

COLONEL SHOT BY ASSASIN; WOUND GRAVE

Roosevelt Makes Address Despite Bullet Imbedded in Breast.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., 14.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt was shot in the abdominal region shortly before 8 o'clock last night while sitting in his automobile in front of the Gilpatrick House in Milwaukee, about to start for the Auditorium to deliver his scheduled address. According to latest accounts the bullet is imbedded in the muscular tissue and the wound is not serious. The attempted assassination and all its accompanying scenes were dramatic in the extreme. The would-be murderer was John Schrank, of New York City, a man apparently demented on the subject of the third term. He was captured and locked up.

Unconscious of his wound, Colonel Roosevelt proceeded to the Auditorium, and when his condition was discovered in spite of the protest of his physician, he made a stiffing address on the subject of his attempted murder. Weakened from loss of blood and at the conclusion of his speech he was taken to the Emergency Hospital where, after an examination by physicians, the nature of his wound was ascertained. It was not considered serious enough to compel a stay in Milwaukee, and at 12:30 A. M. he was taken aboard his special train on a slow run to Chicago.

ASSASSIN IMPELLED TO DEED BY DREAM.

Man Would Avenge Death of McKinley, Says Papers.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 14.—A written proclamation found on the clothing of John Schrank, the man who shot Colonel Roosevelt, reads:

"September 15, 1901, 1:30 a.m. In a dream I saw President McKinley sit up in a monk's attire in whom I recognized Theodore Roosevelt. The dead President said, 'This is my murderer, avenge my death.'"

"September 12, 1912, 1:30 a.m. While writing a poem, some one tapped me on the shoulder and said: 'Let not a murder take the Presidential chair. Avenge my death.'"

"I could plainly see Mr. McKinley's features. Before this Almighty God I swear this above writing is nothing but the truth."

Another note found in the man's pocket reads: "So long as Japan could rise to the greatest power of the world despite her surviving a tradition more than 2,000 years old, as General Nogi so nobly demonstrated, it is the duty of the United States of America to uphold the third term tradition. Let every third term be regarded as a traitor to the American cause. Let it be the right and duty of every citizen to forcibly remove a third term. Never let a third term party emblem appear in the official ballot."

"I am willing to die for my country. God has called me to be his instrument, so help me God. Innocent guilty. In German: 'A strong tower is our God.'"

Essentials of Good Paving.

The great growth of the good roads movement on this continent has brought the matter of paving material strongly to the attention of the public. The people demand better pavements than formerly, and municipalities realizing the importance of well paved, well kept streets, are much more exacting in paving requirements than they used to be.

What is demanded now is paving which will approximate as nearly as possible the combination of durability, non-slipperiness, noiselessness, resiliency or elasticity, dustlessness, easy drainage and economy. The pavements most in use are brick, granite blocks, and bituminous compositions. All of these have their merits and also their drawbacks. None of them approach the ideal pavement as closely as that which is known as bitulithic.

The brick pavement, for instance, is noisy, and must be laid with special skill and care to prevent, under the action of heat and cold, a heaving up or a settling down, leaving many cracks. Granite blocks are also durable but noisy and lack the quality of rebound. Wooden blocks, since the discovery of the creosoting process, have good wearing qualities, but become slippery when covered with mud or frost and require such large tribute from the forests that their use is disapproved by those who believe in the careful conservation of natural resources.

Bitulithic pavement, which is composed of hard rock broken fine, and a specially prepared bituminous cement, seems to solve the problem of paving approximating the ideal combination of qualities mentioned above. For ten years it has withstood the most rigid tests of usage and has so commended itself to municipal engineers that it has been adopted in over two hundred cities in the United States and fifteen in Canada. The many beautiful boulevards and avenues upon which it has been laid prove that it has a long appearance, and the fact that these thoroughfares are practically immune from the necessity of repair under normal conditions, proves that bitulithic has that staunch durability which means economy.—Vanconver R. High School Notes.

On Friday, October 12, Hon. C. Hawley, Congressman for the district and candidate for the election to office, addressed the High School and Eighth grade, a very interesting and able man. He compared different classes of iron workers, from the man who makes horse-shoes to the man who makes jewels for watches, with High School students and their work. That is the iron worker "pounds brains" into his work, the High School student who "pound brains" into his or her work. He also told several stories which were greatly appreciated. The Freshman class met last year to decide as to getting peanuts for the year, but no one seemed to have any idea to present so nothing was decided.

After a two weeks' delay manager Stam of the football team received a letter from Hillsdale High School management stating that they (H. H. S.) are willing to play T. H. S. two games of football one at Tillamook on November second, and another at Hillsdale on Thanksgiving Day. The offer was accepted without hesitation and preparations are being made for the first game. Last year Tillamook High defeated Hillsdale High School team by a score of 4 to 4, and combining Tillamook's additional experience with the weight of her line the game is quite probable of going in Tillamook's favor. But still it is best to be too confident. As a full team has not been out of practice, but with two games and a trip ahead a good bunch of fellows will beyond a doubt be out of practice from now on.

The Boys' Athletic Association met on Tuesday and elected the following officers: John Ebinger, president; Oscar Aschim, vice-president; Howard Lamar, secretary; Lela Harrison, treasurer; and Vera Stanley, Sergeant-at-arms. It was also decided to give an entertainment on the evening of Friday, November first, for the purpose of defraying expenses in case the attendance to the game does not bring enough money for that purpose. The entertainment will consist of two short plays, and a musical program. It will be given in the High School auditorium. T. H. S. has always been successful in entertaining an audience so there is no danger of their tending not getting their money's worth.

The Seniors will give a shake-up on Friday, October 18, in the old school building. High School students and particular friends will be invited.

The literary societies have resumed under the same name and with same members. About twenty new members were chosen at a meeting on Tuesday evening. The Eighth grade will not start this year, as there are enough High School students to carry the work successfully. The Ciceronian elected the following officers: Alfred Boginst, President; Stella Goyne, Vice President; Helen Stam, Secretary and Treasurer and also, Pianist; and Arthur Wallace, Sergeant-at-arms; Oscar Aschim, Sergeant-at-arms.

The Emersonians' new officers are: Benly Stam, President; Baine, Vice President; Fred Beals, Secretary and Treasurer; Alice Todd, Pianist; and Helen Lilles, Sergeant-at-arms. Owing to a slight misunderstanding of an Emersonian Critic was not elected. Verle Stanley was appointed Editor-in-Chief, of the Emersonian. Editor. The Ciceronian Editor has not been chosen as yet. The society has chosen their program committee, as the President has a loss to know who are best suited for the position. There being a large quantity of good material for the year the contest will be quite interesting if the spirit is kept up.

It is being rumored that Howard "Jerk" Lamar, the Sophies' president is trying to capture a hive of bees or rather one particular bee. The cause of the rumor being the fact that the above mentioned worthy gentleman has been covered several different times by various students, in the act of catching a certain young lady across the street. Ask Jerk, he knows more about it than we do.
