TILLAMOOK CHEESE WINS.

L. W. Hiner and Andrew Christensen First and Second at Albany.

ALBANY, Ore., Dec. 20th—L. W. Hiner, of Tillamook, won the first prize for the best cheese exhibited at the third annual convention of the Oregon Butter and Cheese-makers' Association, which was held here this week.

By virtue of his victory Hiner receives a gold watch, offered by the Marshall Dairy Laboratory, of Madison, Wis., and other prizes. Hiner was only half a point over Andrew Christensen, of Tillamook, who, as winner of second place, will receive several prizes, as will the winners of third, fourth and fifth places.

At the Oregon Butter and Cheese Makers exhibit which was held at Albany just previous to the dairymen's meeting, Tillamook County carried off all these prizes.

L. W. Hiner of the East Beaver cheese factory took first prize by a score of 96, and received a gold watch from Marshall Dairy Laboratory, Madison, Wis.; also five barrels of Diamond Crystal salt offered by Monroe & Criswell of Portland; and five gallons of Arnold's Rennet Extract offered by Columbia Supply Co., of Portland.

At the Pacific International Dairy Association meet which was held in Portland last month Mr. Hiner, by an oversight, was not credited with a proper score. His cheese scored 44 in flavor, but in adding the points he was credited with only 41 points in flavor, which gave him a total score of 93 when he should have been given a score of 96, which would have tied him with Mr. Barber of Mohler for second place.

When the committee in charge discovered their mistake they sent Mr. Hiner a gold watch for which he won at Albany last week. Andrew Christensen of the Tillamook Creamery won second prize by a score of 94. I. W. Hiner, East Beaver, 96. A. Christensen, Tillamook, 94. Adrian Tinner, Fairview 94. Hugh Barber, Mohler, 94. Albert Schlappi, South Prairie, 93. A. J. Schmelzer, Red Clover, 92. Guy Ford, Maple Leaf, 91. H. M. Biberstein, Long Prairie, 91. Our next issue will give a criticism from the judges in regard to the deficiencies in the above exhibits. Chas. Kunze of Tillamook was elected to membership on the executive committee of the Oregon Butter and Cheese Makers Assn., for the ensuing year. Mr. Kunze made a hit at a banquet given by the association on the 18th by cutting and distributing a prize cheese exhibited at the convention.

Presbyterian Brieflets.

The Christmas tree and entertainment held on Tuesday evening was well attended, considering the stormy evening, and all who took part in the program brought credit to themselves and great pleasure to those who saw and heard them.

The attendance at the regular meetings of the Bible School at 10 a. m. is increasing each Sunday. Two new classes are to be started the first Sunday of the new year; one a young men's Bible class, and the other an intermediate boy's class for boys between 13 and 18 years of age.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will give a message appropriate to the season, having for his theme: "Are you treading a circular or an onward pathway?"

At 7:30 p. m. a union temperance meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church in which four churches unite. Rev. H. W. Kuhlman, Rev. R. E. Jope and Mrs. Thomas, will give addresses, and the Presbyterian choir will furnish special music. The general subject will be "Better Tillamook" and will be treated under the sub-divisions: 1. Institutions; 2. Citizens.

EVOLUTION OF THE PIANO.

From the First Crude Instrument to its Present Perfection.

In the beginning the piano was a harp shaped piece of wood, having two or three strings. From time to time more strings were added until the cithara was invented. This was an instrument in the shape of a capital P, with ten strings stretched across the open space. Many centuries afterward musicians conceived the idea of stretching strings across an open box. About the year 1200 this was done, and the dulcimer made its appearance, and the strings were struck with hammers.

For another hundred years or so these hammers were held in the hands, and then some genius invented a keyboard, which, being struck by the fingers, caused the hammers to strike the strings. This was called a clavichord, or keyed cithara, and from time to time it was modified and improved.

During Queen Elizabeth's time it was called a virginal and then a spinet, because the hammers were covered with the spines of quills, which struck and caught the strings and produced the sound.

During the period between 1700 and 1800 it was much improved and enlarged and was given the name of harpsichord. It was in 1710 that Bartholomeo Christoffoli, an Italian, invented a keyboard similar to the one we have now, which causes the hammers to strike the wires from above, and thus developed the piano.

During the last century the inventive genius of musicians the world over has revised and improved it until it has reached the present day perfection.—Exchange.

MIGRATION OF WEEDS.

How a Seed Ripened in Asia May Take Root in America.

Weeds migrate as well as men. According to the best authorities, there are already 600 varieties at least of weeds in New England that were not to be found there when the country was first settled. Within less than twenty-five years after the landing of the pilgrims one observer counted more than forty new weeds the Europeans had brought them.

Nature employs all sorts of methods for spreading life about the planet and does not seem to care whether the life is that of a weed or of a plant fit for human use. Indeed, it uses such unromantic material as old rubber overshoes for seed carriers, as many new weeds have appeared in a valley in Connecticut since a factory was established there that found use for such castoff things.

The overshoes come from all parts of the world. The cloth lining is torn out before the rubber is used, and from the seeds that have found lodgment in such an apparently unpromising place plants have grown on the dump heap, and their seeds have found fertile soil, multiplied and flourished. What a romance there is in the life of such a seed-ripened, perhaps, in Asia, trodden in the mud and carried on board ship on the feet of a passenger, thence taken to Europe, where it was picked up by the boot of an American, was finally dislodged in the oversea and found its germinating place in Connecticut.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Horn of the Unicorn.

The horn of the unicorn was reputed instantly to reveal poison in a dish by sweating blood, and great was the rivalry as to the possession of the finest specimen while this belief still flourished. Charles the Bold proudly paraded six, two of them eight feet long, two six feet, two five feet. According to Benvenuto Cellini, "the finest ever seen, which had cost 17,000 ducats of the Camera," was the one for which at the pope's command he made a design, "the finest thing imaginable, modeled half on a horse and half on an adoration." Coray speaks of the one at St. Denis as about three yards long, and Windsor had two of four ells. The real "unicorn" in many cases seems to have been the narwhal.—London Chronicle.

Igorote Craftswomen.

Though their tools are few and crude, the Igorotes are clever workmen. Some of their axes, spears and shields show a wild art all their own. The pipemakers, too, turn out pipes of peculiar and graceful design. One day I watched the women working in clay and turning out kitchen utensils. Two girls carried clay from a distant pit, while older women in the village worked it up. Shapely urns and bowls are molded from the plastic clay and set in the hot sun to dry. I did not see them bake any pottery. They called these vessels fangas.—Christian Herald.

A Girl's Pity.

"It was King Midas, wasn't it, who turned everything he touched to gold?" "I believe so." "Poor old fellow." "Why do you think he was a poor old fellow?" "He never could eat a pickle with his fingers."—Chicago Record-Herald.

'Twas Sneaky Thing to Do.

"At whom are you sneaking?" demanded the young lady of the young man who obstructed her path. "At school" replied the lady feverishly and hurried away.—Houston Post.
