B. N. Sproat and wife vs. J. H. Hathaway and wife is a suit filed in the circuit court growing out of a land trade in which the plaintiff prays for a decree that the conveyance by plaintiffs to defendants herein set out be canceled and adjudged void, that the note and mortgage executed by plaintiff to defendant be adjudged and canceled; that the plaintiffs be restored to their former ownership of the property in Washington county, and that the defendants be decreed to be the owners of the land in Tillamook County; that the plaintiffs have and recover from the defendants $3,020; that said amount be decreed to be a lien upon the premises in Tillamook county; that the defendants be required to surrender and cancel the note and mortgage executed by plaintiffs to defendants J. H. Hathaway; that they be required to execute and deliver to the plaintiffs such conveyance as may be necessary to re-vest of record to title to said lands in Washington County in the plaintiff, etc., growing out the deal to what is known as the Elmore ranch.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING.

Surplus Increased and Dividends Paid.

The Annual meeting of the stockholders of the First National Bank of Tillamook was held at their banking room Tuesday, January 14th, 1913.

D. L. Shrode was Chairman and C. I. Clough was Secretary of the meeting. The stockholders were very much pleased with the excellent condition of the bank under the new management. The old Board of Directors was unanimously re-elected for the ensuing year.

On the first of January the surplus was increased to $4,000 and a dividend of three per cent was declared.

A SHATTERED IDOL.

Young Americans of Tillamook Scramble for "Wet" Money in a Wet Street.

What a pity that tender little hearts should be blurred from beneath the 'halo of blue ribbon' by tainted filthy lucre rained upon them by anti prohibitionists as they marched without a leader through the streets of the city, parroting the cry of their teacher, i. e., "Tillamook dry."

Rehearsed in church and school were the children, to chant little prohibition prayers and sing little prohibition songs and march in parade heralding the "Battle Cry of Freedom" (from saloons) to the populace. But the leaders of the juvenile army were in the rear of the line of battle and the yellow streak was too wide to permit them even to rally the army against the volleys of silver fired at them by the enemy.

Nor did these noble (?) leaders pray as did George Washington, nor curse as did Napoleon as Waterloo closed in upon him, but the wail of Josephine was echoed by the Herald extra.

And like Niobe, who was turned into stone for her incessant weeping, by the gods, who became annoyed, these leaders should be made wise. But the arrows that rent the air were dimes, nickles and quarters and even larger coins, and instead of the enchanting twang of silver bow strings from the clouds that hovered above the city of Thebes, the music was the tinkle of real U. S. coin and the patter of "little drops of water."

And the kiddies, boys and girls in white were scrambling in the sloppy streets for tainted money and crying "Tillamook Wet."

Gentle reader, ask yourself is it right or fair to the children to be paraded through wet streets shouting the sentiment they know nothing of—that they are too young to understand?

Is it right to parade children without consent of the parents in any cause what so ever?

It's not the wicked people who do the most harm in this world. It's the good, well meaning, misguided who come silently as the Arab, and before we know it the mischief has been done.

These little children, too young to know what they were doing, were placed in position where they betrayed the cause they were taught to support.

"Lead me not in the way of temptation" seemed to have fallen lightly upon the consideration of those who sent the little ones to their defeat and put them directly in the way of temptation and caused them to desert a cause and take up the war cry of the enemy.

It was a real comedy from one stand point and tragedy from another.

When people resort to such means and drag little children into politics its time to appoint a special police force to clean up politics.

Respectfully yours,
JACK C. VERNON.

Cut the High Cost of Living.

W. H. Chayman, Winnebago, Neb., tells how he did it. "My two children had a very bad cough and the doctor's medicines did them no good. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and before it was all used the children were free and cured of their cough. I saved a doctor's bill for one 25c. bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." No opiates.—Sold by Lamar's Drug Store.

Escaped After Fifteen Years.

W. P. Broyles made a successful escape after fifteen years of suffering from kidney and bladder troubles. Foley Kidney Pills released him and will do just the same for others. He says: "They cured a most severe backache with painful bladder irregularities, and they do all you claim for them." Refuse substitutes.—Sold by Lamar's Drug Store.

His Stomach Troubles Over.

Mr. Dyspeptic, would you not like to feel that your stomach were over, that you could eat any kind of food you desired without injury? That may seem so unlikely to you that you do not even hope for an ending of your trouble but permit us to assure you that it is not altogether impossible. It others can be cured permanently, and thousands have been, why not you? John R. Barker, of Battle Creek, Mich., is one of them. He says, "I was troubled with heartburn, indigestion, and liver complaint until I used Chamberlain's Tablets, then my trouble was over." Sold by all Dealers.
