

A Valuable Faculty

Determined effort to save develop or strengthens a valuable faculty, namely, the faculty of drawing the line between necessary and useless expenditure.

Think of it: Isn't it usually the thing one is better off without that takes the money he should save?

Hence the double benefit of the saving habit: First, learning to deny one's self harmful indulgence; and second, acquiring a property through little triumphs over self.

Ask yourself now if there is any reason why you should not become a money saver at

The religious cantata at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday drew a large congregation, which was admirably rendered. Mrs. F. S. Whitehouse proved an excellent and impressive reader, and she was well supported by the choir and the vocal soloists, Mrs. R. A. Moore and Mrs. Emmet Bales. The cantata was "The Man Who Spoiled the Music," and portrayed one of those events in life where drink brings misery and poverty in the home when the head of the family is a drunkard.

Under the auspices of the Oregon Holiness Association, beginning May 7th, evangelistic services will be held in Tillamook by Rev. James and Stella Crooks, field evangelists for the association. Rev. Crooks has had several years experience as a missionary in Seattle, Wash., having had charge of The Life Boat Mission at that place. The holiness association under which he labors at present is an inter-denominational movement reaching all churches and classes of people. The place of meeting will be announced later.

Field Worker for Industrial Fairs, N. C. Maris, will spend the week, April 28 to May 3, in this County. He will visit the different localities with Supt. Buel, and an effort will be made to organize and thus insure industrial exhibits with prizes awarded to the winners, within the reach of every child in the county. Schools will be visited and mass meetings called for evenings. Every citizen interested in the welfare of the boys and girls of our county is asked to attend these meetings and assist in making this undertaking a grand success.

A special car, containing L. R. Fields, T. W. Younger, H. A. Hinchshaw and S. A. Stefer, officials of the Southern Pacific Co., came in on Wednesday. They were over the road for the purpose of making an inspection with a view of making some improvements. They spent part of the evening at the Tillamook Commercial Club and left next morning. Governor West has appointed M. J. Gersoni, of Nehalem, County Attorney for Tillamook. Attorneys Goyno, Willett and Clausen were also aspirants for this office, but as the governor and Mr. Gersoni were admitted to the bar together, he had the advantage of personal acquaintance with the governor. District Attorney Hill informs us that he has been notified by letter that a party in Eastern Oregon will invoke the referendum on this law, who claims that it is an additional expense on the taxpayers to give each county a prosecuting attorney. Governor West offered the appointment to Representative T. H. Handley in recognition of his valuable service in the state legislature, Death of Mrs. W. B. Honey.

We are sorry to announce the death of Mrs. W. B. Honey, which took place Wednesday evening at Dr. Wendt's hospital. Mrs. Honey had been declining in health for some time and was taken to the hospital to undergo an operation with the hope of saving her life. For several days she appeared to be improving and it was thought she would recover, her husband and family being greatly encouraged, but she passed quietly away last night.

The funeral will take place tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at two o'clock, the religious service being in the Presbyterian Church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. D. A. Mackenzie. She was a member of that church and was an active worker in the Ladies' Guild. During her residence in this city she made many friends, and she was a woman highly respected and beloved by all who had made her acquaintance.

Her maiden name was Effie Blanch Bond, and she was born in Iowa in 1884. She married W. B. Honey in Iowa in 1891, and had two sons, J. B. and I. T. Honey. Her father, sister and brother reside in Iowa, and another brother is in Colorado.

The bereaved family have the sympathy of the citizens in this hour of sorrow and parting, for she was a good wife and affectionate mother and friend.
