A disgraceful fight took place on Main street soon after six o'clock on Wednesday evening, which grew out of a gambling dispute. This is prima facie evidence that gambling is going on in this city. We should have said had been going on for a long time and it is about time the gamblers and gambling houses were "pinched."

In the case of George N. Hodgdon vs. L. D. Krake, appealed to the supreme court, the court, believing the judgment brought up to the circuit court for review was void, no error was committed in annulling the entry and in remanding the cause with directions to fix a time in which the answer should be filed, it followed that the judgment appealed from should be affirmed.

FASHIONABLE WEDDING

Miss Hazel McNair Betrothed to Elmer De Witt Paine-- Large Gathering With Business Ceremony.

A pretty church wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening at the First Presbyterian Church, which had been tastefully decorated for the occasion, when Miss Hazel Mae McNair and Mr. Elmer De Witt Paine were united in marriage. Rev. Henry Marcotte, of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Portland (an old friend of the bride's parents), performed the ceremony.

The bride entered the church with her father, and looked charming in her bridal attire. Her gown was of white crepe meteor with panels of lace and court train. Her veil was gathered with clusters of lilies of the valley and on her arm was artistically arranged a cluster of brides roses, combined with orchids.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Blanchard McNair, who acted as maid of honor, and Miss Grace Noyes as bridesmaid. Miss McNair was gowned in pink messaline with overdrap of crystallized chiffon, and Miss Noyes in blue messaline with overdrap of the same material. They carried shower bouquets of brides roses.
The groom was attended by Mr. Teary Beck, of Portland, Ore., who acted as best man. Messrs. R. L. Howe, Burr Beals and Roy McNair acted as ushers.

The wedding marches were played by Mrs. C. W. Campbell, when the rev. gentleman in a few appropriate remarks solemnly tied the nuptial knot. The ceremony was performed according to the ring service.

The church decorations consist of evergreens and white, and the church was well filled with both home and out of town guests.

After the ceremony a few intimate friends of the family, with the bridal party, assembled at the home of the bride's parents and partook of a dainty wedding supper. The house decorations were in the autumn shades.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McNair, and a popular young lady of this city, who was a graduate from the Tillamook High School and the University of Oregon, where she was also very popular with her class mates. The groom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Paine, of Eugene, who is also a graduate of the U. of O. and popular with the young people of Eugene.

Mr. Paine and his bride left by auto the same evening, and after spending their honeymoon in California, will be at home at the Osburn House, Eugene, Ore., after November the first.

The happy couple were the recipients of a large number of valuable and useful presents and they left carrying with them the best wishes of a large number of friends for their future happiness.

Another Fishing Trouble.

Deputy District Attorney G. W. Willett was called to Nehalem on Monday to settle a dispute between the set net and sein net fishermen on Nehalem bay, the latter claiming they could not drift with the set nets stretched from the shore. The official decided in favor of the set net fishermen. On Saturday, however, the fishermen, were to hold a meeting, but previous to that a fight was participated in, by the different fishermen. It seems that one of the Nehalem saloon keepers and his bar tender took some part in the proceedings and the renowned Justice of the Peace Joe Effenberger, who was a witness to the proceedings, arrested and fined both, taxing the saloon keeper a larger amount than the bar tender. The saloon keeper wanted to know from the justice why he was taxed more when Effenberger made this reply: "You made more noise and you rattled your money."

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF TILLAMOOK.

AS OTHERS SEE IT.

Opposed to Fairview Grange Running the County.

John Blum, F. W. Robitch and James Christensen were in the city on Wednesday and raised their protest against the action of the Fairview Grange and the Bay City Commercial Club wanting to shut down on road work.

James Christensen was outspoken and said he did not want to be classed with the Fairview Grangers who, having obtained all the good roads they needed, wanted to deprive others sections of the county to obtain good roads and bridges.

He said the Fairview Grangers should visit Blaine, Sandlake and other parts in the south end of the county and see how they needed good roads and more bridges. He was opposed to closing down on road work. He was satisfied that the County Court would do the right thing, for it was in a position to know the needs of the county.

John Blum also raised a protest, and sarcastically remarked that they had better allow the Fairview Grange and Bay City Commercial Club to dictate and run county affairs. Although his tax amounted to only $19.00, he would be willing that it be raised to $50 so that road work should proceed. He said that whenever the Fairview people wanted any road or bridge improvements they would come to his district and have the taxpayers sign their petitions. He had signed the petition circulated by Marion Chance for the Johnson bridge across the Trask river, which was a benefit to a few settlers, and he felt hostile to think that the Fairview district, having obained everything it wanted in road and bridge improvements, should be opposed to other parts of the county obtaining them also.

We understand that Charles Kuznetz, when shown how the south side of Tillamook bay had been paying taxes for many years to build roads in other parts of the county, and that the taxes there were greatly on the increase, expressed an opinion that if the County Court would allow a reasonable amount of money for the next two or three years, he was in favor of giving the people over there a road, for they were entitled to it. It was also explained to him that Bayocean property being a fair illustration of this, for where that property only paid a few dollars taxation it is gradually crawling up and now amounts to three or four thousand dollars.

FAVORS SQUARE DEAL.

Tillamook City and Business Men Show Interest in Good Roads.

Good roads advocates should trade in a city which is in favor of good roads and with business men who help out the good roads movement, not only in paying high taxes, but in subscribing large sums of money besides to help build new roads. Tillamook City went on records this week in favor of road work being continued in all parts of the county and opposed to closing down, and the merchants contributing several thousand dollars towards building a road to Bayocean. This plainly shows that Tillamook City is enthusiastic over the good roads movement, and that all outlying districts and each end of the county are entitled to equally good roads as those found at Fairview and vicinity. As Tillamook City merchants are good roads boosters and advocates, they must be the warm friends of those who want to see the road work in the county continue, as it would allow the roads to get into a deplorable condition if allowed to remain for eighteen months. Therefore trade in a city and with the merchants who advocate good roads and we will guarantee that you get good roads, good goods, and good satisfaction, for Tillamook City has shown a magnanimous spirit in wanting to see all parts of the county get a square deal in road improvements.

CONSIDERS ROAD WORK.

Executive Board Takes Sensible View of the Situation.

There was a meeting of the Executive Board of the Tillamook Commercial Club on Monday evening and after some routine business the Board took up the matter of road improvements, expressing itself strongly in favor of the continuation of road improvements in all parts of the county and where property owners were willing to donate larger sums of money towards building roads they should be given first consideration. The opposition to the building of the road to Bayocean was considered, the board coming to conclusion that it would recommend its construction if the cost to the county did not exceed $15,000 to $20,000, but should this cost be a great deal more than that sum it would not recommend it. The Board favored the proposition, so as not to put too much money into one project and deprive other sections of needed road improvements, that whatever amount was appropriated that part be taken from the taxes collected next year and the remainder the following year. As that part of the county had paid taxes towards building roads in other parts of the county for many years, and as it was shown that the sandpit property, which paid taxes amounting to a few dollars five or six years ago, that same property will pay $3,500 taxes next year, with a large increase every year, and with the large amount of taxes paid by property owners on the south side of the bay, the Executive Board came to the conclusion that they were justly entitled to some of their tax money for a road and a way out. The subscription list shows that $8,000 has been subscribed with the possibility that it will amount to $10,000 which does not include the three miles of road the T. B. Potter Realty Co. will construct free of cost through their property. By the end of the week it will be known what the surveyor's estimate of cost will be. There is about four mile of ordinary road work to construct with about 1 1/2 miles of rock work, which is of a sandstone nature and not hard to work. When the government put in the jetty the engineers would not use this rock on account of its sandstone nature. It is more than probable that a road can be built around the rocky points at a much less cost.
