NEGLIGENCE IS CHARGED.

Commission Hears Complaint Against Railway Company.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 17.—The State Railroad Commission today received a complaint against the newly built Pacific Railway & Navigation Company, on account of the slides which have occurred along its line.

The communication signed by Captain R. E. Voeth of the Portland Press Club, indorsed by L. B. Davis, recites the plight of an anonymous young woman of his acquaintance who has been delayed in Tillamook County since December 23. It is charged that, as a consequence, she has lost her position and has been deprived of the opportunity to sell a valuable piece of property. This, it is alleged, is due entirely to a small slide obstructing not more than 50 feet of the line, and the railroad company is blamed with being delinquent in its duty, in not having its roadway in operation earlier.

While the Commission will give the matter a thorough investigation, the opinion is that the landslide would be considered unavoidable and, there would be no basis for legal proceeding against the road.

Moose Lodge Organized.

Tillamook Lodge of the Loyal Order of the Moose was organized last Friday evening with about one hundred and thirty applicants by S. W. Greene, national Director of the Moose, with the following officers: Capt. E. E. Jenkins, Director; C. M. Vidito, Vice-D.; John Keldson, Prelate; J. J. McCormick, Post Director; A. D. Case, Sargent-at-arms; C. Armbruster, inside G.; S. A. Brodhead, Sec.; Irvin Keldson, Treas.; J. Wing, Frank Hanenkraft and Jap Ranes, Trustees; Bert Stephens, Outside Guard.

Mr. Green says it looks as if they will put in at least 300 Moose in Tillamook as this is as lively a small town as he has been in in the state of Oregon. He says it beats Ashland with their 8,000 people. He sees more people on the streets in one pleasant day than Ashland in a week.

Burns' Anniversary.

The anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns, the Scotch poet, will be celebrated in this city at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Whitehouse on Friday evening, for which a suitable program will be presented consisting of Scotch songs, reading and customs.

Following is the program: Quartet, "Flow Gently Sweet Afton." Clarinet Solo, "Selections," Mr. Snodgrass. Solo, "The Red, Red Rose," Mrs. D. A. Mackenzie. Ladies' Quartet, "Annie Laurie." Original Poem, "The Highlander Abroad." Solo, "O Whistle and I'll Come to You, My Lad," Mrs. Mackenzie. Clarinet Solo, "Selections," Mr. Snodgrass.

Address, "Burns Among the Poets" Rev. D. A. Mackenzie. Solo, "A Man's a Man For a That." Refreshments. Closing Chorus: "Auld Lang Syne."

A cordial invitation is extended to one and all without regard to nationality to join in celebrating the birthday of Scotland's patron poet.

TWO MEN KILLED IN SECTION HOUSE.

Trees Fall on Building—Others Seriously Injured.

Early Wednesday morning between five and six o'clock, the section and bunk houses on the P. R. & N. near Enright were demolished by large trees falling across them, which killed two men and seriously injured three others.

The section boss, Will Conley and the track walker, Lewis M. Dudley with his wife and daughter occupied the section house, while the bunk houses were occupied by Japs who were working on the road.

The section house was about 600 feet from the railroad track at what was known as Miller's camp when the railroad was building, with a small creek between the section house and the track.

The day previous the Japs had shown some uneasiness, having gone to the boss and told him they were afraid to remain there, and it was their intention to have moved from there on Thursday. Mrs. Dudley had also become alarmed, fearing that the trees would fall, but her husband assured her they were safe and that they would get out of there when the trains would run again, which he said would be only a few days.

Early Wednesday morning, Dudley was the first to get up. Mrs. Dudley was in bed on one side of the house and her daughter slept in a cot the other side of the house. Conley was also in bed in his room on the same side of the house as Mrs. Dudley slept. It was while Dudley was building the fire and while leaning over the stove, which was in the middle of the room, when the crash came and the trees cut the house in two, but fortunately did not demolish the two ends. Dudley was instantly killed and Conley was injured, while Mrs. Dudley and her daughter escaped uninjured.

The bunk house occupied by the Japs fared worse, in which one Jap was instantly killed and two seriously injured.

Assistance was obtained as promptly as possible and a train sent to the scene of the accident. Dr. Hawk, the coroner, was notified and taken in a train to Enright to hold an inquest on the unfortunate men, after which the men who were uninjured, and the bodies of the two dead men were put on a train and brought to Tillamook. It was soon after four o'clock when the train reached this city. It consisted of a flat car and one passenger coach and engine. The bodies of the men who were killed were on the flat car. The first to alight was Will Conley, the section boss. His head was bandaged up, and although able to walk he was injured about the body. The next was a Jap who was also able to walk, but his arm was in a sling. These men were taken in charge by Dr. Boals who took them to the hospital in his auto. The most seriously injured was a Jap who had to be packed on a stretcher and placed in a drav.

Mrs. Dudley and her daughter were also on the train and were taken to the Todd Hotel. They were so poorly clad that Marshal Myers gave the woman his coat to wear on the way to the hotel. Here they were well looked after and suitable clothing obtained for them, as well as a subscription started to help them. Mrs. Dudley says that the Greeks who were working on the railroad stole $110 and a gold watch belonging to her. Her husband was 44 of age and they have three children, two being in Portland.

Dr. Boals reported this morning that the most seriously injured of the men was Will Conley, whose head is badly injured on one side, with a long wound under his scalp from the back of the ear to the forehead, while on the other side he has another scalp wound, which may prove serious. He has several ribs broken and other injuries. The most seriously injured of the two Japs was the one who was taken to the hospital on a stretcher, whose arm was seriously wrenched while the other Jap had a broken arm. The Doctor thinks they will all pull through.

On Friday evening the management of the Gem Theatre will give a benefit in behalf of Mrs. Dudley and her children.

ELECTION AT THE GEM.

An Important Event—"Who's Who and Why" of Tillamook.

You've attended the Convention, Mr. and Mrs. Voter, as have also your sons and daughters. Now, in as much as you've had a voice in nominating the vast number of candidates, it's up to you to support them. The ties of friendship are ties that bind stronger than the bonds of politics. Then why isn't it equally interesting to vote the issue of who's who and why, as well as why Tillamook should go "wet" or dry?

Nominees in the Gem Voting Contest.

- Miss Ruby McGhee,
- Miss Irma Hancock,
- Miss Laura Smith,
- Miss Cecil Kinnaman,
- Mrs. Hattie Green,
- Miss Winnie Wallace
- Miss Beatrice Harris,
- Mrs. Sophia McKinister,
- Mrs. Elsie Vidito,
- Miss Alice Burrows,
- Miss Ruby Anderson,
- Miss Vida Rogers,
- Miss Lola Hulls,
- Miss A. Trapp,
- Miss Ollie Case,
- Miss Fritz Bush,
- Miss Helen Beals,
- Miss Gladys Beals,
- Miss Mamie Bell.

The nominations close Saturday night, January 25th, and the voting begins in earnest Sunday night. Get your voting slip from the Ticket Taker as you enter the Theatre. Write the name of the candidate thereon and take it to the Grand Leader Dry Goods Store and drop it in the Ballot Box. The votes will be counted and bulletined at the Gem Theatre every evening after the second reel of the first and second show.

The prices at the Gem will remain the same throughout this contest except that children occupying seats other than those reserved especially for them, i. e., the three front rows, will be charged full price of admission.

For Sale.

Will sell at sacrifice the following household goods. All new, used but one month.

One Round Oak Dining Table, six chairs, three rockers, sewing machine, one bed, springs, mattress, rug, one heater, one steel range.

To-Night at the Gem.

Amateur night at The Gem. Program: Miss Dollie Wingrove, in a comedy recitation; Miss Violet Grimes, song, "Everybody's Doing It" rag chorus; Miss Reba Powell, song, "Circus Day"; Miss Gladys Roberts, song and dance, "Pony Boy." To encourage the young folks to develop talent the management of The Gem gives a first and second prize in the amateur contest. Three dollars as a first prize and two dollars for the second prize. First prize thus far has been easily captured by Miss Gladys Roberts in recitation, songs and dancing. Come on you little Tillamookers, be good fighters and stick to it until she finds an equal among you.

His Stomach Troubles Over.

Mr. Dyspeptic, would you not like to feel that your stomach were over, that you could eat any kind of food you desired without injury? That may seem so unlikely to you that you do not even hope for an ending of your trouble but permit us to assure you that if it is not altogether impossible, it others can be cured permanently, and thousands have been, why not you? John R. Barker, of Bartle Creek, Mich., is one of them. He says, "I was troubled with heartburn, indigestion, and liver complaint until I used Chamberlain's Tablets, then my trouble was over." Sold by all Dealers.

Dairy Lands for Sale.

161 acres choice dairy land, partly improved, good pasture, easily cleared, plenty spring water, no hills, no rocks. Dandy barn, good community, and market for milk. 12 miles from Salem and 2 miles from Aumsville. Will sell all or part. $90 per acre. Terms 1/3 cash. Rosenberg Bros., Aumsville, Ore.

Cut the High Cost of Living.

W. H. Chayman, Winnebago, Neb., tells how he did it. "My two children had a very bad cough and the doctor's medicines did them no good. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and before it was all used the children were free and cured of their cough. I saved a doctor's bill for one $2c. bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." No opiates.—Sold by Lamar's Drug Store.
