The Invincibles met on Friday evening and had, as usual, a fine program, after which the social committee took charge of the meeting and entertained the visitors in such a way that they were all convinced of the good which is being done by the debating club.

For the information of those who desire to become rural mail carrier for the free rural delivery from Tillamook city, an examination will take place in this city on December 17th, but applications must be made to the Postmaster of this city ten days previous to that date.

A large number of people were seen sampling the hot coffee and biscuits at King & Smith's last Saturday. There were over 70 who registered and many who did not. It is hard to tell which, but either the material used or the cook or both are deserving of much praise for their quality.

The Golden Gate arrived in port at 1:30 Friday morning. She brought in the following passengers: Roy Lekich, Mike Miker, John Hart, Mr. Simmons and wife, E. A. Polson, Mr. Tockorage, O. Herbert, Grant Foster, O. Goyne. She also brought in a large amount of grain and hay for our merchants.

Two hounds, about three weeks ago, chased a buck deer from the Miami to near the life saving station, on Garibaldi beach, and coming to the reservoir on the hill, all fell in and were drowned. It was about two weeks after before the dead animals were found by the life saving crew, who went to the reservoir to clean it out. The hair of the deer was coming off. One of the hounds belonged to Lou Smith.

Enjoy a good laugh, and you'll feel better, and see life in an entirely new light. Don't miss seeing this play. It's a good one. Tickets are now selling at Lamar's Drug store. In preparation now is the greatest American play ever written, "Arizona."

Go to F. S. Whitehouse & Son, the leading agents, for Bond, Accident and Fire Insurance, as they write more than three-quarters of the insurance written in Tillamook County, because they are better equipped than any one else in the business.

It is announced that the first through train over the Pacific Railway & Navigation road will be run May 1, 1911. Probably the entire population of Tillamook Bay will be singing: "You Must Wake and Call Me Early, Call Me Early, Mother Dear" and Portland will beat down heavily on the chorus.—Oregonian.

Elihu C. Soule was arrested Monday by Constable Dawson, charged with wife beating. The case was brought before the Justice Court for hearing but was withdrawn as the parties were in the habit of quarrelling, on the stipulation that they separate and the defendant leave the county on the next boat. The reason that Mrs. Soule had her husband arrested was that she needed protection.

The wet weather the past week has caused nearly all the streams near town to overflow. Monday morning it was impossible for Prof. E. G. Munson to reach his school at Wilson. Lamb's dock was under water and the town was threatened with darkness because of the water running into the fire box at the light plant Monday afternoon. The wind blew the electric wires together putting the town in darkness for half an hour at a time, Sunday night.

A. W. Pratt, of Seattle, Wash., was in the city last week. He came here with the idea of looking over the field with the prospects of putting in a milk condensing plant. He found this an ideal location in regard to the large amount of milk produced in the vicinity of Tillamook City and says they can pay more for milk at a milk condensing factory than at a cheese factory. He has made a proposition to put in a plant by forming a company, or would do so himself if guaranteed sufficient milk.

At a meeting of the city council on Monday evening, W. J. Stephens and Laughlin & Johnson made applications for saloon licenses, but this was continued until the next meeting. The matter of dispensing with the arc lights and entering into a new contract with the Light Company to furnish the city with more small lights was again taken up and referred to a committee. A committee from the hose company waited on the city council with a list of buildings which failed to provide fire escapes and doors swinging outward, and from the long list it is evident that few buildings are complying with the law. The owners are to be notified to make the necessary alterations. The sum of $100 was appropriated towards improving Stillwell's play ground.

The long expected happened! About 2,000,000 ft. of logs came down the river in the recent freshet, from the Salmonberry and Upper Nehalem waters. The logs began coming down at 9:00 p.m., and continued to run until the following morning. At times the river was one solid mass of logs and debris early in the morning, yet no effort was made on the part of the contractors to catch them, and they went down the bay on the sand spit near the bar. The mud flats opposite the old Crozen place and Armstrong's farm also, were covered with logs that had been driven in by the strong southwesterly winds that swept up the bay, and it is estimated by those that saw them that there was fully 1,500,000 feet of logs scattered over the flats at the time. These were also carried down to the bar by the tide when the wind subsided in the afternoon. It is the intention of the J. W. Sweeney Construction Co. to pick them up, but it may cost considerable money to do so.—Nehalem Enterprise.
