Dave Curtis has given the contract for the erection of a one story building to be erected on his place on the Trask river, which is to be built of concrete block furnished by A. C. Smith, who will do the concrete work, and Geo. R. Edner will be the carpenter.

The Genuine Bridge Beach is the best made and the most successful heating stove in the world, and you may rely upon getting the worth of every dollar you put into one. It not only heats up with any kind of fuel, but it does what you expect of it.—KING & SMITH CO.

There will be preaching both morning and evening at the Presbyterian Church next Sunday by the pastor, Rev. S. G. Finney, to which all are heartily invited. Mrs. Berry, a talented vocalist from Michigan, will sing at the evening service.

The Sue H. Elmore left on Saturday with the following passengers: Rev. J. F. Dunlop and family, Miss Della Fox, F. M. Simeral, Rev. Sunbomne and family, Sister Mary Borbia, O. B. Helt, C. B. McCutchan, H. A. Phillips, Frank Orr, George Hobson and Mrs. Steward.

Attorney Percy R. Kelly, who is one of the nominees on the Republican ticket for circuit judge, was in the county this week, making the acquaintance of the voters. This is the first time that he has visited this county, and he is greatly impressed with the future possibilities of Tillamook.

At a special meeting of the City Council on Friday evening, the proposition of the Electric Light Co. to do away with all the arc lights with the exception of three and install more small lights, provided the company was paid $400 for the expenses they had gone to in putting them in, was rejected.

The passengers who came in on the Sue H. Elmore on Wednesday were J. W. Ferguson and wife, C. Bartholomew, Dora Ferguson, Chris Wyse, M. B. Hoven, Mrs. Hoven, Miss Hoven, W. H. Moore and wife, Sister Gabriel, Thomas Kays, Horace Kays, Mrs. Fred C. Baker, Mrs. H. Schinkel, Raymond Schinkel.

There are a number of improvements being made in the sidewalks along the main streets. Those of most importance are the new concrete in front of the Gem Theater, also in front of the Toggery and the new walk which Mr. King is having built in front of Jenkins' jewelry store.

Tuesday night the members of the Methodist Church met at the parsonage at eight o'clock to give their new pastor, Rev. H. J. Salisbury a reception in the way of a surprise and donations of good things. They spent a most enjoyable evening at the parsonage and hope to have made the pastor feel welcome.

The past week a deal has been closed whereby W. E. Noyes and Arthur Beals exchange property. Mr. Noyes has moved onto his newly purchased place and will build a home on it as he has sold nearly two-thirds of it, one part going to George Hoover, of Cloverdale, and the other to F. E. Norton, of this place.

Last Saturday the little black team driven to the delivery wagon caused a great deal of excitement on Main street when they ran up the hill and were not stopped until in front of Patalaf's. They became frightened at the noise of the whistle on the Elmore, and as they were left standing loose it was no easy matter to get away. There was no damage done except that the tongue was broken.

Powder Is Here. Our Powder came Saturday and can be had any time now. As it is getting the time of year when transportation is uncertain, we would suggest that any one that is going to use any powder this winter would do well to secure the necessary amount now. You can leave it in our Powder house and get it as needed. Attend to this matter. Don't wait until it is all gone.—KING & SMITH CO.

The "Invincibles" have secured the L.O.O.F. hall to hold their meetings in, which are held every other Friday night, beginning October 7. Anyone who is desirous of working for the betterment of the literary conditions of the young people of Tillamook City or anyone who delights in helping in this line of work is invited to attend the next meeting which is Friday, October 21st, and become acquainted with the ways.

After the regular meeting of the Invincible Literary Friday night its members went in a body to the home of Jonas Olson for the purpose of bidding farewell to Miss Rose Bryan, who, with her father, leave on the Elmore for Portland. The young people played games until late in the evening, when refreshments were served, after which they filed out one by one, bidding Rose good bye and wishing her success and happiness in her new home, wherever it may be.

The deal has been closed whereby Frank Rhodes and Burdett Shipman take possession of the Gem Theatre formerly owned and run by Charles Reynolds. Mr. Shipman returned from Portland, where he has been making arrangements to secure films from one of the best houses on the coast. They have been remodeling the inside and putting electric effects into the theatre and intend to give the first show Thursday night. A three piece orchestra will furnish music.

Roy Smith, a son of L. L. Smith, was arrested and brought to this city, where he was locked up in the county jail with his two brothers, who were sentenced to six months on a charge of larceny. It appears that Roy used threatening and disgusting language, and flourished a gun, in the school grounds of the district in which he resides. A most serious charge could have been preferred against the boy, but this was modified so that if, on a preliminary hearing County Judge Goodspeed finding the charge proven, he can be sent to the reform school. The case is set for this afternoon.

Fred Wheeler vs. Miami Lumber Company is a suit filed in the circuit court growing out of the contract to log the land belonging to S. V. Anderson on the Trask river. The Miami Lumber Co. had bought the timber, which was to have been removed by a certain date, and a few months before the expiration of the date the company entered into a contract with Wheeler to haul the logs into the river with his donkey engine. Not having removed the logs, Anderson enjoined the company from removing any more logs, which was sustained by the circuit court, but is now pending in the supreme court. Wheeler is wanting his pay for logging and now sues the company for $5,000 and for the further sum of $500 special damages.

H. C. Kunze has announced himself as a candidate for joint representative for Yamhill and Tillamook counties. Mr. Kunze did not submit his name to the voters in the primary nominating election, but the word was passed out amongst the Democrats to write his name on the ballots for joint representative, which they did, and which gave him the nomination on the Democratic ticket. This is not the first time that Mr. Kunze has aspired to political honors. In 1904 he was the Socialist candidate for county clerk in opposition to Thos. Coates, Democrat, and G. R. Lamb, Republican, the latter winning out with a small plurality over Coates. The Democrats claimed after the election, had there been no Socialist candidate, they would have elected their candidate for county clerk.

"The Poor Married Man," for two nights, next Friday and Saturday, at the Opera House. Never before have the members of the Dramatic Club taken such a lively interest in a play as they are showing in this one. No subjects as the ever repeated mother-in-law story are used in this play. The mother-in-law like the comedy is a past event. This is a story dealing entirely with the troubles of a married man. You may guess what the possibilities are for laughter in such a subject. To some people marriage is looked upon as a joke, others consider it seriously. The Poor Married Man takes life seriously—see the funny complications that arise from it. Don't fail to see this play if you enjoy a good laugh. It is a play pure in moral, and the tone would not mar the humor of the most fastidious.

Declaring himself opposed to the so-called "Home Rule Bill," Hon. B. L. Eddy, of the law firm of Brown & Eddy, addressed a crowd of not less than 500 people at the corner of Jackson and Oak streets last evening. In its entirety Mr. Eddy's discourse was confined to showing the faulty and inconsistent defects of the Home Rule measure, and the applause was frequent and enthusiastic. He said that the so-called Home Rule Bill was nothing more or less than a measure drafted and submitted to the people of Oregon with a view of abolishing the local option laws. He said that the measure was unfair in every particular, and was a slap at the farmer for the reason that it deprived him of equal voice in the government. He scouted the contention of those interested in the passage of the measure that it is a just one, and declared that its passage meant wide open towns clothed in the garb of hell and destruction. Mr. Eddy's address was much enjoyed, and an effort will probably be made to persuade him to stump the county in opposition to the bill against which he spoke last evening.—Umpqua Valley News.

A Fatal Mistake.

While giving her 3-month old baby what she thought to be sweet oil, Mrs. Pangborn, being mistaken in the bottle, poured out a teaspoonful of carbolic acid. The unfortunate accident occurred about 8.30 on Wednesday evening, and realizing the mistake she had made after administering the dose, a doctor was immediately sent for, but his services were of no avail, for it was only a question of how long the child would live after he arrived, which was about two hours. Mr. Pangborn lives on the Eberman place and delivers milk in the city.

Sudden Death of H. H. Hayes.

Death suddenly claimed H. H. Hayes, a respected citizen of Sandlake, in this city on Wednesday morning soon after 8 o'clock. He had come to the city the previous day, and having done his trading, was preparing to return home Wednesday morning, and while in Roseberg Bros. store he fell to the floor and expired. The body was removed to the undertaker's, and the relatives of the deceased and Coroner Hawk were immediately notified of the death. Later in the day an inquest was held and a verdict of heart failure was returned. The deceased is one of the pioneer settlers of the Sandlake country, residing there for about 25 years with his wife and family, who survive him. He was a man highly respected, especially amongst the early settlers of the county. The body was removed to Sandlake in the afternoon.

Stray Calf.

The Revival Meetings.

The third week of the big revival meeting at the tent conducted by Evangelists Olson and Moss shows no abatement of interest or attendance. Sunday large audiences were present at all of the five services held at the big tent, especially at the 3 o'clock service when Evangelist Olson spoke on "If No Saloon in Oregon, Then What?" The appreciation of the address by the audience was shown by their frequent applause.

The Sunday evening sermon on "Why I Am Not a Campbellite" was also listened to with great interest. The text was Col. 3:17 "And whatsoever ye do, in word or in deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus." Mr. Olson said in part: "I am not a Campbellite because I do not want to be a follower of any man, or to be called after any man. Some accuse me of being ashamed of Alexander Campbell, and for that reason do not wish to be called a Campbellite. I deny this emphatically. Alexander Campbell was one of the greatest men of his age in America. In all the essentials of greatness he stands above Wesley, Knox or Calvin and is the equal of Luther. He was the only man who dared to meet the great infidel Robert Owen in public debate. That debate silenced forever the public utterances of infidelity in America. But Alexander Campbell never founded or instituted a church. He pleaded for a restoration of all churches to the church of the New Testament, asking all to drop human names, human creeds, and human practices and return to the name, beliefs and practices of the apostles and the church of New Testament times. No church in any place or at any time has ever called itself a Campbellite Church. The Church of Christ has been called the Campbellite Church in derision, but it has never accepted the nickname and has never worn it. I am not a Campbellite, because as the text says we are to do all things in the name of the Lord Jesus, not in some human name. Acts 11:26 tells us that Christ's followers were first called Christians at Antioch. The Greek word for called in this passage means divinely called. The followers of Christ were never called by any human names in the days of the Apostles, but were called Christians. Therefore if I live by the Book I must be called Christian and not Campbellite or any other human name."

Evangelist Olson still continues to demonstrate his ability to hold his auditors. Every night he preaches from fifty minutes to over an hour and yet his hearers sit in rapt attention, not showing the least sign of uneasiness. Mr. Olson is a wonderfully rapid speaker. Nearly all of his sermons contain upwards of 10,000 words and they pour forth in such torrents that his hearers must keep ever on the alert to catch all he says. The music this week has been superb. The Moss Family has made an enviable reputation in this community as singers of fine ability. The solos by Mr. Moss on Sunday evening, "My Heavenly Father Watches Over Me," and on Tuesday evening, "His Eye Is On the Sparrow," were splendidly sung. In addition to his ability as a soloist, Mr. Moss is a fine chorus director. He has the knack of getting everybody to sing and enjoy it. This makes the song service one of the attractive features of the meeting. The singing of little Esther Lillian also never fails to charm the audience. Mrs. Moss and Miss Bassett are always pleasing in duet or trio work.

Additions are being made at nearly every meeting. Up to Wednesday night twenty one had come into the church, sixteen by confession and baptism and five by letter of statement. Baptismal services are held every evening at the church at seven o'clock. A great program has been arranged for Sunday, Oct. 16. At 10 o'clock a great Bible School rally will be held. At 11 o'clock Evangelist Olson will speak on "The Monuments of the Church." At 12 noon a big basket dinner will be held. This has been a most delightful occasion the last two Sundays, over a hundred remaining at the tent to enjoy it. Every one brings a big basket dinner and the ladies of the church serve hot coffee and tea. At 2 o'clock memorial services at the unveiling of a great monument will be held. At 3 o'clock a "String and Candle" service by the children under 16 directed by Mr. Olson will be held. This will be a unique service never to be forgotten by those who see it. At 7:30 the Evangelist will speak on "The Greatest Controversy Settled Right." Every is invited.

Summary of Assessment of Tax Roll for 1910.

Table with 3 columns: Description, Value, and Total. Includes items like Acres of tillable lands, Improvements on deeded lands, Town and city lots, etc.

To Voters.

Less than 300 voters in the district affected signed the Washington-Multnomah county annexation petition; 500 in the district have signed a remonstrance, practically all outside the district are against annexation, yet you are called upon to vote the addition of practically one-fourth of Washington, already one of the smallest to Multnomah, already the wealthiest, most influential and powerful. Voters of the state outside of the counties affected can know but little of these county division measures. We of Washington know nothing of the merits of those not affecting us, and believe such questions should be left to the counties affected. Washington county cannot afford to lose this territory and Multnomah does not need it. We ask you to vote 339 X No.—W. D. Wood, Chairman Anti-Annexation Committee, Hillsboro, Oregon.
