The Tillamook Headlight,

Editorial Snap Shots.

Let us all be thankful that we have a wide awake, progressive city and that it will continue to progress.

We must admit that the presence of the women at the city caucus gave the meeting a more respectable tone.

My, as it wasn't a Democratic landslide that struck the city councilmen on Monday, it was a freeze out, for only one was able to pull through the zero weather.

At previous city caucuses the atmosphere have been so laden with tobacco smoke that it was almost possible to cut it up into chunks. The men were polite enough not to turn their mouths into chimney pots at the caucus Monday evening because the women were present. One ardent lover of the weed not appreciating this curtailment, said, having taught the women how to vote we'll have to teach them how to smoke. He is not running for office, however.

There are plenty of good men who would make excellent city officials, but they have not the time to devote to it. The city affairs need attending to just as any other business, not left to one or two persons, and for that reason we want to see a live, progressive city council where one and all will devote the necessary time. It is a most unthankful job, and no matter who are elected there will be those, to use a common expression, who will want to turn the rascals out, for there appears to be an impression that directly a person becomes a city official he is filling his jeans.

Whatever may be the reason for turning down most of the city dads, we want to say a few words of commendation. They have devoted considerable time the past year to city affairs, in fact, there never was a council which put in so much time as the present council, and which had to attend to so many important things and caused the members to neglect their own businesses, for which they entitled to thanks from the citizens. It appears to be the spirit of the times for the people to want a change, and as that is what is wanted in this city, the councilmen, although some of them may feel themselves to be hurt, can console themselves that they have lost a thankless job.

From the interest taken in the city caucus it is plain to see that the women are going to play an important part in city government, and those who do anything to lower the moral atmosphere of the city or allow it to be done ought to be able to see the hand writing on the wall now that the leading women in social, club and church circles have the right of suffrage. A word of advice right here may not be out of place.
 Don't attempt any spasmodic moral crusade, for they have failed so often and no permanent good rarely comes of them.
 Work along practical lines to improve moral conditions and hold the Mayor accountable for the enforcement of law and the violation of the same. More will be accomplished in that way than in the citizens getting into a factional strife, which, if possible, should be avoided, for this is no time for the citizens to be fighting one another because they may differ one with the other how to handle the moral question. Probably there are those who will advocate forcing a fight along radical lines, and will persist in it now there are some prospects of increased strength in the moral atmosphere. Let the citizens reason together and not take the advice of those who are rapid partisans on either sides, especially those who think they can make this city a little heaven below by creating factional strife. Let the citizens get together and work along conservative and rational lines, and greater permanent results will be obtained in this way than in causing a lot of factional and personal strife to permeate the atmosphere when all should be pulling together for the business and moral uplift of the city.

When the effort was made by the Whitney Co., through the Port of Bay City, to gobble up all the territory and encircle Tillamook City within the Port of Bay City, they created a bitter resentment in the central part of the county, and if carried out would have caused a long delay and a stubborn legal fight. There are just grounds for righteous indignation when the people have to submit to such tricky and arbitrary methods, which they will resent at the first opportunity, for a fight between the citizens and the timber interests should be avoided, if possible. All that Tillamook City and the central part of the county are wanting is a square deal, and they are going to insist on it, and if the Whitney Co. and the Port of Bay City want to show a get-together spirit, which we are glad to say appears to be the motive now, there will not be the least difficulty in doing so. But the citizens are not blind to the fact that in the government project there is an expenditure of $60,000 for a channel which most everybody can see is to benefit the Whitney Co.'s land above Bay City, where there is no commerce whatever, while the citizens of the central part of the county, who have struggled long years to develop and improve the county, and where most of the commerce originates, there are those who want to clip their wings and other parts of the bay. This is what sticks in the crops of the citizens who have made Tillamook County what it is today, and if the timber men are wise and look at the situation in that light, they will have to admit that the sturdy settlers who are creating the commerce are entitled to harbor improvements first, not placed in a position where they are gagged and have their hands tied, for that is what it would do to the central part of the county if all the territory outside of the legislative Port of Tillamook is included in the Port of Bay City. However, we are glad that the Whitney Co. now see the injustice of forcing this through and a disposition to get together, for bar and harbor improvements are necessary before this can be turned into a bee hive of lumber industry.

Over 250 fatalities have occurred in air flight this year. In one important matter man has not succeeded in imitating the birds.

As the Democratic platform declares protection to be unconstitutional this question of organic law will become acute at the extra session unless the Democrats forget it completely.

Mr. Bryan suggests that ex-presidents should have oratorical privileges on the floor of Congress.
 That would have suited Andrew Johnson. As it was, he returned to the Senate where debate is unlimited.

Immigration is beginning to trouble the Canadian Government.
 Too many people from other countries are said to be moving into the Dominion. During the six months ending with September, 30, 273,000 immigrants reached Canada, and 90,000 of these went from the United States. This was an increase of 13 per cent over the corresponding period of 1911. Ottawa is beginning to be alarmed lest the aliens overrun the country. Their government there estimates that the census of 1921 will show that more than half of the Dominion were born outside of its boundaries.

With an outpost far to the east of the Mississippi, in Michigan, the territory which has equal suffrage now extends from Missouri's western boundary to the Pacific, covers all the states west of the Rocky mountains, and stretches from the Canadian border to the Gulf of California. The states—Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Washington and California, to give them in the order in which they adopted it —which had full suffrage for woman previous to 1912, were re-enforced by Michigan, Kansas, Arizona and Oregon as a result of the recent election. Thus in ten states women now vote for all officials up to and including presidents on the same terms as men.

We can understand the stress laid by Mr. Bryan upon a single term in the presidency. He put the demand for such a limitation into the Baltimore platform, and he may be depended upon to maintain a propaganda in Congress for submitting a proposed constitutional amendment to the states. He may even hope to have such an amendment ratified before 1916. More than three-fourths of the states will have Democratic majorities in their legislatures this winter. There is a Democratic majority in the House at Washington and enough Democrats in the Senate, acting in conjunction with the Progressives in that body who favor changing nearly everything that is, to put the amendment declared for at Baltimore squarely up to the Democratic majorities in the state legislatures at the beginning of the sessions in the early part of January. This is Democratic party doctrine, and one of the dubious delights of coming politics under Democratic party government is the certain squirming of Democrats in pretending to adjust the "abstract principle" to the "practical details." The attitude of the Wilson administration should be closely watched, because, with the federal patronage yet un-distributed, with the pipes still in the ovens as it were, the administration will be a powerful factor in the case.

A. J. Bailey, a P. R. Engineer Batesville, Ark., says: "I suffered with kidney and bladder trouble so bad I was unable to work. I had such severe pains in my back I could hardly get up. I tried several physicians with no result, but Foley's Kidney Pills have done wonders for me. I recommend them to all." Sold by Lamar's Drug Store.

men who formed the Ministerial Association at that time, for we highly respected them, and we know they felt conscientious in what they thought was for the moral uplift of the city.
 The snap shot man knew at the time that their action was not for the best interest of the city and we do not think it is giving the mayor and city council a square deal for a condition of affairs which a previous administration and some of our well intentioned but misguided citizens are responsible for. The facts of the case are these, the Ministerial Association was imposed upon by those who, for business and other reasons, wanted to defeat the opposing candidate and elect a candidate who has openly fought for the saloons.
 The snap shot man came to the conclusion at the time that it was only another strange coincident where the beer and the bible had joined hands and were worshipping in the same pew, which was too much for the snap shot man, who decided to take no part in a frame up of that description.

Official returns continue to indicate that the successful party is so far in the minority that it may call for a life preserver.
