

A Valuable Faculty.

Determined effort to save develops or strengthens a valuable faculty; namely, the faculty of drawing the line between necessary and useless expenditure.

Think of it: Isn't it usually the thing one is better off without that takes the money he should save?

Hence the double benefit of the saving habit: First, learning to deny one's self harmful indulgences; and second, acquiring a property through little triumphs over self.

Ask yourself now if there is any reason why you should not become a money saver at

Mr. H. S. Hewitt and J. H. Smith, of Portland, have recently purchased a number of choice lots at Barview near the Life Saving Station on Garibaldi Beach. It is the plan of these gentlemen to build 10 cottages to start with and as many more as the demand requires having already shipped in a car load of lumber and hardware to start work at once. It is too bad the lumber men of Tillamook can't get down to business and get these orders, but as long as they hold the prices of lumber up to where purchasers can buy in Portland and save money, after paying freight charges, the Tillamook lumber merchants can't expect to get the business.—Ralph Ackley.
