Never mind the croaker. Cities are builded in spite of them. Enterprisers go forward and leave him barking by the wayside. He is but a buzzing fly upon the wheels of progress—pestilent and annoying, while he lives, but forgotten forever when he has departed.—Independence Enterprise.

The Tillamook Hose Company was out for a drill on Friday evening, and much to the surprise of the fire fighters, it was found that a number of hydrants were defective, as they could not be connected on account of the threads of the hydrants being of a different gauge to the hose.

Captain John Groat, who is in charge of the government work, received a message this morning that the money is now available and that work is to be started at once. There will be $5,000 to spend during the next twelve months, and Captain Groat will commence work at Memaloose point.

T. B. Potter Realty Co. vs. Lawrence R. Wheeler et al is a suit filed in the Circuit Court which is a condemnation suit to condemn a right of way for a pipe line and diverting dam and small reservoir site, the plaintiff having tendered $100 for the same and asks judgment against them for that amount.

Notwithstanding that the government has put the post office on a paying basis, and at a time when $40,000,000 was added to the expenditure for giving the farming communities free delivery of mail, this is another progressive policy carried out, but not much talked about, by President Taft's administration.

Reed Bain, a graduate of the T. H. S. Class of '12, having earned a four year scholarship in Willamette University at Salem, left for that place Friday morning. Miss Mabel Goyne, a graduate of the T. H. S. Class of '11, left for the same place on Monday morning and will take up a course in music.

P. E. Rogers, former partner of the Rogers & Hoven grocery store will move to Aumsville, Oregon, near Salem, to work for Rosenberg Bros., former grocers of this place. He returned from the State Fair at Salem on last Saturday's train and reports a pleasant time while on the trip.

Judge G. H. Burnett, Grand Master of Oregon Grand Lodge, A. F. & A. M., was in Tillamook on Saturday to pay a visit to the local lodge that evening, to which the Bay City and Cloverdale Masons had been invited. The Grand Master complimented the Tillamook lodge in a splendid speech. Later in the evening luncheon was served.

Will Bodyfelt, who has gone to Pendleton with his wife, is acting as chaperone to Mesdames Small and Shrode. We understand their husbands are getting anxious, for there is no knowing what will happen to Will when some of those cowboys at the round-up find that he has more than his share of intelligent, nice looking ladies under his care. Bro. Shrode is think of taking the next train for fear he will lose his better half.

President Taft is going to issue an order to place all fourth class post offices under the civil service rules. This is another progressive move on the part of the President, for it takes that class of post office out of politics and will save the congressmen a good many unpleasant events when there are several aspirants scrapping over an appointment.

The Shakespeare Club re convened after the summer vacation on Friday, when the Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Homer Mason. There was a good attendance of members, the afternoon being spent in a social way, and the hostess served a dainty lunch. At the next meeting of the club the ladies will invite their husbands to the lunch, which will be served in the Tillamook Commercial Club.

At a meeting of the City Council on Monday evening, plans were submitted for a draw bridge across the slough, the cost of which amounted to $6,500. It was decided to build a less expensive bridge. Allen Page was appointed city fire warden. Clyde Clements made application for a renewal of his saloon license, and the only other business was to order in a number of new cement sidewalks.

A telegram was received to-day that Mrs. Mary Peckham, widow of R. D. Peckham, who died in this city about two years ago, died at Star, Oregon, last night, and the body will be brought here for burial. Funeral services will be on Saturday afternoon at the Christian Church. The cause of death was cancer. She was about 60 years of age and lived in Tillamook County for 20 years. She had been living with her brother, Joseph Stocks, since her husband's death, who will accompany the body to Tillamook tomorrow.

The fine weather of the past few weeks enabled the contractors for the sewer system and the hard surface pavement to make considerable headway, after such wet weather during the summer months. In about another three weeks, should the weather remain favorable, the work will be completed. The hard surfaced pavement and the large amount of cement side walk being put down, give the city quite a different appearance, and makes it look more up-to-date, like other progressive cities. Visitors who have come to the city the past few weeks are greatly pleased with the appearance of the city and predict a bright future for it.

Mrs. H. L. Buford, district manager of the United Artisans, has been in the county and organized assemblies at Nehalem, Bay City and Beaver. She was assisted in the work of organization by H. S. Brumhall, of Portland. The assembly at Beaver was organized on Monday evening with 20 members, and the officers are: Master Artisan, J. E. Trobough; Superintendent Sarah E. Bunn; Inspector, Emma Trobough; Junior Conductor, Laura Bays; Senior Conductor, F. K. Lyster; Master of Ceremonies, Howard Bunn; Secretary, Lena Bunn; Treasurer, John Hielmeyer; Warden, Carl Curl; Instructor, W. J. Gilbert; musicians, Della Heilmeyer and Oscar Johnson.

Charley Ray was in the city on Saturday attending the Masonic meeting. He is a staunch Republican, an admirer of President Taft, and does not see any necessity for a third party endeavoring to break up the Republican party. Mr. Ray was one of the progressive citizens in this county who helped to build up the dairy industry at a time when the Democratic party was in power, and had to buck up against the hard times when the industry was in its infancy, and having gone through those trying times, he is perfectly satisfied with the era of prosperity which we have enjoyed in this county, consequently he is a strong Taft man. He believes, however, that a large number of Bull Moose will see the mistake they have made and will eventually line up with and vote with the G. O. P.

Dr. Bowers desires to express his gratitude to the public for their patronage while here. A number of others have expressed a desire for the beneficence of osteopathy for their ailments, but because of the urgent calls he has received from old acquaintances to come to his Newberg practice again he will heed those calls. There are a number of other places, too, that have urged him and his wife to come and establish a practice, because of the beneficial effects on their friends and acquaintances by osteopathy as practiced by the Drs. Bowers, who are graduates of the Founder's College, at Kirksville, Mo. There are resident M.D.'s in those places too. To the many who have been his patients he extends his heartfelt thanks, more especially to the ladies, who, as a rule, have expressed themselves as supremely satisfied with the benefits secured, after a dozen or more M.D.'s had failed.

Agent Gaylord Resigns.

A. H. Gaylord, agent for the Southern Pacific in this city, has handed in his resignation, and the Auditor will be here on Friday to audit his accounts. This is a great surprise to the citizens, for Mr. Gaylord has worked early and late and under great disadvantages since he has been the agent for the railroad in this city. The cause of Mr. Gaylord's resignation is on account of the railroad refusing to give him assistance in the work, and he cannot afford to pay for it out of his own pocket, for he has been overworked the whole time he has been the agent here. The business men and citizens were well pleased with Mr. Gaylord, for he was always obliging, and it is to be regretted that the Southern Pacific is to lose such a good employee.

Municipal Corruption.

Some of our city officials and citizens were given some idea how corruption creeps into municipal affairs and the methods used by some of the monopoly corporations to bribe city officials. A gentleman connected with one of the bridge companies visited this city this week with a proposition to put in a bridge across the slough for the snug little sum of $6,500. Not that it would cost that amount, but after the "graft" money was paid out there would be a big profit in the bridge, anyway, if some of the city officials would boost for it. The foundryman was to be paid a nice little wad for not butting into the bedding, and everything looked lovely. But when the gentleman struck Honest John, the Mayor of the city, and gave him the hunch with a nice little plan where he could make a stake for himself, why, the mayor drew the gentleman out as much as possible. The bridge man thought he had got another cheap guy official and sucker to carry out his scheme. When the Mayor told him he would not like anything like that on his conscience and he would not be able to sleep if he took the "graft" money, the gentleman tried to smooth it over when he found he had tackled the wrong individual by saying that it was a confidential conversation. The fellow ought to be pinched, for it is men like this who often lead many an honest man astray who is elected to look after the people's interests and the interest of a city.

THE UNITED RAILWAYS.

The Road to be Completed to Tillamook City in 20 Months.

It seems to be no secret but a well established fact that the Hill system will be running trains into Tillamook City in about 20 months. The United Railways will be built down the Wilson River, and to expedite the work a large gang of men will be put to work building the tunnel at the divide on the Wilson river. The men will be kept at work the coming winter at the tunnel, and early next spring there will be considerable activity in pushing the Hill road to completion. There is also a rumor that the Southern Pacific will build from Sheridan to this city, the road coming down the Little Nestucca and through Cloverdale. It is stated that it will take two years to complete this connection.

Progressive Party Meeting.

A meeting is called for Tuesday evening, October 2nd, 1912, at 7:30, at the Court House, of the progressive party, for the purpose of effecting an organization.
