Lightning Kills few.
In 1900 lightning killed only 100 people in this whole county. One's chance of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chance of death from liver, kidney or stomach trouble is vastly greater, but not if Electric Bitters be used, as Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Ia., proved. Four doctors gave him up after eight months of suffering from virulent liver trouble and yellow jaundice. He was then completely cured by Electric Bitters.
They're the best stomach, liver, nerve and kidney remedy and blood purifier on earth. Only 50c at

Are You Giving
Your Live Stock
a Fair Deal?

You like a little salt and pepper—a little mustard—a little lemon extract—a little this and that to flavor your grub. Your cow, your steer, your hog under natural conditions would have a chance to get a bite of this, a bite of that and a bite of the other thing and so get a variety in its feed. But under the unnatural condition in which you keep them, they get every day about the same sort of stuff to eat. As a natural consequence they get "off their feed." Even if they do not, their digestive organs need the tonic effect which comes from a variety of feeding stuffs.

Watkins' Stock Tonic Is a scientific preparation which not only improves the flavor of the feed you feed, but also supplies that tonic element so needed to make your live stock do their best.
There is no longer any doubt about the need of a tonic for the modern domestic animal kept under artificial conditions. You must give them something to help them digest their feed and get the greatest good from it.
Watkins' Stock Tonic supplies this need. It makes the animal relish its feed more; it aids in the digestion and assimilation of the feed, and in addition to that, it has a tonic effect upon the whole system.

Your animals need a tonic of this kind. Watkins' Stock Tonic is not a secret preparation. We tell you the actual ingredients that are used in it. You know exactly what you are buying, and pound for pound it will go farther and do more good than any other stock tonic or so called stock food ever made.
The Watkins Man will be glad to leave you a pail on trial, backed by the Watkins guarantee.

GHOSTLY BUTTERFLIES.

A Species in British Guiana Whose Wings Are Transparent.
In "Our Search For a Wilderness" Mr. William Beebe of the New York zoological park describes his first sight of the transparent butterfly—Hoetera piers—of British Guiana, an insect through whose outstretched wings any substance on which it rests can be clearly seen.

As we crossed a swirling fallen tree the trunk of a mighty fallen tree something fluttered ahead. We could not see what it was. Closer we came, and still the object remained indistinct. We seemed to see a butterfly, and yet that appeared impossible. At last we marked it down on a fern frond and crept up until our eyes were within two feet of it. Nothing was visible but the graceful lacework of the frond until a slanting beam of sunlight struck it, and there, close before us, was the ghost of a butterfly.

It spread fully three inches, but was wholly transparent, save for three tiny spots of azure near the margin of each hind wing.
As we looked it drifted to a double headed flower of scarlet, and when it alighted the scarlet of the flower and the green of the leaf were as distinct as if seen through thin mica, and the faint gray haze of the insect's wings was marked only by the indistinct venation.

The appearance of this ghostly butterfly amid the silence and awe inspiring stillness of the reeking jungle was most impressive.

BIG BELLS.

Canton Has One Eighteen Feet High and Forty-five Feet in Circumference.

Some of the old world bells are heavy indeed. "Great Paul" of St.
Paul's cathedral, in London, weighs nearly seventeen tons and is nearly thirty feet around. The first "Big Ben" of Westminster was cast more than fifty years ago and weighed about fourteen tons and was about twenty-eight feet around. But "Big Ben" had a crack and was made over, losing some weight, and the clapper was made smaller, being now 600 pounds instead of about a ton. "Peter of York" cost $10,000, weight twelve and one-half tons; twenty-two feet in diameter or thereabouts.

The largest hanging bell in the world is said to be that in the great Buddhist monastery near Canton. It is eighteen feet in height and forty-five feet in circumference, being cast of solid bronze. This is one of eight monster bells that were cast by command of the Emperor Yung Lo about A. D. 1400. It is said to have cost the lives of eight men, who were killed in the process of casting. The whole bell on both sides is covered with an inscription in embossed Chinese characters about half an inch in length, covering even the top piece from which it swings, the total number being 84,000. These characters tell a single story, one of the Chinese classics.

Trees in Oranges.

The Mundus, a weekly published in Rome in five languages, states that one of the methods adopted by the Japanese to produce their curious dwarf trees is as follows: The pulp of an orange is removed through a small hole and the skin filled with a mixture of wool, charcoal and rich earth, with one seed toward the opening in the skin. The orange is put in a glass and watered by the hole, and every now and then a little wood ash is added. The plant shoots through the opening, and the roots pierce the skin.
As soon as they do so they are cut off.
After two or three years of this treatment the plant will be only a few inches high, but will have the aspect of an old forest tree.

An Old Friend.

A private soldier once rendered some slight service to the first Napoleon.
"Thank you, captain," said the emperor carelessly.
"In what regiment, sire?" was the instant response of the quick witted private.
"In my guards," replied the emperor, pleased with the man's ready retort.
This incident, with appropriate variations, also happened to Genghis Khan, Ivan the Terrible, Attila, Gus-tavius Adolphus, Louis XIV, Charlemagne, Alexander, King Alfred, Ner-xes, Richard the Lion Hearted and Henry of Navarre.—Success Magazine

Wedding Rings.

According to the ancient ritual, the husband began by placing the wedding ring upon the bride's thumb and putting it successively on the next two fingers, pronouncing for each one a person of the trinity, with a final "Amen," as the fourth finger was reached, where the ring remained.—
New York American.

What He Took.

"Judge," said the guilty man, "I inherit this felonious habit. I can't resist it. My father was a grafter and my mother a photographer. I can't help taking things."
"Then take seven years at hard labor," said the judge kindly.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
