yi! Oh, my, oh I guess that's going some.
—Buffalo Express

What He Got.
Some children were telling ther what they got at school. The est got reading, spelling and defini-
"And what do you get, my man?" said the father to a roy-ed little fellow.

"Oh, I gets readin', spellin' and spankin'."
—Harper's Weekly.

How It Began.
And to the Lord sit Noah said,
"The water now tastes very bad,
Because there have been drowned
All beasts and mankind in their
And therefore, Lord, I even think I should prefer some other drug."
—New York Times

Something Pretty.
"We women propose to establish bank. What shall we call it?"
"Call it The Shoe and Leather, a good solid name."

"The idea! Now, we might as the Ice Cream and Soda Water
Louisville Courier-Journal.

Said the Eyewitness.
"Oh, murder!
Oh, mother!
Two girls with big hats
"Dried to kias-Each other!"
—Chicago Tribune

Reportorial.
"I am dissatisfied with your of my discovery," declared the tist. "I told you that it would be possible to exaggerate the impor-
of this discovery."
"Well," said the reporter, "I try."
—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Need of Brotherhood Love.
Like others, I have had to stand in tight and ticklish places.
And prayed some friend might hand—
Say, deuces full of ace
Indianapolis News

Har Way.
"If you would wear button suggested her father. "They would come untied."
"I know it," replied she, "but they did not come untied! I could ask a person whom I have in to them."
—Houston Post.

Timid.
Said the girl who went out after
To take a short stroll in the park.
"I'm as scared as a cat
Or that big dogwood tree.
I hope it's not going to bark."
—Baltimore American

Not Ill Enough to Be Impatent.
"He's not very senick."
"No?"
"No, I just left him in his and he answered politely every tion I asked him."
—Detroit Free Press

A Truthful Bard.
Of boyhood days I write so often
For I am
I'm having quite as good a time
Right now.
—Kansas City Star

Proof.
"How did you know that magnate was so ill?"
"I saw it denied in the Puck."

New Phase of Meat Trade.
Can any one just tell me
Should beef be still say
Will ox heart cherries
Some time in July?
—New York Times

The Reason Why.
He—We don't see so much of
we used to do.
She—My husband objects to dresses.—St. Louis Times