

Bayocean Brevities.

The perfect weather of Sunday last caused several "picknicks" from various parts of the bay to hie themselves Bayocean-wards. The Henrietta carried good crowds during the day and divers smaller launches and other non-descript craft were busily plying back and forth till nightfall.

Mr. Russell spent the day entertaining several Tillamook friends, acting the part of host at a very appropriate little dinner. Among those who partook of his hospitality were: Mr. and Mrs. Web Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. James Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. I. Clough, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Case, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baker and Capt. and Mrs. Groat.

Mr. Rutter, an expert from the yards of Joseph Supple in Portland, is at work remodeling the Bayocean No. 1. A new cabin is to be built and more deck room acquired.

The dredge is again under way, enlarging the harbor and filling in the dock and incidentally banking up sand around the gridiron upon which it is to be drydocked and overhauled.

Ed. Schelling moved his family to Bay City on Monday.

Mr. C. Fleming and wife arrived on the last Elmore and Charlie is again absorbed in color schemes, wood tints and mural decorations.

The work on the Annex is progressing as rapidly as possible under the capable guidance of Mr. Russell and Con Johnson. It will be ready for occupancy on or about the first of June and the Grand Opening will take place on the fifteenth. With regard to reservations it might be well to follow the business man's infallible adage and Do it Now.

Never was the veracity of that time-worn, moss-bedecked axiom "In Union there is Strength," more aptly exemplified than in the doings of this past week. Without a single exception, every resident of Tillamook County and more especially those dwelling on the confines of the Bay, when brought to a full realization of the significance of recent development, cannot but unanimously agree that the stock in the long-expected, patiently-awaited improvement has been raised a hundred fold. Serious obstacles have dwindled to mere nothing, money considerations, that heretofore have seemed enormous have become nominal figures, and a path has been shown us, broad and smooth, at the end of which lies the goal we have been seeking. And all because some few of us, a bit more far-seeing than the rest of us, have surprised all of us and turned into cold hard facts, things that in the past have existed, but in dreams and imaginings. Co-operation is the remedy, ever applicable to just such ills as this one, and ever sure. Like Columbus and the egg, all becomes as clear as crystal, when someone is kind enough to lend a hand and show us the way. And to realize that we're finally started on the right track, with the well wishes and the backing of the entire county behind us, "is a great aid to indigestion and sweet sleep o' nights."

Notice.

We the barbers of Tillamook have agreed on the following prices to go into effect May 1st, 1911:

- Hair cut 35c.

Church of Christ.

The address last Lord's day evening on, "The Ideal Young Woman from Young Men's Standpoint," was well received by the young ladies and enjoyed by the young men. Next Lord's day evening the minister will give the second address of the series. The subject will be, "The Ideal Young men from the View Point of Young Women." Come, young men, and be sized up by the young ladies.

Say! do you belong to our loyal Men's Class? If not, why don't you join us? You're greeted each time with a welcome hand, You feel you belong to a happy band; And instructions galore come from every nook. By those of us who know the Book. Call on us at ten o'clock next Lord's day morning.

"Foley's Honey and Tar is the best cough remedy I ever used as it quickly stopped a severe cough that had long troubled me," says J. W. Kahn, Princeton, N. Br. Just so quickly and surely it acts in all cases of coughs, colds, lagrippe and lung trouble. Refuse substitutes.—C. I. Clough.

High School Flashes.

The Emersonian program was certainly a howling success in every sense of the word. Their society amused the school to the fullest extent Friday afternoon by comic performances, such as rounds, recitations, and a dialogue of rare quality.

The manager of the ball team has at last heard from the different teams which he wrote to some time ago in regard to forming a league. The proposition has been acted upon favorably by all that have been heard from so far. However, there has been some desire on the part of other teams to have Bayocean enter the league in the place of Hemlock, and we hope they will decide to enter.

One of our athletic and intellectual stars, Ralph Himes, left school last week to try his hand with the world. We are very sorry indeed to lose Ralph as he was one of the most amiable fellows in school. We fear that something serious will happen to the Senior class without his strong mind to guide it. Seven girls and no boy is certainly a bunch worth watching.

Prof. Scofield has been sick the past week and unable to attend his classes.

The Ciceronian Dramatic Club are busy preparing for the plays they intend to give this Friday. Every thing is moving smoothly and from all appearances the people of the town will have a chance to enjoy the treat of their life time this Friday night by coming to this best play of the season at the Gem Theatre, and giving their money for the improvement of the Gifford Stillwell Children's Park, and for the betterment of the city as a whole.

Notices are up for a special meeting of the voters of the district to consider the building of a new High School building. We think that it is high time that some move of this kind were made and we urge all wide awake business men who are in favor of increasing their trade and enlarging the city, to attend this meeting and vote for the new High School building.

We did not have moving day this week because of the sickness of Prof. F. A. Scofield.

The Ciceronians are rushing preparations for their society this week as they will render it a week early. Plays, society and examinations are a good combination.

The children of the seventh and eighth grades have been having some very interesting contests the past week. At first they had a debate on, "Resolved, That the Panama Canal should be Fortified," in which the affirmative won after a very heated discussion. The next was a spelling match between the two rooms in which neither room could spell down the other one. Now the two rooms are preparing for a debate which will come off in the near future.

The High School boys played a game of baseball with the "Roughneck" Town Team, although the game cannot be called a High School game, as the Board of Directors have forbid the High School Team playing ball on Sunday. The results of the game will therefore be given in another place.

Last Friday night the Class of '11 and the Debating Team were entertained at the home of Prof. L. L. Baker. The evening was spent in friendly chatting until all had assembled, when Mrs. Baker introduced some novel St. Patrick guessing games. Prizes were given to the least and most proficient guessers. Six prizes in all were given, Elbert Ginn receiving the greatest number and F. A. Scofield the one for the greatest amount of work in a contest on writing slang phrases, of which he wrote nearly one hundred and fifty. Those present were Prof. L. L. Baker and wife; Prof. Ralph Moore and wife; Prof. F. A. Scofield and Eva Wheeler, Jeanie Blanchard, Helena Schiappi, Violet Noyes, Ruby McGhee, Gladys Beals, Ruth Holmes and Elsie Lamb, of the class and the Debating Team, Benly Stam, Elbert Ginn and Myron Blanchard. After a lunch of ice cream and cake all departed for their homes, each feeling well repaid for their short stay with Prof. Baker in his home.

A Pierce Night Alarm

is the hoarse, startling cough of a child, suddenly attacked by croup. Often it awoke Lexa Chamblin, of Manchester, O., [R. No. 2] for their four children were greatly subject to croup. "Sometimes in severe attacks," he wrote "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others. So may you. Asthma, Hay Fever, La Grippe, Whooping Cough, Hemorrhages fly before it. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Sold by Chas. I. Clough.

BRILLAT-SAVARIN.

Tribulations of the Famous French Epicure and Jurist.

Brillat-Savarin, the author of "The Physiology of Taste," was the absolute realization of the typical good liver. The French revolution confiscated his property and removed him from his office as civil judge. He fled to Switzerland and then to the United States, where he played a fiddle in a New York theater to gain a living.

His property was afterward returned to him, and he was made a counselor of the supreme court, an office he clung to successfully through changes of empire and kingdom. His "Physiology of Taste" shared the fate of many celebrated books. It was refused by several publishers and eventually was published at the author's expense, but without his name attached to it, as he considered the nature of the work incompatible with his judicial functions.

It was Brillat-Savarin who declared that "the discovery of a new food does more for the happiness of the human race than the discovery of a star."

"Monsieur the counselor," a hostess asked him one day, "which do you prefer, burgundy or Bordeaux?"

"Madame," replied the judicial authority, "that is a lawsuit in which I have so much pleasure in taking the evidence that I always postpone judgment."

A LIBERTY WITH TIME.

Castelar's Interrupted Lecture in the University of Madrid.

In "Home Life in Spain" is a fine story of the University of Madrid, which once had among its professors that Senor Castelar who was for a time president of the short lived Spanish republic. But when Alfonso XII. was brought to Madrid after the fall of the republic Castelar, with his companions, was exiled.

Some years afterward an amnesty was proclaimed, and Castelar returned in triumph to Madrid to resume his office in the university. A vast gathering attended to hear his first lecture, and the greatest orator in all Spain mounted the rostrum, looked imperiously at the sea of eager faces surrounding him and began, "As I was saying yesterday" (Como decia ayer).

Between that yesterday and this day he had fought the battle of the fallen republic and had known the bitterness of years in exile. All memory of this, however poignant in the heart of Castelar, had passed from the professor of Madrid's university, and he continued his lecture at the very point at which it had been broken off.

The Sedan Chair.

The sedan chair is named after Sedan, the town where it was first used. The earliest mention of it in England occurs in 1581. Early in the following century the Duke of Buckingham caused much indignation by its use in London. People were exasperated at that nobleman employing his fellow men to take the place of horses to carry him. Prince Charles brought from Spain in 1623 three curiously wrought sedans, two of which he gave to the Duke of Buckingham. A few weeks after their introduction Massinger produced his play, "The Bondman," and in it he thus adverts to the ladies:

For their pomp and care being borne in triumph on men's shoulders.

The reference is doubtless to Buckingham's sedan, which was borne like a palanquin.—"Bygone England."

The Magnetic Poles.

The magnetic poles are not stationary. The northern one is slowly moving westward along the seventieth parallel and in the course of three or four hundred years will probably have encircled the geographic north pole and returned to about its present location. Of course the southern magnetic pole follows a corresponding course about the geographic south pole. In such cities in the United States as Omaha, Sioux City, Topeka, Galveston, etc., the compass needle would point about in the direction of the north star and the north pole that Commander Perry reached. This geographic pole is about 1,500 miles north of the magnetic pole, toward which the needles of all compasses point.—St. Nicholas.

Earliest Use of Mineral Ink.

In ancient times India ink, made from lampblack and glue, was used for writing on papyrus, but inspection of the earliest vellum or parchment MSS. shows that iron gall inks were introduced not later than the ninth century. The reason for the change was that, although a carbon ink is more permanent, it has no penetrating power and can be sponged from the vellum, whereas the iron ink bites into the fibers and resists the destructive action of both air and light.

Age and Youth.

W. D. Howells said of old age at one of his Sunday afternoons: "Age is modester than youth. I've often noticed that when I tell a mother that her daughter is the image of what she was herself at nineteen the mother is delighted, but the daughter looks startled."

Turn to the Light.

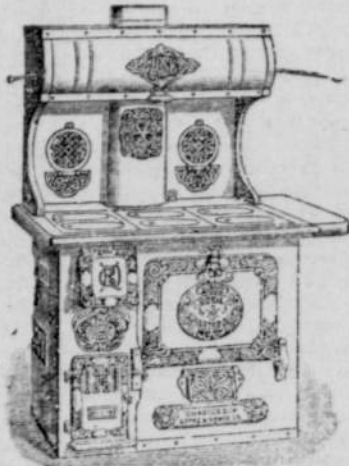

If there is anywhere on your horizon a spot of light, fix your eyes upon it and turn your thoughts away from the clouds which may cover the rest of the sky.

A Cold, LaGrippe, then Pneumonia.

Is too often the fatal sequence. Foley's Honey and Tar expels the cold, checks the lagrippe, and prevents pneumonia. It is a prompt and reliable cough medicine that contains no narcotics. It is as safe for your children as yourself.—C. I. Clough.

John W. Sickelsmith, Greensboro, Pa., has three children, and like most children they frequently take cold. "We have tried several kinds of cough medicine," he says, "but have never found any yet that did them as much good as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." For sale by Lamar's Drug Store.

Kills a Murderer.

A merciless murderer is Appendicitis with many victims, but Dr. King's New Life Pills kill it by prevention. They gently stimulate stomach, liver and bowels, preventing that clogging that invites appendicitis' curing Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Chill, 25c. at Chas. I. Clough.

If you have trouble in getting rid of your cold you may know that you are not treating it properly. There is no reason why a cold should hang on for weeks and it will not if you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by Lamar's Drug Store.

MEASLES.

After having the MEASLES have your eyes looked after, examined, before you try to do any close work with them. It will save you the trouble you MAY otherwise have, besides it will cost you nothing to find out the truth about them.

Measles very often leave your eyes in a very bad condition, half of the trouble with our eyes, or the eyes of the people is caused by MEASLES.

Don't risk your eyes when they can be saved as well as not.

A Morning Reminder.

You awake with a mean, nasty taste in the mouth, which reminds you that your stomach is in a bad condition. It should also remind you that there is nothing so good for a disordered stomach as Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets.

They build up the system, assist nature to restore natural conditions, and are so gentle in their action that one hardly realizes a medicine was taken. Chamberlain's Tablets are sold everywhere. Price 25c.
