Gove on the Liquor Question.

TO EDITOR TILLAMOOK HEADLIGHT. Why should five per cent of the people control the church and state against the other ninety five? When a boy, the majority of men in the church were temperate drinkers, there was a special organization known as Good Templars, who have gained control of the popular church and either driven the temperate drinkers out of the church entirely or else he is a mere mummy or blasted hypocrite. If we take Tillamook County of the 1,200 or so voters, less than 50 are total abstainers and far less than 50 are the men who are low enough to make an example fit for the obtainers to hold up, for scorn. The 1,100 or so are sober, industrious men. Why not the majority rule? The fact is we have no concerted effort. I consider any man who is not a total abstainer or drunkard in my class, and he has a right to enjoy all the privileges that I do. Why should there not be a fraternity between sober, industrious men? We can well afford to deal with the liquor question from an intelligent and honest point of view. There are men who need a stimulant who are worthless without, yet the very source they obtain their liquor from would drive any man mad. If there is need of tested milk, there is much more of tested liquor. The brewer needs malt and hops; the wine maker grape juice. The chemist is able to detect adulteration, but when he turns his attention to drugs and chemicals he becomes a dangerous man and drives the brewer and wine maker out of business and supplies the trade with the bogus. The laws though well intended are a barrier to the honest and a shield to those who are willing to take the risk.

Hay in the Barn.

He worked all day Out in the field; His crop of hay Was one fine yield, And he felt gay (This is no yarn) When all his hay Was in the barn. He didn't know A deal of art; In pomp and show He played no part. But joy his lot, And wide his grin, Because he'd got His hay all in. And you, my friend, What'er you do, Should keep this end Fore'er in view. Or actor gay? Keep hard at work, And make your hay. Are you a king, Or peasant plain? The barn's the thing For all your grain, While shines the sun, Just make your hay; Then, when it's done, Stack it away. —Joe Cone in Boston Herald.

That Ten-Dollar Bill.

These workmen leave the shop Saturday night, each with a ten-dollar bill in his pocket to show for his week's labor. One spends his money to supply his family with clothes, another buys a suit of clothes and a third "blows in" his money on a glorious drunk at the saloon. The important difference between the two men go home sober, and with their arms full of valuable goods for their waiting families, while the one goes home a brute and riddled with coughs are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calamine, Ark., "when all else failed and I gained 47 pounds in weight. Its surely the King of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. Its positively guaranteed for Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Asthma, Croup—all Throat and Lung troubles. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Chas. I. Clough's.

Forced to Leave Home.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calamine, Ark., "when all else failed and I gained 47 pounds in weight. Its surely the King of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. Its positively guaranteed for Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Asthma, Croup—all Throat and Lung troubles. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Chas. I. Clough's. This is noted from a letter of M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo. "I recently used Foley's Honey and Tar for the first time. To say I am pleased does not half express my feelings. It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and was threatened with pneumonia. The first doses gave great relief and one bottle completely cured me." Contains no opiates. Chas. I. Clough. The best plaster. A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Liniment and bound on over the affected parts is superior to a plaster and costs only one tenth as much. For sale by Lama's Drug store.

LARGEST GAME FISH.

The Tuna Sometimes Attains a Weight of 2,000 Pounds. Charles Frederick Holder, the California naturalist, thus describes that remarkable fish, the tuna: "The tuna is a pelagic fish, a free lance, an ocean rover, a sort of swaggering musketeer of the sea, the largest of what may be termed the game or bony fishes, attaining a maximum weight of nearly 2,000 pounds and an approximate length of fourteen feet or more. Such a fish is very exceptional, though specimens weighing 1,500 pounds have been taken on the New England coast. I once entered a school of such tunas in the Santa Catalina channel in a big launch. The school divided to port and starboard as we passed through it, and I had a view of one or two fishes that appeared to be more than half as long as the boat. "These fishes spend the winter in warm latitudes and migrate north as far as the mouth of the St. Lawrence. They are found in the Mediterranean and north to the Lofoden island, yet so far the efforts of anglers, except at Santa Catalina, have failed to take them with the rod. Even here there is a stretch of but eight miles or so where they can be satisfactorily played and taken with rod and reel. "This region lies on the north side of Santa Catalina, from Avalon to Long point, and to the east as many more, facing the north, and generally smooth—more like a Scottish loch than a fishing ground twenty miles out at sea."—Chicago News.

THE FRENCH DUEL.

Tricks That Are Invoked to Make the Meeting Bloodless. A French paper has been describing the various contrivances to insure pistol duels ending in "coffee for two." A favorite trick, it seems, is to use projectiles that look like ordinary lead bullets, but crumble to pieces when fired. In more serious cases bullets are used of smaller caliber than the pistol, thus lessening their penetrating power. Sometimes the wad is intentionally left out, so that when the duellists face each other with the pistols held downward the bullets roll out. In many cases bullets of the right caliber are used, but only with a third of the proper powder charge, so that they are practically harmless. A variation of this trick is to load with a double powder charge, which also causes the bullets to go wide of the mark. This, however, is dangerous to the spectators. Again, well meaning seconds sometimes use the right bullets and the right charge, but stiffen the triggers so that the extra pressure causes the bullets to go wide. Perhaps the most amusing device is the use of pistols fitted with a sort of secret safety valve, which opens when the weapon is loaded, so that the bullet drops out and only the powder charge remains.—Exchange.

A Drop in Rhetoric.

"I remember," said an official of the East India service, "the speech of an Anglo-Indian who was delegated by a certain district to place before the government's notice the horrible slaughter of their stock by tigers. A very noticeable titter could be heard in the audience when the delegate shouted very dramatically: "Mr. Chairman, the tiger is the most ferocious animal that prowls and runs at large in India. He creeps from his lurking place at the hour of midnight, when all nature is locked in the arms of Morpheus, and ere the portals of the east are unbound or bright Phoebus rises in his golden majesty whole hordes of pigs are destroyed."

The Cat and the Tail.

Once upon a time a cat who prided herself on her wit and wisdom was prowling about the barn in search of food and saw a tail protruding from a hole. "There is the conclusion of a rat," she said. Then she crept stealthily toward it until within striking distance, when she made a jump and reached it with her claws. Alas, it was not the appendage of a rat, but the tail of a snake, who immediately turned and gave her a mortal bite. Moral.—It is dangerous to jump at conclusions.

Hotel Insurance Against Robbery.

At a well known hostelry in Venice it is the practice to charge guests 25 centimes per diem for insurance against fire and robbery, the amount covered for this premium being 1,500 francs. This is a very convenient arrangement, as robbery is far from uncommon in Italy.—London Truth.

A Pugilistic Feat.

"Clancy, who give you th' black eye you have?" "If I knew I'd lick 'im." "Sure, an' don't you know?" "How e'd I know? Me back was turned at th' time."—Toledo Blade.

What He Got.

"What're ye cumin' home with your milk pail empty for?" demanded the farmer. "Didn't the old cow give anything?" "Yep," replied the chore boy, "nine quarts and one kick!"—Exchange.
