

Development League Formed

The Tillamook County Development League was organized at a meeting at the Commercial Club rooms in this city on Wednesday afternoon. Despite a small attendance considerable enthusiasm was displayed in the new body and the promoters of the movement predict great things from it. The following officers were elected: Charles Kunze, president; G. R. McKimens, vice-president; E. J. Clausen, secretary; Ira Smith, treasurer; S. G. Reed, Nehalem; Amos Vaughn, Bay City; C. I. Clough, Tillamook; Wm. Maxwell, Fairview; C. Ray, Cloverdale.

The first undertaking of the new organization will be the establishment of a demonstration farm in Tillamook County at which every farmer of the community will be free to come and study scientific methods of dairying. President Kunze, who has been devoting his energies to secure a demonstration farm for some time outlined a plan whereby the League would rent a farm and employ a competent dairyman, preferring one endorsed by the Agricultural College, to assume the management. The manager is to be given every opportunity to use the most approved methods and an accurate record of the cost of operation, and the net gain over the methods commonly used will be kept. Should the adoption of more scientific methods show a gain of only $10 per annum for each cow, it is estimated that the gain for the county will amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars. Several farms are under consideration for the purpose, any one of which, it is believed, will be self-sustaining.

The Bayocean Road.

A meeting of the business men was held at the Tillamook Commercial Club rooms on Tuesday evening for the purpose of discussing ways and means for building a wagon road to Bayocean. There was a representative gathering, with Mr. Chapin, representing the Bayocean interest. President Shrode acted as chairman. Mr. Chapin pointed out that his company was paying $6,000 a year taxes, and that the taxes amounted to $10,000 annually from the property owners in that vicinity. He stated that a large number of the lot owners will build cottages at Bayocean as soon as a road is built and that about 500 of their lot owners owned automobiles. They had spent nearly half a million dollars improving Bayocean and would put down six miles of hard surfaced pavement next year. Mr. Chapin said his company would stand back of the $5,000 subscribed and would do the dredging at 7c a yard. It seemed to be the sense of the meeting that the road could be built for about $35,000, provided that it was not built so wide, and as to convict labor being used there appeared to be a desire on the part of the business men to employ a crew, which would greatly reduce the cost of building the road. President Shrode on motion, appointed Deputy District Attorney Willett, Fred C. Baker, Wm. H. Tait and Attorneys C. W. Talmage and H. T. Bots, a committee to wait upon the County Court.

The committee and a number of business men met with the county court this morning and discussed the matter. It is expected that the court will adopt the viewers' report and declare the road open and should the property owners and business men decide to contribute some where near $10,000, it may be that the court will agree to appropriate a like sum next year. This will be discussed later, as will also the question of convict labor.

Temperance Meeting.

There was a large congregation at the union service at the Christian Church on Sunday evening, when the subject of temperance and city purity, were discussed. Rev. J. E. Jope, pastor of the church, presided, and the speakers were Rev. D. A. Mackenzie, of the Presbyterian church; Rev. J. E. Meese, of the U. B. church; and Rev. H. W. Kuhlman, of the M. E. Church. The first speaker, Mr. Mackenzie, took up the cigarette question and ably treated it from a eugenic standpoint, showing that the habit unfitted boys and men for the duties of life. Mr. Meese partly discussed the cigarette habit and liquor question and made some allusion to local conditions as not being satisfactory.

Mr. Kuhlman praised Governor West in his crusade against vice, and being a new comer here was some what surprised to hear that conditions were not what they should be in this city. Both Mr. Meese and Mr. Kuhlman were surprised to find that saloons were running other kinds of businesses and that rooms adjoining saloons were open for business on Sundays, which Rev. J. E. Jope declared was illegal.

Had Narrow Escape.

Ed Hildebrandt was seriously injured Wednesday morning while driving down the county road with a load of gravel, near upper town, when the horses became frightened and started on a dead run, making it impossible for him to check them before he over took a rig driven by Mrs. George R. McKimens with her parents. In his endeavor to avoid injuring them Hildebrandt tried to pass them at a narrow place in the road striking a telephone pole with the result that the wagon was overturned and the driver thrown out. One of the wheels went over his head and nearly tore off an ear; also cutting him in the face below the eye. He also sustained other bruises on his back and shoulders. He was quickly taken to Dr. Randle's office, where his wounds were dressed. It required five stitches to put his ear in place and three to close the gash under his right eye. At present he is improving as well as might be expected, but will not be able to go to work for several weeks at least.

The horses escaped uninjured but the wagon is considerably damaged. Had it not been for Hildebrandt taking a desperate chance for his life in avoiding hitting Mrs. McKimens' rig, by turning out of the road, it is quite probable that a still more serious accident would have resulted.—Nehalem Enterprise.

The Bayocean Port Case.

Judge W. Galloway has filed his decree in the case of Ed Blum et al, against the Port of Bayocean which is as follows:

"That the election notices issued and posted announcing the election at which it was attempted to organize the alleged Port of Bayocean, were insufficient in that they failed to correctly describe the territory to be included in the proposed port, and the territory over which the defendants are exercising the powers delegated by law to ports and to the officers of ports.

"That the said territory attempted to have been incorporated includes territory within three different water sheds, the waters of which are drained into three different bays, or estuaries, within Tillamook County, each of such bays or estuaries being separated from each other, each communicating directly with the Pacific Ocean, and each being navigable from the Pacific Ocean.

"That it does not appear that any fraud was committed in the election wherein it was attempted to organize the pretended Port of Bayocean.

"That the defendants have exercised and are attempting to exercise all the authority of officers of a port under the laws of Oregon without having any lawful right to exercise such authority.

"That the plaintiffs and relators are entitled to a judgement and decree herein pronouncing and adjudging that the said pretended Port of Bayocean has unlawfully usurped and is unlawfully usurping authority and power of taxation and administration in the territory set out in the findings of fact, and that the other of the said defendants have unlawfully usurped and are unlawfully usurping and exercising rights, privileges and franchises to which they, or either of them have no legal right to exercise; that said other defendants and each of them are attempting to hold and exercise public offices without having any right to the same; that the said pretended port has no legal existence and that each of the other defendants have no authority to exercise the powers assumed by them, or any powers whatsoever within the territory, and that the plaintiff and relators recover costs and disbursements of the said defendants and each of them."

Attorneys S. S. Johnson and T. B. Handley were the attorneys for the plaintiffs and Attorney Webster Holmes for the Port of Bayocean.

Gambling at Nehalem.

Two young men by the name of M. Peterson and Johnson were arrested in Portland for stealing a coat belonging to E. Womelsdorf, of Nehalem. It seems that after the young men had stolen the coat they packed up and left, taking the coat with them. Womelsdorf followed and had them arrested and brought to Tillamook by an officer. They had a hearing before Justice Effenberger on Wednesday, and the evidence proved that all three of the men had been in a poker game, and as Womelsdorf lost and would not pay the young men went to his room and took the coat as security until he paid what he lost in the gambling game. The justice dismissed the case and Sheriff Crenshaw swore out a complaint against Womelsdorf, Peterson and Johnson for gambling, and as they had all "peached" on themselves in the gambling game the justice fined each of them $47.50. Womelsdorf put up a bond to pay his fine and the sheriff brought the other two men to the city, who agreed to go to work and pay their fines in preference to going to jail and sweating it out at the taxpayers' expense, which showed that they have some honor and amount of respectability in wanting to do the square thing.

School Notes.

On the morning of Saturday, Sept. 28th, the gasoline launch Henrietta No. 2 left the P. R. and N. dock with about sixty High School people aboard, including students, members of the faculty, and friends of the school.

Every one of the crowd had one of those "clear across the face" smiles, for they were going to Bayocean. Only one thing there was to mar the happiness of any individual on that trip. Above mentioned thing was the fact that Professor Baker announced that the excursionists should leave Bayocean for home at a time not later than five o'clock P. M. This seemed like working a hardship on many of the "merry makers", as they would not reach the beach until nearly noon.

The "beachward" trip was spent in singing, yelling, etc., as is always the case on such occasion. At about eleven forty five the faithful craft under the control of the also faithful Captain Jenkins, moored herself at the Bayocean dock, and the picnics "hit" for the beach, and walked down to the Southern end of the Sand spit, their usual eating place on an excursion to Bayocean, and had a very bountiful and enjoyable "repast" prepared by the fair ones of the school. But during their lunch two familiar faces were not there, and yet they had been on the boat with the rest.

After an hour's pastime on the beach the party started off for the dock, from which place the boat was to leave at five P. M. A few minutes after the appointed time the boat left Bayocean behind and headed for Tillamook.

Of course the young men of the party saluted the hardy fishermen along the bay, but these men of great aquatic intelligence only grinned and resumed their work of setting or pulling in their nets as the case may have been.

About seven o'clock the launch landed at the Tillamook dock, and the tired but happy excursionists departed for their homes, willing to go on the next High School excursion, when ever that may be.

Last week a Freshman's meeting was called and the following officers were elected: Bruce Wade, President, Louie Atterbury, Vice Pres., Gertrude Ebinger, Sec. and Tres, and Harold Mason Sgt. at Arms. The Freshman class is the biggest as yet enrolled in the history of High School, the number being about thirty five.

Foot ball practice was started last Thursday, September 26th, but a very few members of the Athletic Association were present. The number of contestants for the team is increasing gradually, but owing to the late date that school convened, the boys should get out for practice as soon as possible and come out as regularly as possible.

The Juniors elected the following officers Wednesday: Estilla Goyne, president; Nellie Blanchard, vice-president; Irma Doerge, secretary; Edith Anderson, secretary and treasurer; Alice Perry, srgt-at arms. There being just five girls in the class they were all given an office. On the same day the Sophomores held a meeting and decided to purchase a blue and white felt class banner.

Perry De Lillis started to school Monday and is determined to make the team. A few more such fellows are needed. Manager Stam has written for two games with Hillsboro H. S. one to be played at Hillsboro about the first of Nov., and one at Tillamook on Thanksgiving Day. He is also trying to arrange a game with some out side school team for Election Day to be played here. Mr. Stam will probably secure a game with Sheridan H. S. or McMinnville H. S., to be played on or about the 12th of Oct., to be played in Yamhill Co.

A debate meeting was held on Tuesday evening for the purpose of ascertaining the number interested in this work. A goodly number were present at the meeting. It was decided to re-enter the State Debating League of which T. H. S. Debating Club has been a member for a number of years. T. H. S. has always been very strong in the debating sphere and no doubt will run some other school a hard race for the District and even State championship, as the last year's leader, Benley Stam is still in school and a large quantity of other good material.

"AMERICA'S FINEST FLOURING MILLS"
Costs more PER SACK
Costs less PER LOAF

AUTHORITIES concede that the FISHER FLOURING MILLS COMPANY has the most perfectly constructed, best arranged and modern equipped plant ever built in this country. It employs only the most experienced millers and uses selected Eastern Hard Wheat and choice Western Soft Wheat in producing

FISHER'S BLEND FLOUR

Naturally, it costs more to turn out this new, high-grade blend than it does to make simpler and less carefully handled flours. Hence, its price per sack is slightly more. Inasmuch as it is not flour, but leaves of bread that we eat, and as FISHER'S BLEND makes more loaves, in proportion to its cost, than does any other flour, housewives and others using it have the satisfaction of knowing that they are really getting more and better values for their money. FISHER'S BLEND costs more as flour, but it gives more, both in quality and quantity of loaves, and is therefore actually more economical to buy and use than are the cheaper brands.
