The Tillamook Headlight,

Editorial Snap Shots.

He's a scrub rooster,
That can't be a booster.

Say, Mr. City Dads, what about that shooting in one of the saloons Saturday night, or haven't we woke up to the fact that this city is a cow boy town?

How does this look? Some of the curb stone "knockers," who have been maligning the County Court for going into debt for a reasonable amount of money for road improvements were in favor of the Port of Tillamook bonding the district for $450,000. The biblical story holds good in Tillamook. The knockers can swallow a camel but strain at a knot.

There is a movement on foot to have Governor West call a special meeting of the state legislature to pass road legislation. If it is to create a road commission, so that a few individuals can draw big salaries for being state ornaments and appearing wise on road matters, we are opposed to it, also to any bonding scheme. There is no need of any more road bosses, especially kid glove fellows.

Gee, wiz. The thermometer registers above 100 degrees in several towns in Oregon, put over here in this little kingdom of Tillamook the weather is delightful, cool and bracing, with everything in view fresh, bright and green. We cordially invite the rest of Oregon to come to Tillamook county and cool off, away from the heat and dust of that tropical weather. Truly Tillamook county is a wonderful little kingdom of its own when it comes down to undeveloped resources and delightful summer weather.

The recall law is being invoked on the Lane County Court, and this pertinent remark from the Cottage Grove Sentinel shows who are back of the movement: "The Taxpayers' Association, which has undertaken this herculean task, is composed chiefly of chronic grouches, whose principal characteristic relative to public affairs is to damn if one does and to damn if one don't." So Tillamook is not the only county with persons who are "knocking" because a large amount of money is being expended on roads.

The Tillamook County Editor-Boosters' Association will leave for the north part of the county on Friday, where they will be dined and wined and entertained by the people of that section of the county. It is entirely in the interest of the Nehalem country that this trip is taken, and as this is an important part of the county, the boosters will endeavor to make known the great possibilities and splendid future there is for that part of Tillamook county. We know that the people of Nehalem will make it pleasant for the visiting editors, for they are noted for their hospitality.

One thing that all should boost for, and that is for good roads to all the beach resorts. The importance of this is seen every summer, for until these roads are constructed this county will not obtain the summer travel it otherwise would. Take for instance Garibaldi beach and Bayocean, with no roads to get there by auto, Netarts and the other beaches in the north and south parts of the county, and before they can be properly developed they must have good roads. And let everybody boost for these road improvements, for it means much for the future of Tillamook County.

The need of a first class hotel in Tillamook City is something which must be attended to at no distant date, that is if this city expects to remain the hub of the county. Not being able to obtain the kind of hotel accommodations they desire here, visitors remain but a short time and then pull out for other places. Tillamook City is the logical hub of the county and all roads lead to it. It was pointed out to us several days ago that owing to the central location of the city, a good hotel here would cause automobile parties to make this their headquarters, and who would take trips in their machines to different parts of the county in the morning and return later in the day. The matter of a first class hotel in this city is of vast importance and something that our enterprising citizens should take a lively interest in.

You hear people complain about county warrants being discounted. We will set some of our citizens to thinking. One reason money is scarce in Tillamook is because the saloons have drained the county of money sufficient to take up all the outstanding county warrants. Figure it out yourself. There are five saloons in this city, and we are informed that they take in about $500 a day, to say nothing of the saloons in other parts of the county. Three thousand dollars a week is a big drain on the money in circulation in this city, and it is not surprising to us in the least that money is so scarce and business is slow and not money enough in the county to take up county warrants. Yet it was the sovereign will of the people of this county which was instrumental in bringing this state of affairs about.

Tillamook county had a juvenile financial panic in county warrants last week, brought about by several reasons. First, the senseless agitation, the fact that a question was raised about the county exceeding $5,000 indebtedness and the scarcity of money and the inability of the local banks to dispose of county warrants to outside parties owing to such a large amount being issued at the last two terms of the county court. One cannot blame the present court for the indebtedness that it inherited nor the banks when it was impossible for them to handle the warrants. Another thing it would be imprudent for the banks to load up with warrants of a doubtful character when at any time some crank or "knocker" could bring suit to enjoin the county treasurer from paying them. Under the circumstances, what is the wisest thing to do? To keep on knocking won't help matters at all, in fact, it will make them worse. Although we deplore seeing any curtailment in road work, it seems to us that the proper course now is to place the county on a cash basis as soon as possible and not go beyond the limit which the constitution provides. It may come hard on some of our citizens who have been figuring upon road work to pay the last half of their taxes and mean a good many bad roads the coming winter, which, no doubt, the court will get centured for allowing. Here's the point, the county cannot pay off a large amount of outstanding indebtedness and expend a large amount of money on roads when there is not enough money to do both. The county will probably be in debt nearly $100,000 before the next collecting takes place, so it is plain to everybody that it is going to entail rigid economy and a little hardship to place the county on a cash basis at one lick. Once it is done it will be a good thing, and instead of a large amount of money being tied up in county warrants, perhaps some of that money would be used in new industries which would help to create pay-rolls.

Some About Prize Winning Horses.

For the benefit of those who have Major Weitzel Colts, I will give a list of the prizes he has won in Oregon. 1st, First prize at the Southern Oregon District Fair at Roseburg, Fall 1901; 2nd, and again 1st at Southern Oregon District Fair, Fall 1902 at Roseburg; 3rd, Major Weitzel 33271 took first prize over all, Standard Bred Stallions at the Oregon State Fair in the Fall of 1907 at Salem; 4th, on April 3rd, 1909, Major Weitzel took first prize at Woodburn Horse Show in the aged standard bred class and sweepstakes with his family of colts; 5th, on April 10, 1909, at the Salem Horse Show, Major Weitzel won sweepstakes and the $20.00 silver cup with his family and he won first in the Aged Standard Bred Stallion Class also; 6th, there was not one of the Major's colts that was shown in the three horse shows, Salem, Woodburn and Mount Angel in the Spring of 1909 but what either took a blue ribbon or was instrumental in winning championship prizes; 7th, on March 31st at Woodburn this year 1911, in the aged standard bred class Major was given second place; one of his colts, Lady Weitzel, owned by Apland Bros. of Woodburn, won 1st in the 3 year old class and another Major Weitzel colt owned by A. Monton, of Gervais, won 2nd in the same class, and in the two year old class a Major Weitzel colt won 2nd prize; in the yearling class, H. S. Shapes of Hubbard, won 1st with another Major; 8th, at Mount Angel on April 1, 1911, Major Weitzel was again awarded first prize in the aged standard bred class; his three year old owned by A. Monton of Gervais, won first and another Major colt won second in the same class and a Major Weitzel colt won second in the yearling class; 9th, on April 6 and 7, 1911, at the Salem Horse Show, Major Weitzel 33271 won first and $20.00 silver cup with his family of colts, and he was given second place in the aged standard bred stallion class, Major's 2 year old colt owned by Dr. Sander, of Seattle, and bought of Rev. Father Paul Daiton, of Brooks, for $500.00 at 17 months old, won second prize in the two year old class. The colt that won first in the yearling class was the Major Weitzel colt owned by E. F. Rogers that was foaled in Tillamook Co. on June 18, 1910, and was kept in the vacant lot in front of C. W. Woolf's Blacksmith Shop in Tillamook City until it was three weeks old; 10th there has been at least 25 different Major Weitzel colts shown at the different horse shows and fairs and there was never one of his colts entered that did not win a prize and only one that got as low as third prize.

Now with all of these prizes it means something to your colts value. Cut this out and keep it to show the class of stock you have.

Now in conclusion kindly notice where these prizes were won as we all know that Salem and the State Fair Grounds is where the highest classed stallion of the coast comes for service. I appreciate the liberal patronage I have received in Tillamook County and hope to continue to co-operate with you in the improvement of your horses.

Respectfully Yours,
E. F. ROGERS, V. S.
