Inspect, Investigate These-Two-Properties.

Keep your investment eye on SEAPORT ADDITION to Tillamook that your keen vision may be fully awake to your opportunities.

WHY?

For this property holds the key to the future water transportation of Tillamook Bay.

- For it has the command of the fresh water harbor.
- For it is absolutely removed from the destructive toredo belt.
- For it is the only harbor on the bay sheltered from wind and storm.
- For it has the natural fresh water empoundment for saw logs.
- For nature has provided the only adequate deep water channel for commerce.

For it is bound to be the second largest Commercial Port in Oregon within 10 years, and from an investment standpoint these strong factors mean much to you.

For it is the logical and geographical Point from which the vast timber belt of Tillamook County must be Concentrated for water transportation.

For it is in Close Proximity to Portland and its Vast Market advantages and should equal if not Surpass Portland as a Lumber Manufacturing Point within 20 years.

Putting up Fruit.

When putting up fruits, too much cooking makes the fruit dark and spoils the flavor. Have everything clean and whole, lids well fitted and any additional sealer, as wax, either paraffin or ordinary sealing wax, at hand. Have your preserving kettle, spoons, funnels, ladles, all ready. If not convenient to make jelly at the time, put the juice up as for beverages, and make the jelly later. Jams can be made of canned fruits, as well as of fresh, and in order to have the best of everything you must have good, fresh fruits, perfectly air-tight jars, and a dark place to keep them in—not necessarily a dark cellar, but the shelves may be darkened with cloth or paper curtains, or the jars wrapped in thick paper that will keep out the light.

Before putting fruits away in your cellar, see that the cellar is clean and well ventilated, with no bad or musty smells, or mold on walls or shelves.

For bottling juices some housewives say the corks should be soaked in cold, instead of hot water, but the hot water is safe, and swells the cork more thoroughly than the cold. Have good, fine grained, clean corks.

Where fruits are scarce and wild grapes are plentiful, the grapes while green lend themselves admirably to many ways of "putting up." They may be canned, made into jam, jellies, chutney, catsup, or marmalade. They usually have an excellent flavor, if well made.

Where wild fruits are abundant and jars and sugar scarce, many kinds may be dried, and when cooked are very palatable. These have the merit of being easily kept and inexpensive. The berries and soft fruits will all dry nicely and be very palatable either in sauces or in pies or puddings.

Fruit juices may be put up without sugar, and will keep well, if everything is thoroughly sterilized and the juice put up in absolutely air-tight bottles. If intending to put up juices, one should gather up the bottles of appropriate size and clean and sterilize them and put them away where they will have good care. New corks should be supplied, of the right size—a little larger than the mouth of the bottle, so they will have to be soaked in hot water to make them soft enough to force into the bottle, and when the bottle is nearly full, force the sterilized cork into the neck, leaving a little space on the top of the cork into which hot sealing wax is to be poured, to render the contents thoroughly air-tight. New bottles may be best, but any bottle, not cracked, or with flaws in it that may develop into holes, can be used, if it is thoroughly washed and scalded and kept clean.

China will try another experiment in socialism under the leadership of Sun Yat Sen. The latter has evidently had a bad tip.

Every politician of note wants to be like Abraham Lincoln, but in trying to be like him not many of them use the real Lincoln method.

More battle ships have been ordered to Cuba and the presence of some may possibly be called for in Mexican ports. Two new battle ships a year is, but a moderate allowance.

Nine times out of ten there is so little contest for the vice presidential nomination that the conventions are glad to select an amiable rather than an aggressive candidate.

A Berliner can breakfast at home and dine in Vienna after an airplane flight at an average speed of nearly a mile a minute. Nothing phlegmatic about that.

Manufactured gas for heating residences is promised in St. Louis at 50 cents a thousand. The man who struggled with the furnace last winter is not only ready but anxious to be shown.

Texas Democrats in their state platform oppose the initiative, referendum and recall. Thus begins a diversity that is likely to prove astonishing at Baltimore.

One of Uncle Sam's new torpedo boat destroyers made a speed of forty land miles an hour on a trial trip. The trottlers are left far in the rear by this record of 1:30 on the sea shell road.

A Chicago judge announces that he will send to jail for six months any chauffeur who doesn't stop when he hits a pedestrian. Even this will be found ineffective. We must take our risks, that's all.

The long expected battle in Mexico has been fought and both sides are claiming victory. It is to be noted, however, that while the federals have been since advancing, the revolutionists make no higher claim than that they are advancing backwards.

The late king of Denmark had the advantage of beginning life as a poor boy. Two of his sisters, though princesses, were compelled, on account of limited family means, to make their own dresses, yet one became queen of England, and the other empress of Russia.

The department of Agricultural at Washington has just issued its 1911 Agricultural Year Book—a bound volume of several hundred pages containing much interesting information regarding agriculture, horticulture, stockraising, etc. Each Senator and Representative has copies of this book for distribution and any farmer can secure a copy by sending to one of the members of the Oregon delegation.

The rush to the divorce courts of St. Louis seem to be growing since the appointment of a divorce proctor in Kansas City has made the divorce atmosphere of that town less congenial than it was. The appointment of a proctor here would meet with public approval as well as that of a number of legal gentlemen who would like the chance of competing for the job.—Globe-Democrat.

Dr. Wiley has been sent to bed by his incessant care of the baby. There are as yet no symptoms of puerperal fever in his case. We trust that while he is abed Mrs. Wiley may enjoy those sweet delights so dear to the heart of a new-made mother. If the press dispatches do not misrepresent the doctor, he is a fussy puss in pants, disposed to rob women of their most sacred rights.

The Commercial travelers of Indiana, having made a heroic war against the tipping evil, and not having won a victory, are now resolving that "there ought to be a law" forbidding tips, under penalties for violation. But where drummers fail, how can any law hope to win? It is a hard case, and must remain so until we get back to where we once were, when people with more sense than money outnumber the people with more money than sense.
