

Death of Wm. Zimmerman.

Nehalem Enterprise.
The sad news of the death of Wm. Zimmerman in the Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland, Monday, reached Nehalem Tuesday.

Deceased has been ailing for some time but his condition was not considered critical until two weeks ago when he was taken to the hospital for treatment. Mr. Zimmerman has been a resident of this valley for the past twenty-five years, coming here from California where he had lived several years after coming to this country from Germany with his wife. The family has lived on the old homestead on the south side of the bay since they came to Nehalem, having but recently sold it, with the exception of a few acres which he retained for his home.

Seven children were born to them, three of whom are still living to mourn their father's death. Mrs. Sam Lundberg is now living at Seaside with her husband and family, Mrs. Anna Forbes resides in Portland, and their son Albert is a resident of this valley.

Funeral services were held in Nehalem Friday and the body interred in the local cemetery.

The friends of the family extend their heart-felt sympathy in their bereavement.

Coming Saturday Evening.

On Saturday evening, January 27, James R. Barkley, the famous Crayon Lecturer and Clay Modeler, will give the second number in the Menelly lecture course at the U. B. Church. Doors open at 7.30.

Mr. Barkley has a national reputation as an expert in his work. If you have the blues come out into the social sunlight and laugh care away. While his work is highly entertaining and mirth-provoking it is also educational and refining.

WE POINT WITH PRIDE

To the house built with our lumber. Not immediately after it is finished, for any new house may look attractive. But after the house has stood some time after it has been subject to wind and weather is the time we point with pride to it. Good as the day it was finished. Every board just where it was nailed, no warping, cracking or shrinking. If you wish to have good work on your home, see that all finish, flooring, etc., is thoroughly kilndried. All our finish is kilndried. Ask us why.

The Drama at Fairview.

The drama which was given last Saturday evening by the Fairview Literary Society, was much enjoyed by those who heard it. The play is an unusual good number. It has a plot that secures and holds the audience spell bound from beginning to the close. It is full of fun and yet there is a pathetic side that draws out ones sympathies in a very effective way.

The characters had been well chosen and the respective parts were ably and effectively acted.

Mr. F. E. Norton, as "Mr. Thompkins," naturally displayed his dislike for sham and deceit, and his willingness to give credit for industry and honesty, carried his part out perfectly.

Mr. Morrison Mills, as "Hired Man," kept the audience in a fit of constant glee, bringing the house down many times by the natural and effective way he would give his funny expressions. His actions were homelike. He was in every way a handy and useful fellow. He succeeded in turning the play and accomplishing his aim in a way that makes the play end a manner entirely satisfactory to the audience.

Mr. Bidgood, "John Remington," rendered his part so naturally and so confidentially that one could hardly realize that it was only a play that he was seeing.

Kenneth Cater, as "Jerry," brought a rousing cheer for each appearance.

Mrs. Bidgood, as "Louise," believed by Mr. Thompkins to be his own daughter, appeared perfectly easy in expressing her love for "John Remington," carried out her part in a manner that could not have been equaled. She secured the sympathies of the entire audience, and every one was overjoyed when "The Hired man" helped her to secure her sights.

Mrs. Arthur Beals as "Julia," the only child born to Mr. and Mrs. Thompkins, acted her part, as a spoiled, overeducated, useless, un happy, yet very accomplished young lady in a very credible way.

Mrs. Hoover, as "Ruth," proved a heroine in the play and carried her part in a way that is deserving of much credit.

Mrs. Crawford, as "Mrs. Thompkins," labored so naturally under sorrowful and embarrassing circumstances that she secured the sympathies of all. Men could be seen turning their heads aside to hide the tears which they could not be kept back.

It is hoped by the people who were in attendance from Tillamook City that the play may be given here that others may see what the home talent of Fairview are able to do, and also have the pleasure of seeing and hearing something that is real good.

Splendid Stock.

The dependable S. W. Miller is a Piano of today. Every stick of timber in its construction shows splendid standard stock, value and up to date features never found in pianos of a lower grade.

The S. W. Miller Piano uses for its strings the celebrated Poelman German imported wire, which is the highest priced piano wire in the world. A piano with such strong, superior staple wire never disappoints, but stays steadily in tune, where a cheaply made piano would go wrong. We invite you to our store to see and hear this piano. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound
"Cures in Every Case."

Mr. Jas. McCaffery, Mgr. of the Schiltz Hotel, Omaha, Neb., recommends Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, because it cures in every case. "I have used it myself and I have recommended it to many others who have since told me of its great curative power in diseases of the throat and lungs." For all coughs and colds it is speedily effective. Chas. I. Clough Co.

James R. Barkley
Lecture and Illustrations in Clay at
U. B. CHURCH
Saturday Evening, January 27

THIS is the second of the season's lecture course and comes highly recommended. Our people will miss a great treat if they do not attend this entertainment. The following comment speaks well of Mr. Barkley's number:

An Excellent Number

Mr. Barkley is at all times interesting. The first part of the entertainment is devoted to cartoonist work and the second to clay modeling. He presented clay models representing the typical American, Theodore Roosevelt, and last, but not least, a typical old maid. He recited and illustrated several of Riley's favorite poems, "When the Frost Is On the Pumpkin" being especially well received, as was the illustration of the "Sinner and the Song." He possesses the knack of making his statements forceful.—Dowagiac (Mich.) Daily News.
