

BRIGHTEN-UP WEEK COMMENCE MONDAY.

An Appeal to Personal and Civic Pride of Our Citizens.

Several of our enterprising citizens suggested a clean up day, which was set for Wednesday afternoon of last week by the Tillamook Commercial Club...

Every body should and must help. Instead of each wife doing her Spring house-cleaning at different times, all will commence on Monday morning to "Brighten-Up" their homes...

MONDAY—All rugs taken up and beaten in the back yard. Curtains removed. Pictures taken off their hooks, and wood work and painted walls washed.

TUESDAY—Floors scrubbed. Worn floors painted with inside floor paint or varnished.

WEDNESDAY—Windows cleaned in every business and private residence. Clean or new curtains put up. Carpets put down, furniture replaced and pictures hung.

THURSDAY—Streets, alleys, back yard etc., to be cleaned up and mud and filth and the rubbish burned or carted away.

FRIDAY—Paint store fronts where needed. "Brighten-Up" all dingy houses with paint.

SATURDAY—Put the finishing touches on. The Mayor and City Council to make an official visit of the city to see that no dirty trash is left in livery barns, stables, and back yards.

If this isn't enough to keep you busy, there are lots of other things to do. But the housewife must try to perform all the work about the house herself.

If the outside of the house is weather-beaten and dingy get the paint-pot and brush busy. A nice light cream color, with brown trimmings, or a light green, with a darker trim, or some other harmonious combination will make it look new again.

Let's get together to make our city better looking. Let's boost Tillamook City. We can, if we all take part in the "Brighten-Up" Week, for it will soon become known that our homes are the best kept, our streets the cleanest, our citizens the most progressive, and our city administration the best in the State.

State. New citizens, new enterprises and new capital are always attracted to a clean and cheerful town.

Here's a fine chance to boost our city, and boost ourselves. Let us all work together to make "Brighten-Up" Week a huge success!

The School Bond Case. DEAR FRIEND BAKER,—In your issue of this date, in the publication headed "Walton makes astonishing allegations" and which purports to be an accurate account of the School District bond question, I am surprised to find some slight inaccuracies and knowing your reputation for operating a publication in which nothing but the truth is stated, I feel you will be happy to have me aid you in correcting an error of statement.

As I said, your reputation for conducting a paper wherein accuracy of statement is carefully adhered to, leads me to feel that you will thank me for enabling you to correct this unintentional misstatement.

Yours very truly, JAMES WALTON, JR. To B. L. Heals, County Treasurer. I hand you herewith One Thousand Dollars as a part payment and guarantee for the bond issue of School District No. 9 of Tillamook County, Oregon, in the amount of $35,000.00, which I hereby offer and agree to purchase for par, said bonds to bear interest at the rate of Five per cent per annum, and to be in the usual form and duly and legally in order.

The Oddfellows' picnic held on the anniversary day of I. O. O. F. at Mr. Bodylet's ranch proved a decided success. About 500 people gathered there and spent the day, everyone having a good time.

Miss Cecil Wallace, of Hemlock, is spending a few days in Beaver. Thun Bros. have sold their sawmill and will move away from Beaver soon.

[We may state for the information of our readers that the School Clerk sent out about 50 letters to the different bond buyers asking for bids and stating that the bonds would be sold about the 15th April. They were disposed of on the 18th.

Vosburg on Nehalem Bar. The tug Geo. R. Vosburg, while crossing in over the Nehalem bar on Friday stuck on the north spit and remained fast. She had towed the barge which was cut loose but drifted into the harbor. The vessel did not appear in any danger as long as the weather remained calm.

Captain Erickson had hoped that he could keep his crew on board the Vosburg, pending an effort to float her off at high tide, the wind rose and seas were soon flooding the Vosburg from stem to stern.

A large number of fishermen are assisting Captain Erickson and his crew in their efforts to save the vessel. The Vosburg was moved 20 feet at high tide Sunday, but did not come off the spit.

The steamer Geo. R. Vosburg, which is ashore at the entrance to the Nehalem River, is owned by the Wheeler Lumber Company of Portland, and was built for the purpose of operating from Portland to Nehalem.

During the 12 years of her existence she has been a money-maker and has more than paid for herself. At times she has had a passenger license, but generally not, although she was allowed to carry passengers without pay.

Germany's Industrial Life. The industrial life of Germany gives the impression of a great street crowded with heavy traffic. This traffic is formed of units, but all have a common purpose and direction, and it is well regulated.

A Tactful Request. Dobbiegh was a courted borrower, and what was worse, he seldom returned the borrowed articles. He had lent to Whibley's umbrella, for instance, for nearly a year.

Enough Said. He was limping down the street with one arm in a sling and both eyes in mourning. "What's the matter?" queried a friend. "Motorcar accident?"

Castles in the Air. "We keep our automobiles in the mirage," said Mrs. Blunderb. "That's where most of us keep our automobiles," returned her caller, with an inward smile.—Boston Transcript.

Scouting. Mrs. Howard—And so two of your sons are boy scouts? Where do they do most of their reconnoitering? Mrs. Howard—In our refrigerator.—Life.

Quite So. "Weren't you shy when the judge asked you your age in court?" "Yes, I was about ten years shy," said dear.—Life.

HEALING IN NINEVEH. Medical Science as it Existed in the Ancient City. The patient work of the archaeologist enables people of today to form a very fair idea of medical science as it existed in Nineveh 650 years before the birth of Christ, says the New York Sun. Of the 20,000 tablets taken from the library of Assurbanipal, the great king of Assyria, who conquered Egypt and Babylonia and established his subjects in the deserted cities of Samarra, hundreds deal exclusively with medicine and contain numerous prescriptions.

"If a man has colic make him sweat up and pour over him a decoction of hygieum and he will recover." "Or make him crouch down on his heels and pour cold water over his head."

Faith healing seems to be indicated in a prescription which runs: "If he is in a weak state, make him bend down, then raise his legs and say, 'May you get quite well.' Strike him also on the head fourteen times with your thumb."

Many prescriptions deal with the cure of a disorder which was very common at Nineveh and which seems to have been due to overindulgence in food and drink: "When a man is illious rub him with an onion and let him drink nothing but water and abstain from food altogether."

Among the medicines used by the physicians of Nineveh were animal olive oil, castor oil, slrup of dates, honey and salt. Fasting and massage were frequently ordered.

LAPPS AND WOLVES. The Deer Killing Brutes Get No Mercy From the Natives. The Swedish Lapps are said to be entirely with, by and upon their deer. A Lapp who owns a thousand deer is a rich man, but as tax is assessed upon the number of deer, he is inclined to underestimate his herd.

The most dangerous enemy to the lapp is the wolf, which can kill many deer in a night. A band of wolves can make a rich Lapp poor.

When the snow is deep and soft and it is announced that wolf tracks have been seen in the neighborhood of the deer, the swiftest runners on snowshoes prepare for an exciting chase.

The wolf may have a start of a mile or two, but the track it leaves in the deep, soft snow is so conspicuous that the hunters can follow it at their best speed. The wolf, though he may run swiftly, has but a slight chance of escaping his pursuers on their snowshoes.

Each hunter does his best to outrun the others, for the wolf belongs to the Lapp who strikes the first blow. It is soon enough to the wolf he gives it a heavy blow across the loins with his strong spiked snowshoe staff. If there are other wolves to be pursued he kills it outright; if not he disables it and waits till all the hunters have arrived before giving the death stroke.
