 Chas. I. Clough, Tillamook.

required by said Water commission, shall vest in and be the property of Tillamook city. No contract shall be made on behalf of Tillamook city by said Water commission, except by virtue of a resolution of said commission, and in making such contract, the President and Secretary of said commission shall be empowered by resolution to execute the same in the name of the city and for and in behalf of the city; and said Water commission shall have the exclusive right, from time to time, to fix water rates and charges for the use of the water both by individuals and by Tillamook city, and it shall have the power and authority to adopt any and all reasonable rules and regulations with reference to the use of water and the operation of water works. Said Water commission shall have the right to begin, maintain, defend and compromise suits and actions at law in the name of Tillamook city whenever necessary in order to carry out the purpose of its organization.

Section 6. The revenues derived by said Water Commission from the operation of the water works and from taxation shall be applied to the payment of necessary operating and incidental expenses, and to the payment of the interest on the outstanding water bonds of Tillamook city, to the necessary repairs and extension of pipe lines, the general betterment of the water works, and surplus funds shall be paid into a sinking fund for the final redemption of the outstanding water bonds of Tillamook City, and such sinking fund may from time to time be invested in interest bearing securities under the direction of said commission.

Section 7. The members of said commission shall serve as such without compensation, and no member thereof during his term of office shall be interested directly or indirectly in any contract in relation to, or in furnishing of any labor or material in the construction, extension, operation, maintenance, or repair of said water works. All funds disbursed by said commission shall be paid out only on warrants drawn upon the treasurer of the commission and signed by the president and secretary in proof in pursuance of authority given at a meeting of the commission duly called and held.

Section 8. The secretary and the treasurer shall each keep his records and accounts in a comprehensive manner, and make a detailed report to the commission when so requested. All such books and papers shall be public records and open to inspection by any citizen of Tillamook City, at any time and on all reasonable business hours. And said commission shall cause to be filed with the city council a detailed statement of the receipts and disbursements of the commission, together with a statement of the transaction of its business for the preceding year, at least twenty days before the annual city session.

Section 9. Said commission is empowered to adopt such by-laws as may be necessary to conduct its business, and the city council shall assent to such ordinances as the said commission may request that may be necessary for the enforcement of its laws, rules and regulations.

Section 10. Three members of said commission shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The said commission shall hold one meeting each month and any member of said commission shall be allowed to attend two consecutive regular monthly meetings of the commission; he shall be considered to have resigned his position on the commission, and a vacancy shall be deemed to exist without further action of the commission.

Section 11. That an Act entitled "An Act to create a Water Commission for Tillamook City, Oregon, to describe its powers and duties and the method of its perpetuation, and to amend an Act entitled 'An Act to create a Water Commission for Tillamook City, Oregon,' passed February 22, 1906, be and the same hereby repealed.

Section 2. This Ordinance shall go into and be in effect upon the approval thereof by a majority of qualified electors of Tillamook City voting upon such question at an election to be ordered by the Common Council, whereat the adoption or rejection of said Ordinance shall be submitted to said electors, and upon the issuing of a proclamation by the Mayor declaring the adoption thereof, if the same be adopted at said election.

 That the number and form in which the ballot title for said ordinances will be printed on the official ballot is as follows:

"Referred to the legal voters of Tillamook City by the Common Council.
 Shall Ordinance No. 234 to amend the Charter of Tillamook City be enacted? (Changes present charter provisions by providing for tax by Council of not exceeding 10 mills for general purposes and not exceeding 10 mills for street purposes; giving council full authority as to intoxicating liquors, over gunpowder and explosives and adding subdivisions 30 to 49 inclusive extending the general police powers of the council to provide for the peace, good order, health, cleanliness, or nament, prosperity and general welfare of the city.)

"Referred to the legal voters of Tillamook City by the Common Council.
 Shall ordinance No. 235 to amend the Charter of Tillamook City be enacted? (Amends charter so as to provide for making street improvements, construction of sewers, etc., at expense of abutting property without requiring the giving property owners 30 days time to do the improvement, if the council so determine, and providing for notice of assessments for improvements after same are made, making more specific provisions for procedure to insure regularity.)

"Referred to the legal voters of Tillamook City by the Common Council.
 Shall Ordinance No. 236 to amend the charter of Tillamook City be enacted? (Amends present charter by allowing issuance of bonds for water, lights, drains or sewers, by vote of the people; making limit of indebtedness $150,000.00, outside of improvement bonds made a charge against property specially benefited by the improvements.)

"Referred to the legal voters of Tillamook City by the Common Council.
 Shall ordinance No. 237 to amend the Charter of Tillamook City be enacted? (Amends charter by providing that the Recorder, Marshal, Attorney, Street Commissioner and Surveyor shall be appointed by the Mayor and hold at his pleasure. Charter now provides that Recorder and Marshal shall be elected, other officers named appointed by Mayor with consent of Council.)

"Referred to the legal voters of Tillamook City by the Common Council.
 Shall ordinance No. 238 to amend the Charter of Tillamook City be enacted? (Changes present provisions of Charter by removing Recorder and Marshal from list of officers whose terms are for one year.)

"Referred to the legal voters of Tillamook City by the Common Council.
 Shall ordinance No. 239 to amend the charter of Tillamook City be enacted? (Repeals present obsolete charter provisions for assessment by City Recorder, collection of taxes, equalization etc.; Repeals Water Commission Act of 1906 and substitutes new provisions for Water Commission, the principal change being the reduction of the number of Commissioners from ten to five, in other respects the original provisions are substantially reenacted.)

Which election will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning and will continue until 4 o'clock in the afternoon of said day.
 Dated this 5th day of April, 1912.

 L. T. B. Handley, City Recorder of Tillamook City, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the notice of election given for a special election to be held in said city on April 12th, 1912, and that the respective ordinances named therein as set out in said notice and as published in said notice, have been by me compared with the originals of said ordinances and that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the originals of said ordinances and of the whole thereof.

Witness my hand and official seal as City Recorder this April 5th, 1912.

T. B. HANDLEY,
 City Recorder of Tillamook City, Oregon.

W. C. WINSLOW,
 Candidate for District Attorney at Republican Primary April 19th.

To the Republican voters of Tillamook County.

I have had the honor of serving you in the capacity of Acting District Attorney for two terms of your Circuit Court; the April terms of 1910 and 1911. I invite you to inspect my record made at these times, and if it is satisfactory I ask your support. Almost enough money was taken into the County Treasury, through fines, to pay the entire expense of conducting the whole term. If you want lower taxes again I ask your support and will appreciate anything that you may do in my behalf most highly.

A Mother's Car.
 A careful mother will not give her child a medicine without knowing it is pure, contains no opiates, and has healing and curative qualities. Such a medicine is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, and all other affections of the throat, chest, and lungs. Best and safest for children and grown persons. Contains no opiates. Chas. I. Clough Co.

Mayor James C. Dahlman, Omaha, Neb., often called the "Cow Boy Mayor," writes of the benefit derived from Foley Kidney Pills and says, "I have taken Foley Kidney Pills and they have given me a great deal of relief, so I cheerfully recommend them." Chas. I. Clough Co.

You will look a good while before you find a better medicine for coughs and colds than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only gives relief—it cures. Try it when you have a cough or cold, and you are certain to be pleased with the prompt cure which it will effect. For sale by all dealers.

Don't be surprised if you have an attack of rheumatism this spring. Just rub the affected parts freely with Chamberlain's Liniment and it will soon disappear. Sold by all dealers.

C. L. Parsons, Sec'y and Treas. of the C. H. Ward Drug Co., Pasadena, Calif., writes: "We have sold and recommended Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for years. We believe it to be one of the most efficient expectorants on the market. Containing no opiates or narcotics it can be given freely to children. Enough of this remedy can be taken to relieve a cold as it has no nauseating results and does not interfere with digestion." Chas. I. Clough Co.

A RAZOR PROOF SNAIL.

It Strolled the Entire Length of the Blade's Keen Edge.

"When photographing a snail," writes Professor Ward in the London Strand Magazine, "I was surprised of the fact that even the rough cut edge of a sheet of glass presented no difficulties to its locomotion. Its even pace was continued in spite of the fact that the sharp corner appeared to be penetrating its body. There we have exhibited the animal's delicate sense of touch, and this led me to make a further experiment.

"After I had placed the snail on the butt of a razor's blade it slowly moved along the back of the blade and then climbed completely over the sharp edge, the razor being in excellent condition. As the successive waves brought the fore part of its foot near the edge of the blade, its head was held low down, and the lower and shorter pair of feelers nearly touched the blade, as if feeling the way.

"At the moment when the sharp edge was reached the small feelers were fully extended toward it, and just at the very instant when I expected to see them cut off they were both instantly retracted. They were little more than a halfbreadth away, and, though the lower feelers possess no eyes, yet by their sudden movement I was quite convinced that the snail at that instant recognized danger.

"Still the foot traveled on, and slowly the snail dragged its whole weight of exactly one and a half ounces over the edge, later moving toward the butt and remaining perfectly unharmed. The species experimented with was the Roman or edible kind, which accounts for its comparatively large weight, it being the largest of British snails."

STREET CAR PHRASEOLOGY.

A New Yorker Compares Cultured Boston With His Own City.

"Did you ever think how much the temperament of a city is expressed in its street cars?" queried a New York man of an observant turn of mind. "I have just returned from a trip to Boston, and never before have the essential differences between that city and my own New York been so impressed on me as by my observations in the street cars.

"The first thing I miss in Boston is the familiar 'Step lively!' Instead I am exhorted 'Move as quickly as possible, please.' How could any one shove and push and crowd after that? "Once in the car I find myself still surrounded by an atmosphere of consideration and of correct English. In our own subway we are laconically ordered 'Use both doors.' In Boston we are requested, 'Kindly leave by the nearer door.'

"This atmosphere is further maintained by another sign in the car. The passenger is requested, the conductor is required, to name the value of any coin or note tendered in payment of fare. Can you imagine a passenger being requested to do anything in a New York street car?"

"At Dudley street station, the principal transfer point for suburban cars, there are large placards on every platform, 'Women first, please.' I must admit that I did not observe that these had any appreciable effect on the scramble when the cars came in, but it certainly indicates a kindly spirit on the part of the man who is responsible for the cards."—New York Sun.

Java's Boiling Lake of Mud.

One of the greatest natural wonders in Java, "the fire island," a large lake of boiling mud, is situated almost in the center of the plains of Grobogans, fifty "pails" to the northeast of Solo. It is almost two miles in circumference, and in the center immense columns of soft, hot mud may be seen continually rising and falling like great black timbers thrust forth and then suddenly withdrawn by a giant's hands. Besides the phenomenon of the columns there are two gigantic bubbles near the western edge which fill up like huge balloons and explode on an average three times per minute.

Inn Names in Germany.

Germany probably holds the record for out of the way inn names. Berlin alone can boast the Angry Louise, the Comfortable Lamb, the Cold Frog, the Dirty Parlor, the Bloody Bones, the Boxers' Den, the Four Hundred-weight Man and the Musical Cats, while a suburban landlord, whose house stands near a cemetery and is a popular "pull up" for mourners, has dubbed it, very appropriately, the Last Tear.

Again?

A young English attaché of the legation in Washington remarked to an American belle some years ago: "I am really sorry that the Bering sea affair is not likely to be amicably adjusted, for, of course, with our superior navy, we could just wipe you off the face of the earth."

She replied with one word, "Again?"

Mutual Corrections.

Slow.

"Myra, how long has Joe Nevins been going with you?"
 "About eighteen years."
 "That seems an awfully long time."
 "Yes; I sometimes wonder if Joe's ever going to ask me to marry him."—San Francisco Chronicle.

LEE'S BURIAL CASKET.

Strange Manner in Which it Came When It Was Needed.

Mrs. La Salle Corbell Pickett tells this story connected with the burial of General Robert E. Lee. It seems that when he died at Lexington, Va., the North river, a tributary to the James, had overflowed its banks, and Lexington was cut off from all communication with the outside world. A warehouse was washed away and with it all the supplies contained therein, including all the coffins in the city.

"In this extremity," writes Mrs. Pickett in Lippincott's, "Professor Nelson of the University of Virginia was consulting with some of the other professors as to what could be done. In the midst of their dilemma two boys came up to them in a timid way, hesitating to approach the group of dignified strangers, yet feeling the necessity of imparting the information they were bringing. Each feared to be the first to speak and pushed the other on, saying:

"'You tell.'
 "'No; you tell. You saw it first.'
 "'No; you saw it at the same time.'
 "'Saw what?' asked Professor Nelson, who was a judge of boys, and perceived that there was something of unusual importance on their minds.
 "'Yes; saw what?' repeated one of his companions.
 "'Encouraged by the readiness to receive their tidings, one of them replied, 'A coffin.'
 "'We saw it,' affirmed the other.
 "'Yes; we saw it there upon the shore—there by the island.'
 "'On the shore—a coffin? Where?'
 "'Just about three miles from town. We saw it,' said the boy who had first spoken, 'Maybe nobody's in it. We was too scared to do more than see the outside and then we tucked out. 'Tain't never been used. It's bran' spankin' new.'
 "'I wonder if they really saw it or only imagined it,' said one of the gentlemen.

"Professor Nelson arose and turned to the boys, saying:
 "'Come and show us the way.'
 "'The boys led on and all followed, uncertain as to what they were to find, but trusting that in some way heaven had graciously supplied their great necessity. Along the river bank they walked until their two guides stopped beside a long closed box that had floated down the swollen waters in the great flood and drifted ashore. In the box was a beautiful coffin."
 They carried home the box and in that casket all that was earthly of the famous general was laid to rest in the college chapel.

Balks the Jail Breakers.

A detective was talking about jail breaking.
 "Down in Colombo," he said, "they have got a very good dodge against the jail breaker. It's simple too. Just bricks. You see, the Mutual jail at Colombo is surrounded by a very high brick wall. Well, the last dozen courses of these bricks are laid loose, without mortar. So when you try to escape you climb stealthily, hardly daring to breathe, up the wall, and with a sigh of relief you reach the loose course at the top and—clatter, crash, bang, clatter—a thousand bricks in the profound silence fall with a noise fit to wake the dead and a dozen warders rush out and you climb down slyly into their waiting arms."—New York Press.

Persian Pipe Bearer on Horseback.

A picturesque feature of Persian field sports is the pipe bearer, an important retainer who rides close behind his master, bearing the whole elaborate paraphernalia of the Persian water pipe down to the glowing charcoal suspended in a small brazier. If the party is a large one it will generally be found that some member of it is riding soberly along, pulling steadily at a large silver kalkan, or water pipe, the pointed base of the water bowl being securely supported by a strap fixed to the peak of the saddle.—Wide World Magazine.

Deserves a Medal.

Who was or is the greatest woman in all history? Two hundred school-teachers answered the question, and with enthusiasm and unanimity the judges awarded the prize to the one who made this reply: "The wife of the farmer of moderate means who does her own cooking, washing, ironing, sewing, brings up a family of boys and girls to be useful members of society and finds time for intellectual improvement."

Diagnosing His Trouble.

"I want you to tell me plainly, doctor," said the man with the fat government position, "what is the matter with me."
 "Well, sir," answered the old doctor, leaning back in his chair and looking at his beefy, red faced patient, "you are suffering from underwork and overpay."—London Answers.
