

Advantages of a Checking Account.

I. Safeguarding Funds

Over ninety per cent of transfers of funds in business are made through the medium of bank checks, thus avoiding the dangers incident to carrying large sums about, and the risk of making the wrong change.

This method enables the business man or individual to keep his money safely in the bank, instead of on the premises or about the person, where it would be subject to hazard.

A checking account at this bank is a great convenience and costs the depositor absolutely nothing. To obviate handling the account at a loss the bank requires that reasonable average balances be maintained.

JUST THINK OF IT. A Four Hundred Dollar Claxton Piano Absolutely Given Away.

That advertising is now a science is again demonstrated practically to the buying public of this section by the wonderful advertising system now employed by the most enterprising business house of Mason, Pennington and Co., who are going to give away absolutely free to some one of their customers, on May 1st, 1913, the beautiful Claxton, parlor grand piano, which will be on exhibition at their store. The Claxton sells for four hundred dollars and is a high class instrument in every respect, guaranteed by the makers for ten years. Just think of it! A $400.00 piano to be given away! A few years ago if a merchant were to do such a thing he would be considered a fit subject for an asylum, but conditions have changed, yet in the face of the enormous sum spent in advertising the fact of Mason, Pennington & Co. giving away a $400.00 piano, is a stupendous undertaking and it clearly demonstrates their desire to be "always up and a little ahead" of the spirit of the times.

Every purchaser of $1.00 worth of goods from any department of their store, will receive a coupon good for 100 votes on the piano. The person presenting the largest number of votes to them on the 1st of May, 1913, will receive the piano absolutely free. No favors will be shown and every person will receive an equal chance. The reputation enjoyed by Mason, Pennington & Co. for "square dealing" insures this fact. We think the buying people will appreciate this extremely liberal offer on the part of Mason, Pennington & Co., and we predict a lively scramble for votes.
