A Criticism of Evangelistic Usages by a Close Observer.

To the Editor Tillamook Headlight. What is the average evangelist and are we better or worse for his visitation? Gypsy Smith may be called the world's greatest evangelist, and his advanced experience and methods justifies the claim, yet it must be admitted the results of the services in Portland last fall was a great disappointment to the churches involved.

Then what may be expected from others who do live the consistent lives they claim or they would not so often figure in the criminal courts for going to unlimited extremes with whatever appeals to their sensational natures that have not depth enough to hold any good philosophy.

These itinerant species of the genus homo can attract a certain class of people with a plentiful gift of words of the cheap jack order, a sinister expression, a snivelling intonation, a sickly smile and hand shake that is almost a hog. Their discourse is usually lacking in cohesion as in common sense, punctuated with silly stories and saturated with morbidity. You can only secure happiness by being miserable. There is nothing healthy or educational about it.

People who have not much experience with such, imagine they see the workings of the Spirit many times when it is only the workings of suggestion on a negative, impressionable, hysterical or weak-minded people varying in different stages of hypnotism according to their temperament, for sad to say, it proves to be this oftener than anything else and people are carried into all kinds of fanaticism in the name of religion. The hypnotist can produce the same phenomena without any religion if unbiased experts cannot tell the difference.

It is hard for a convert to stay with such a shallow hot house religion, teaching they can make a sudden jump from the most wicked into a life of perfect holiness before the good christian who has been plodding along the way all his life. Such teaching causes much disappointment both to churches and preachers in the field who have been toiling long and hard, bearing the burden and heat of the day and then are often robbed of their harvest by such unworthy laborers. In these days of education, with no lack of preaching, it is wonderful an audience will listen seriously to such clap trap, much less have it foisted on sensible people as the world's greatest philosophy. Humbug is not any better for being clad in holiness or fanatical sincerity and the best interests of truth is not served if it should have immunity from criticism.

The Jews of old made a wiser decision than they knew when they said the workings of God would stay and whatever is of man will come to nought and the second condition be worse than the first. Trusting there are many good christian people in Tillamook fair enough minded to agree with this,

I am,

In one of the presidential primaries the minority claims to have come out on top, and in another no candidate received a majority. At this rate patent medicine politics will not last through the campaign.

Last year in Massachusetts the Democratic total vote was 214,000. In the presidential primary three-fourths of these Democratic voters were missing. Arithmetic men in that party find the straw awkward no matter how they handle it.

It takes five different aged whiskies to make Cyrus Noble---each one good in itself. But it takes blending and re-ageing to bring out the best in each---to "round-out" the flavor.

Why punish yourself with rough, high-proof, strong whiskey when you can get Cyrus Noble everywhere?
