The Tillamook Headlight.

Editorial Snap Shots.

Everything looks good in Tillamook County, as usual, and everybody should wear a broad smile on his countenance.

With Attorney H. T. Botts in the Senate and Attorney T. B. Handley in the House, there is no doubt what Tillamook's interests would be well looked after.

Notwithstanding that there are quite a number of Roosevelt and La Follette admirers in this county, they have about made up their minds that Taft will be nominated and will be elected.

Somewhat it did not look exactly right for the City Council not to be represented by the Mayor and a full delegation of Councilmen at the noon-day lunch and get together meeting at the Commercial Club.

We are doing our best to keep Bro. Trombley in the straight and narrow path, as he will not be under petticoat government for the next few months. He is entitled to one good credit mark, but there is no telling when the snap shot man will join him and paint the town red—with boosting matter.

Mayor Trombley, of Bay City, aspires to be joint representative, but as he failed to designate the party he belongs to in his petition to the Secretary of State, was he ashamed of the Democratic party? Two years ago the saloon advocates in this city came near running him for sheriff on the Democratic ticket.

We want to say a good word for the Southern Pacific and to express our appreciation in behalf of the people for giving Tillamook common point rates on lumber. This means much to the county, for it will enable lumber to be manufactured and shipped by rail at a profit, as well as opening up the lumber industry.

We believe in Statement No. 1, but it should read that every candidate who fails to obtain the nomination for the office he was running for should get in and help elect the person who was successful in obtaining it. That is nothing more than right in a free race. But most every defeated candidate feels grouchy and thinks it is the proper thing to "knife" the other fellow.

The senatorial race is practically simmering down between Senator Bourne and Ben Selling, and it would not surprise us in the least to see Bourne defeated. He ran considerably below his party vote when he was elected, and it was the support of the old line, or as some of our friends called them "stand pat," Republicans, who saved him from defeat by a small majority. Even should Senator Bourne obtain the nomination we are one of those who believe that he will be defeated.

There is a disposition on the part of those who are interested in a band to re-organize. That is a good idea, but it takes money to make the mare go. There is plenty of material in this city to make a good band, as well as a desire on the part of the musicians to get together. As a large proportion of the money raised for bands have been used for paying a leader, we are going to make a suggestion, so as to save that expense, that the boys appoint a board of leaders from their own numbers for the time being. The business men are willing to help, yet if the boys will help themselves we believe they can make good progress by selecting their own leaders, and in that way obtain suits much sooner than by having to pay a leader $75 a month.

The principle theme at the noonday lunch at the Tillamook Commercial Club on Wednesday was patronizing home industries and home businesses. This is a matter which concerns this city, for if all the trading was done at home there would be much more business done here. Vice-President Shrode hit the nail on the head when he said that the business men were a little at fault in not patronizing one another as they should, for if it was necessary for the business life of the city for the other fellow to patronize home industries, the business men should do the same. There are business men who impress it upon editors to advocate patronizing home industries, but when it comes to supporting the home newspapers they fail to do so, and when it comes to printing, some of them send outside for their bill heads. Business men should practice what they preach and expect the newspapers to advocate. But it was a get together and a pull together meeting which was held Wednesday where business men could get in closer touch one with another and straighten out all these defects which injure the business life of a city. The lunch was a success in every way, and every business man should participate in them in future, and help to pull together for the city as a whole. This gives everybody an opportunity to state a grievance if they have one or make a suggestion for the betterment of business for the city. It is to be hoped that the next noon-day lunch will have a much larger attendance, for business men cannot pull together until they get together.

My Dear Headlight,—Here I come from the sage brush country. Am well and have a time all the time. North Yakima reminds me of Salem, Ore. It claims 10,000 inhabitants and I reckon they are here. The country is treeless, except where irrigation has been carried on, and then they have very fine looking fruit trees—apples, pears, apricots, etc. The trees are fine, and if the frost don't kill the blossom they will have wonderful crops. One large crop in three years is about the average. They allow you to look over the fence, but ask you from one to three thousand dollars per acre for a home near the city. Yesterday we had a dust storm. They told me it was worse than common, and it would take a hummer to beat it. Dust the size of a pea cut in eight pieces would strike you in the face. I hunted shelter, but the natives acted as independent as we do in Tillamook during a rain storm. I concluded that they were used to dust storms. I met A. W. Severance. He soon scraped up an acquaintance. He asked me home with him, and for fear he would not insist on my going, I just went and had a splendid time. He has a fine home just outside the city limits, and he is a busy fellow. He has some 25 acres in fruit, a law office, a fine horse and buggy, and his wife is looking after two pretty little girls. She is in the poultry business, three incubators running on full time. They are prosperous and happy, but they have not forgotten old Tillamook or the friends they left there. We talked over old times and the possibilities ahead for Tillamookers. The ex-Postmaster got suddenly silent and heaved a deep sigh, and remarked that his health was poor there and that was his reason for leaving.

I have found places where they ask as much for one acre as 10 acres of good land in Tillamook. After counting water cost, possibility of crop failures and cheap fruit when they hit a big crop, I can say and tell nothing but the truth, that when it comes to counting dollars Tillamook is ahead, especially as we get our cash each month while they have to wait 12 months. I just set that down as another feather in our caps. No, sir, my little home is not for sale. I am sun burnt, have my eyes full of dirt, and I want a good drink of water so bad that I dream of those beautiful fountains on the west side of the Coast range.

BITULITHIC PROVEN AID TO PAVING ART. Has been Agency to Advance Science in Laying Modern Streets.

During the past few years, in which the largest measure of progress in building modern street and road pavement has been accomplished, there has been no single agency performing so great a part therein as Bitulithic pavement. Its adoption and satisfactory use is on the increase in all parts of the country, including Canadian provinces, irrespective of climatic conditions.

The adoption of Bitulithic pavement increased last year over 1910 30.1 percent, and this year over the year 1911 48 per cent.—Olympian, Olympia.

Big Company Organized. The permanent organization of the Oregon Home Builders was affected this week in Portland with a capital stock of $100,000. The company consists of the most prominent men in the West. Thomas Prince is acting President. He is Vice-President of the Reed-Prince Mfg. Co. of Worcester, Mass., and is also heavily interested in Yamhill County Walnut properties. Oliver K. Jeffrey, prominent real estate man is Vice-President. H. L. Kents Automobile Co. is second Vice-President. W. A. King, formerly President of the First National Bank of Newberg, Oregon, will act as Secretary-Treasurer.

In addition to these officers, the Board of Directors consists of—Franklin T. Griffith, Chief Counsel and Director of the Portland Railway Light & Power Co., C. J. Franklin, General Super. Portland Railway Light & Power Co., W. B. Shrively prominent Attorney, E. H. Dodge, President Dodge Lumber Co., and M. Peterson, a well known merchant of the Willamette Valley, formerly Mayor of Forest Grove, and ex-Vice-President of the First National Bank of that place.

You will look a good while before you find a better medicine for coughs and colds than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only gives relief—it cures. Try it when you have a cough or cold, and you are certain to be pleased with the prompt cure which it will effect. For sale by all dealers.

Don't be surprised if you have an attack of rheumatism this spring. Just rub the affected parts freely with Chamberlain's Liniment and it will soon disappear. Sold by all dealers.

COMMON POINT RATES FOR LUMBER.

New Tillamook Railroad to Assist in Developing the County's Resources.

Lumber rates from points on the new Tillamook railroad to all common points in the East will be the same as the rates applying from Portland and other Coast cities, thus giving the territory served by the new road an opportunity of developing its timber and milling resources. The Southern Pacific Company is preparing a tariff that will go in effect soon after April 1. While the rate on eastbound business will be common with the Portland rate, the rate to San Francisco will be 50 cents a ton higher than the Portland rate, because Portland has the advantage of water competition. However, if the combination of local rates based on Hillsboro to San Francisco is less than the Portland rate plus 50 cents, the shipments will be made on the lesser rate.

Why He Was Late. "What made you so late?" "I met Smithson." "Well, that is no reason why you should be an hour late getting home to supper." "I know, but I asked him how he was feeling, and he insisted on telling me about his stomach trouble." "Did you tell him to take Chamberlain's Tablets?" "Sure, that is what he needs." MEDA FACTORY HITS THE HIGH MARK.

Correspondent Who Not Appear Friendly to Modern Methods in Business.

The Meda Co-operative Creamery Co., has just made their payments for February milk and the patrons are rejoicing over the event. Although the Meda Co-operative Creamery Co. is hampered by the high cost of transportation, and a high cost of production, the price paid was 58 cents per pound for butter fat.

This is a record breaking price and is highly gratifying to the patrons and stockholders as it upholds them in their contention that they can operate more satisfactorily as an independent concern than in connection with the Association under its present management. This factory left the Association in 1911 and passed through the season in such a satisfactory manner that the stockholders decided to remain an independent operator.

Our correspondent appears to be somewhat hostile to the Tillamook County Creamery Association. We want to inform him that in organizing co-operative associations for the manufacture of cheese it is just as important, if not more so, that there should be an organization to look after quality and the marketing of the cheese in the best market and at a time when the highest price can be obtained. It used to be, before the co-operative factories organized, that the good cheese sold the poor, bad cheese, that large quantities of cheese were dumped on the market at times when it should be held, and the individual factories often eager to dispose of their cheese below price, which the cheese jobbers were delighted to see, for they derived the benefit.

We want to say in behalf of the Tillamook County Creamery Association that the systematic methods of this organization in the matter of quality and the marketing of the cheese, which has helped to keep the price of Tillamook cheese at the top price, and a great deal of credit is due those associations which have organized for the purpose of bringing about these results. The dairymen of this county have gone through the experience of pulling apart and pulling together in the manufacture and the marketing of their cheese, and the wide awake ones have come to the conclusion after taking a retrospective view of the conditions which existed some years ago and that of today, that it is organization and pulling together which have done so much for the cheese industry of Tillamook County.

To the Voters of Tillamook County.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for renomination for the office of County Commissioner on the Republican ticket at the primary election to be held April 19th, 1912.

If nominated and elected I will favor a liberal appropriation for good roads, an economical expenditure of the same, and an impartial distribution of the road funds to all sections of the country.

Respectfully, H. V. ALLEY.

To The Republican Voters Of Tillamook County.

I, U. G. Jackson, do hereby place my name before the Republican Voters of Tillamook County as a candidate for nomination to the office of County Surveyor in the coming Republican Primaries.

Yours truly, U. G. JACKSON.

To The Voters of Tillamook County.

I hereby announce myself as candidate for nomination, for the office of County Assessor on the Republican ticket, at the Primary election to be held April 19th, 1912.

Respectfully yours, C. S. ATKINSON.

To The Voters of Tillamook County.

I hereby announce myself as candidate for renomination for the office of County School Superintendent, on the Republican ticket, at the primary election to be held April 19th, 1912.

Respectfully yours, W. S. BUELL.

To the Voters of Tillamook County.

Having served as Sheriff for several years, I had intended to retire from office at the end of the present term, but having been strongly urged to stand for reelection by a large number of voters who pledge me their support, on their assurance that my conduct of the office has been satisfactory to the taxpayers and people in general, I have decided to become a candidate and I hereby announce myself a candidate for renomination for the office of Sheriff, on the Republican ticket, at the Primary Election, April 19th 1912.

If nominated and elected, I promise to perform the duties of the office to the best of my ability, and will do my best to satisfy the people. I refer to my record as Sheriff as the best assurance I can give as to my being able to satisfactorily fill the office in the future.

Respectfully yours, H. CRENSHAW.

W. C. WINSLOW, Candidate for District Attorney at Republican Primary April 19th.

In asking for your support for District Attorney, I am only asking for that promotion which I hope you will feel I am justly entitled to.

The resignation of Dr. Wiley has so long been foreshadowed that its occurrence excites no surprise. It will be regretted by the country, nevertheless. His faults, and they were not few, were so far transcended by his good qualities that they were overlooked while he was in office, and will quickly be forgotten now. He talked copiously, and not always wisely. The camera seized him oftener than any other man in the country except Mr. Roosevelt while he was in office. He was involved in more feuds with his associates and superiors in office, though not always because of any shortcomings of his own, than any other public officer during our day.

M. D. Boardman, 573 W. Main St., Helena, Mont., gives an interesting account of his improved health through the use of Foley Kidney Pills. After giving a detail account of his case, he says, "I am almost 79 years old and have spent hundreds of dollars for medicines, but find I receive more benefit from Foley Kidney Pills, than from all other medicines. Further particulars sent on request." Chas. I. Clough Co.

Wm. L. Cook, Prop. of the Bee Hive Drug Store, Neilhart, Mont., says the Belt Canon running from Belt to Neilhart is the most picturesque spot in all Montana. He writes, "I recommend Foley's Honey and Tar Compound to all my customers and am never disappointed. It gives the best results for coughs and colds of anything I sell." Chas. I. Clough Co.

C. L. Parsons, Sec'y and Treas. of the C. H. Ward Drug Co., Pasadena, Calif., writes: "We have sold and recommended Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for years. We believe it to be one of the most efficient expectorants on the market. Containing no opiates or narcotics it can be given freely to children. Enough of this remedy can be taken to relieve a cold as it has no nauseating results and does not interfere with digestion." Chas. I. Clough Co.

H. McGowan, 1218 W. 2nd St. Little Rock, Ark., says, "I suffered with severe pains across my back and the kidney action was irregular and very painful. After taking Foley Kidney Pills for a few days the pain left my back and the kidneys became normal. I can gladly recommend Foley Kidney Pills for I know they helped me." Chas. I. Clough Co.
