Editorial Snap Shots.

A vote for Roosevelt will help elect Wilson.

Some fellow wants to be hotel inspector with a nice little sum of $7,000 in salary and traveling expenses. Swat him when it comes to voting next month.

Don't be a bolter from the Republican party, and have the honor of staying by and saving the old ship, notwithstanding the attempt of the Bull Moosers to scuttle her.

As it is conceded that Roosevelt has no show whatever of being elected, Bull Moosers will be in a predicament, with Democrats and Republicans giving them the horse laugh, after the election. Better recant, gentlemen, before it is too late.

Single tax means double tax for every farmer. The outlook does not look bright, with the law tinkers endeavoring to force single tax on the state and the Democratic party, with the aid of the Bull Moose assistants, endeavoring to give the country another dose of free trade.

It is admitted in the East that there is no possible chance of Roosevelt's election, that he is down and out, and that the race is now between the Republican and Democratic candidates. It remains to be seen whether a sufficient number of Republicans will turn assistant Democrats to defeat the G.O.P.

We are publishing in this issue a list of candidates and the measures to be voted on at the election one week from next Tuesday. A good rule to go by in voting for or against the 37 measures is to vote "No" when a measure is not understood. It would not surprise us, owing to the abuse of the system, to find that a large number of voters will not vote or vote "No" on all measures.

One of the fishermen who attended the Republican meeting on Saturday said the fishermen those in the dairy business who on the bay were for Taft. "All that the cannerymen would pay was 30c. for each of the largest fish. Now we are paid 4c. per pound. When a large catch of 30 and 40 pound fish are placed on the scales it total up a big sum." Even the fishermen are content to let well enough alone and they will vote for Taft and the Republican ticket.

Voters are discarding the Bull Moose buttons and pins because they are "tainted" with trust money. Sure, it was the big trusts that helped pay for them. Roosevelt unwittingly made the remark that a man who wore a Taft button had a yellow streak in him, which was exceeding rude and out of place on the part of the colonel. But what about wearing "tainted" trust badges for the big trust companies?

When Governor Wilson and W. J. Bryan were not chummy politically and at a time when an endeavor was made to read Bryan out of the Democratic party, the New Jersey governor ventured the remark that the Nebraska should be knocked into a cocked hat. That is how the presidential pedagog would have disposed of Bryan had he the power. From the look of things President Taft has them all knocked into a cocked hat.

The disfranchisement of one third of the voters of California by the Bull Moosers is acting as a loomcrang on that party. Republicans and Democrats are driving home many nails in the coffin of the Bull Moose on account of that injustice. Even amongst a large number of Bull Moosers in that state it is now admitted that a political blunder was made in disfranchising the Republican party in California, for it is having a wonderful effect of causing a stampede from the Bull Moose party all over the country.

The trusts which furnished Roosevelt with the boodle to run his pre-convention campaign would, of course, come under the head of good trusts, or to be more correct, privileged trusts to fleece the people for subscribing so liberally toward the political pot. This is how the average voter sizes up the situation. Our Bull Moose friends are getting back where they belong since that have to confess that it was boodle furnished by the trusts which had the effect of boosting a third term for Roosevelt.

Lost, stolen or strayed, the devil that the local Bull Moose leader was going to give to the two old parties. No doubt a suitable reward will be offered by the president of the Bull Moose, assistant Democratic club. Peradventure, Bro. Henderson, he is dining with some of the crooked politicians and does not heed the call for help from this neck of the woods. Call louder, Bro., for peradventure he is taking a journey into a far country, or, peradventure, he may have gone to New York to pull the legs of the big trust magnates to obtain more boodle to run the Bull Moose campaign.

The snap shot man is not enamored with our new system of legislation, for we see many bad features connected with it. For instance, in class legislation. There are two bills introduced by labor unions to make eight hours a day's labor on state, county, school district and city work. To understand this more fully, persons engaged on road work or having contracted road or other work, no person is allowed to work more than eight hours a day. This may suit the labor leaders, but we do not think that country districts want them to butt into their affairs, and, besides, it is sure to raise taxes, for the taxpayers will have to pay the same amount of wages for the shorter number of hours.

The dairymen are becoming interested in the election. That is not to be wondered at. During the Cleveland administration good dairy cows were worth $15, and it was a difficult matter to get that amount, yet to-day the same class of cow is worth $75 and upwards. Milk sold for 50c. per 100 pounds. To-day the dairymen are receiving $1.50 and upwards. Yet in the face of this prosperity, there are are not content to let well enough alone and are going to vote for a change. There are quite a number of Democrats in this county who will vote for Taft, but, said a well dairymen in this office the other day, "I'm surprised at anyone connected with the dairy business in this county lined up with the Democratic or Bull Moose parties."

It will be noticed that there are a number of road bills to be voted on next month, some of which are conflicting. We are opposed to expending $12,000 annually for a State Highway Department and to bonding the State $1,000,000 annually for a few political pets hold down soft jobs and expend the money when and where they feel like it. There is only one bill road, in our estimation, that should pass, and that is No. 324. It places the power in the hands of the people in any county to bond for some specific work as recommended by legal voters after holding a road meeting in the district where the road is to be improved. When submitting a bonding proposition to the voters location, cost, grade, material, etc., must be contained in the notice, so that voters will know exactly what they are voting for.

All the prominent citizens of the country praised President Taft for his integrity and statesmanship in handling affairs until ex-President Roosevelt decided that he wanted to be president again. Then the politicians, who were backing the ex-president, with enormous sums of money subscribed by a few trust big trust concerns, began a campaign of abuse and mud slinging upon President W. H. Taft. The citizens who believe in fair play now see through the whole political plot to discredit the president with malicious falsehoods and base insinuations. No wonder that there is a gradual stampede from the Bull Moose party by those who were deceived by the malicious falsehoods circulated by politicians and with money furnished by a certain group of big trust companies.

Money talks, even in politics, and if money will buy the presidency, the big trust companies have been putting up big wads for that purpose, for they have not subscribed millions of dollars to elect Roosevelt for the fun of giving. No wonder that the bottom dropped out of the Bull Moose excitement so suddenly when the people saw who were the financial backers of the ex-president. Take some of the big subscriptions for the pre-convention campaign, four persons, as will be seen by an article in another column, gave $539,308. And this appears to be only a small proportion of the money subscribed by the "good trusts" for no other purpose than to rob the people later. It is as plain as the nose on a man's face, although they may not be willing to admit it, the Bull Moose party is simply the big trust party.

The effort to create interest in children's industrial fairs in this county did not meet with the success that it should have, nor had the young folks become interested in raising garden truck to place on exhibition, notwithstanding that they had been urged to do so. The fair in this city on Saturday fell far below what one would have expected, but as it was only a starter, it is to be hoped that next year's display will have more features of merit. The large attendance at the fair showed how interested the citizens are in them, but the children had not produced garden truck of sufficient merit and other things, and for that reason the fair was somewhat of a puny affair. We hope that interest will increase in these fairs and next year will see a wonderful improvement, for Tillamook City should have had the best fair. As it is Nehalem had the prettiest, nicely arranged industrial fair and floral display in the county this year, and is justly entitled to first honors; Fairview carried off second honors; and Tillamook City is at the bottom of the list. Next year we can all do better and let each locality strive to have the best industrial fair and flower display. We may say that Nehalem is not going to lose first honors if it can help it, and to west first place from them it will be necessary for each district to plan ahead for more attractive fairs.

THE BULL MOOSE "POT,"
Trusts Subscribed Big Sums of Money for Roosevelt.

"Daily disclosures of the Senatorial investigating committee," said State Chairman Moores, of the Republican committee yesterday, "make it necessary to revise former estimates as to exactly what it is costing to conduct the campaign for Theodore Roosevelt. Almost every additional witness that is called before the inquisitorial body reveals expenditures in behalf of the Bull Moose leader that had not been reported and accounted for. "Every day when a disgruntled politician or an indicted trust magnate testifies before the Senatorial investigating committee we are compelled to revise our estimates of the magnitude of the Roosevelt campaign fund. Those 'spontaneous uprisings' in the primary states last Spring put an awful crimp in the pocketbooks of the 'malefactors of great wealth' It was only a few short weeks ago that Senator Dixon indignantly declared that the Roosevelt campaign had only cost $160,000. Today nobody stands higher in the Ananias Club than Senator Dixon.

Apologies Come Daily.

"Every day an apology is due to some one of these apostles of reform for having underrated his devotion to the sacred cause of Progressive Republicanism. At first the indicated Ohio boss, Dan R. Hanna, was credited with a contribution of only $25,000. Last week he testified that he had contributed $177,000. Munsey, the head of the magazine trust and opulent holder of stock in the steel trust, has two grievances against the Taft Administration. Taft indicted the steel trust, and Taft tried to secure such an amendment to the postal laws as would compel Munsey to pay sufficient postage on his magazines to equal the cost of their transmission through the mails. The taxpayers of the Nation have made Munsey a millionaire by themselves paying the deficiency in the postage on his magazines, and he is naturally a little bit 'touchy' over Taft's interference in this profitable graft. Heretofore he has been credited with having contributed only $34,000 to the anti-Taft 'get even' campaign. In his testimony before the committee yesterday he admits having contributed $118,000 to the Roosevelt pre-convention campaign. Since then he has probably contributed as much more. When Perkins and Crane are given a chance to tell all they have done we will probably have to multiply by four or five the amounts of their respective contributions of $37,500 and $37,005.

"Tom Lawson, the Wall Street manipulator, has heretofore not been credited with any subscription. Yesterday he testified that his gift to the Roosevelt pre-convention campaign was $100,000. Here are four subscriptions, $144,308 from Bill Flinn; $177,000 from Dan Hanna, $118,000 from Frank Munsey and $10,000 from Tom Lawson, an aggregate of $539,308, already uncovered, with more to follow. Crane, Perkins and the Pinchot family have already been credited with $123,500 and if their subscriptions have been as underrated as were those of Flinn, Hanna, Munsey and Perkins, they may yet be credited with another $500,000.

"Spontaneous" Finances Big.

"It does beat thunder how much it takes to finance these 'spontaneous uprisings' in the 'primary states.' If Taft had indicted a few more thieving political corporations and landed their stockholders in jail, the campaign funds would have flowed into all the Bull Moose headquarters in sufficient quantity to have made all the progressive place-hunters in the country comparatively rich. Even as it is they have no reason to complain. As it is Taft has been taught a lesson he will probably remember all the days of his life. He has learned that all this insane expression on the part of the people to have the trusts punished is nothing but campaign bucombe.

"It is evident Bull Moosers do not want the trusts prosecuted. They will not stand for the indictment and the punishment of such eminent workers in the cause of civic virtue and progressive Republicanism as Bill Flinn and Munsey and Dan Hanna and Tom Lawson, not to mention George W. Perkins. For the reason why, go to the Bull Moose headquarters at Seventh and Stark streets. Is anybody in doubt as to why these fellows are contributing such enormous sums to the Roosevelt campaign? Who is being fooled—the people or the trusts? Are these trust magnates throwing their money into a rat hole, or are they simply making a good investment?"

Free Speech By Foul Mouths.

There is a foul-mouthed, indecent element in the city of Portland nightly insulting the decent law-abiding citizens and openly reviling the flag. They have sent representatives to surrounding towns and in the name of free speech denounce the efforts to remove them from the streets. In the name of our wives and children we ask your support and Vote for No. 370, Voters' Pamphlet.

THE BOYCOTT AND PICKET.

The employers of Oregon are not alone drivers, as is claimed by those who live by the sweat of their poor deluded victims. This fact is self-evident in any part of the state. The boycott and the picket are the representatives of a low order of intelligence, seeking by fear and the bludgeon force a bad cause. Remove the system by a Vote for No. 368. See pamphlet.

Good Men to Follow.

That the heads of our largest educational institutions are moulding the minds of our children and that we have confidence in their judgment is best illustrated by our support. We can with reason therefore advocate without hesitancy such questions as receive their unqualified endorsement. The following are friendly to the Equal Suffrage Movement:

- Pres. P. L. Campbell, University of Oregon.
- Pres. W. J. Kerr, Oregon Agricultural College.
- Bres. Foster, Reed College.
- Pres. J. H. Ackerman, State Normal School.
- Pres. Fletcher Homan, Willamette University.
