

Drowned at Nehalem.

Gordon Dugger, a brakeman employed by the P. R. & N. was drowned Monday afternoon in the southfork of the Nehalem river, several miles above Mohler.

Dugger was last seen alive by members of the train crew with whom he worked at about 3 o'clock on that day. He had his rod and bucket and was going fishing. Marks on the bank of the river indicated that he slipped off a bank about 15 feet above a deep hole in the river. The body was recovered Wednesday morning, after the river had been dragged for many hours by his fellow workmen. It was brought to Tillamook, where Dr. Hawk held a coroner's inquest. A verdict of accidental drowning was returned. Dugger had a certificate of deposit for $800.00 and almost $200.00 in currency on his person at the time of the accident. This was turned over to the County Clerk and will be given to his relatives.

Is Pennington Related?

A. A. Pennington, of this city, has received a newspaper clipping from a relative, and he is wondering whether he is a relative of Lord Muncaster and liable to become a titled personage of the United Kingdom and a member of the aristocratic House of Lords. The clipping makes interesting reading.

MUNCASTER SEEKS AN HEIR IN U. S.; ENGLISH NOBLEMAN, CHILDLESS, TRACES DESCENDANTS TO THIS COUNTRY; LINE ALMOST EXTINGUISHED.

By Orton Tewson.

(Special by cable to New York, and by leased wire, the longest in the world.)

LONDON, April 19.—Many years ago a branch of Lord Muncaster's family emigrated to the United States, and Lord and Lady Muncaster, who celebrated their golden wedding, are anxious to trace the descendants of the American branch.

The family name is Pennington, and it there are any Penningtons in America who think they belong to the family they might communicate with Lord Muncaster at Muncaster Castle, it is just possible that an American Pennington might place a claim later on the title, as Lord Muncaster has no children and his brother, the Hon. Joseph Alan Pennington, who is the heir, also is childless.

The title will therefore become extinct unless an unexpected claimant appears.

Lord Muncaster was born on Christmas day, 1844. He took part in the Crimean War. In the early days of their married life Lord and Lady Muncaster had a thrilling adventure in Greece, where they were captured by brigands. They were carried into the mountains and the brigands demanded a ransom of 30,000 pounds.

Lady Muncaster and the other women of the party were released, and it fell to the lot of Frederick Vyner, a brother of Lady Ripon, to arrange for the ransom, but as Lord Muncaster was married, it was agreed that he should go to Athens on the quest of cash.

At Muncaster Castle there is preserved a glass bowl given to an ancestor by Henry VI. It is called "The Luck of Muncaster," and there is a legend that while it remains unbroken the family will never want a male heir, so perhaps some American will help keep the bowl intact.

'Entered Into Rest.'

At Willamina, Oregon, Mrs. Amy I. Brown, wife of Thomas Brown, and daughter of Captain Charles Handley and Sarah Burton Handley.

Amy Jennina Handley was born in Tasmania August 29, 1845, came with her parents to Oregon in 1850, and was married to Thomas Brown of North Yamhill, December, 1863.

Of this union were born nine children, seven of whom were present at the funeral. Her husband and two children having preceded her to the better land. Those present were: Henry C. Charles H. and Thomas P. Brown of Willamina, Mrs. Lillian Riefenberg, of Portland, Ore., James E. Brown of McMinnville, Mrs. Edith E. Sillsby of Cottage Grove and Mrs. Mabel Elliott of Tillamook, Ore.

Of her own brothers and sisters living, are Mrs. Sarah H. Robinson of Yamhill, Ore., Mrs. Kate Burton Spencer, of Thatcher, Washington, Miss E. C. Handley of McMinnville and Mrs. W. H. Williams of North Yakima, all of whom except the last named were present at her funeral.

Beaver.

Last Sunday night, Rev. Bertha Peoples, of Salem, Ore., preached a very interesting sermon at the Beaver Church and asked the ladies and girls to meet her at the church Monday afternoon in interest of mission work. Probably thirty responded; an organization of thirteen was affected with several more in prospect: Pres., Mrs. E. L. Kinnaman; Vice Pres., Mrs. Jack Davis; Sec., Mrs. W. E. Godsey; Treas., Mrs. Henry Davidson; Sec. of literature, Mrs. E. Gilbert; collection, Mrs. I. W. Hiner and Mrs. S. E. Woods. The day chanced to be the birthday anniversary of Rev. Dora Young, who has been taking a vacation on her homestead this summer. Friends had planned to surprise her by the way of presenting material of a nice gray serge for a dress; also many good eatables for the table. Mrs. W. E. Godsey made the birthday cake and Miss Etta Godsey the birthday pie. Grandma Huston sent a large collection of choice flowers and Ralph Davidson a small bouquet. Mrs. Anna Ebberson, of Boulder, was present and did her share in making the occasion a pleasant one.

Brighton.

Mrs. Wm. Bulger, the manager of the boarding house, has removed from Brighton to her ranch near Vancouver, Wash.

A. R. Harrington is building on his property here, there are three other houses in process of building.

Nearly a mile of wide well graded street makes Brighton show up in fine shape for its age.

Digging clams on Nehalem Bay is a favorite pastime with the campers at the various beaches. Rowing and fishing on the little fresh water lakes, are added to the joy of sea bathing, and long rambles on the beach, and climbing mountain trails.

Moroney Town.

A visit to Matt Moroney's cabin, his tales of by gone days, his quaint old fashioned manners, and valuable information gleaned from his great store of local knowledge, is worth while.

Good Reason for His Enthusiasm.

When a man has suffered for several days with colic, diarrhoea or other form of bowel complaint and is then sound and well by one or two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as is often the case, it is but natural that he should be enthusiastic in his praise of the remedy, and especially is this the case of a severe attack when life is threatened. Try it when in need of such a remedy. It never fails. Sold by all dealers.

FROZEN COAL MINES.

The Way They Manage to Reach Their Fuel in Holland.

It was not until 1883, when Poetsch invented the "freezing method," that Holland's coal fields became of any practical value.

Where coal is encountered immediately under the solid rock there is a stratum of drift sand that contains great quantities of water. This condition of things made it practically impossible to build the shafts. The freezing method, however, has successfully solved the problem, and Holland now has a flourishing mining industry.

On the spot where the shaft is to be dug from twenty-five to thirty borings are made down through the drift sand to the solid rock in a circle five feet larger in diameter than the projected shaft. Pipes are then sunk into these bore holes, and through these is circulated by powerful freezing machines a chemical solution cooled down to below zero.

In this way the drift sand containing the water is frozen as hard as a rock after the freezing machines have been working day and night for two months. In this frozen cylinder of sand a shaft is then dug and lined from bottom to top with strong segments of cast iron securely soldered together with lead.—Chicago News.

ALLAH'S HUNDRETH NAME.

Only the Camel Knows It; Hence the Sneeze on Its Face.

The 999 widows of the mosque of Sultan Selim remind one of the ninety-nine names of Allah. These ninety-nine names, the Arabs say, are written in the palms of the hands of all true believers. The explanation is interesting, and even an unbeliever can test it.

The Arabic numeral 8 is written like an inverted V of the English alphabet. By holding up your left hand, with the thumb and fingers bent slightly toward the lines of the palms will be seen to take the form of a rough A1, which makes the Arabic figure 81. Placing the right hand under the left in the same way makes the figure 18 (18). The total is 99.

There ought really to be 100, but the hundredth is lost to every creature but one.

Why does the camel wear such a supercilious expression? The heavy pendulous under lip and the snarling curl of the upper give an expression of sneering contempt which can hardly be equaled in the brute creation.

No wonder. The camel alone knows the hundredth name of Allah, and he won't tell it.—Manchester Guardian.

Consider the Dew.

The question is often asked, Does the dew rise or fall? Dewfall is as admissible an expression as sunrise or sunset. In both cases the expression is at variance with scientific fact. Meteorologically, the formation of dew is not accompanied by motion in the vertical plane, hence there can be no question of rise or fall. Under certain conditions of wind, cloud and temperature variants dew is produced. Warm air charged with moisture comes in contact with a cooler surface. When in this contact the heat is subtracted from the air and the saturation point for that temperature is reached, the moisture, which in the air has existed as water vapor, is condensed upon the cooler surface at the point of contact. The dewdrop, also good English, although false physics, has no existence in the air, but comes into being upon the surface bedewed. It does not fall nor does it drop.—Harper's.

Like a Hen's Too.

The back to the solers know all about farming before they tackle it. But their hired men, having been born on the farm, are often silly about the real science of agriculture. Have you heard about what Danny Young's factotum told him about the new horse? No? Then listen.

"That hoss you bought has come," announced the servant.

"Ah," cried Danny; "I'm glad of that! Is he right?"

"Fine."

"How are his teeth? We must always look at a horse's teeth. Are his teeth all right?"

"Boss, his teeth are as perfect and sound as a newborn babe's."

"Fine! I have a bargain, by hen"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Lawrence Took His Time.

The dispute about an unfinished Lawrence portrait recalls a story of that painter's dilatoriness. The Lord Murborough of that time, after much letter writing about the portrait of his wife and child, said he could wait no longer. Lawrence pleaded for more time; he was well forward with the lady, but the baby wanted finishing; could he not have one more sitting? "My wife will be happy to give you another sitting whenever you like," was the answer. "But the baby is now in the guards!"—Dundee Advertiser.

The Quest of Health.

"I suppose you take excellent care of your health?"

"No," replied Farmer Courtisoul. "I tried every kind of medicine I could get hold of for awhile. Then I gave up and forgot about my health, and I've felt better ever since."—Washington Star.

"Man, how you do look! Why, you have a full beard."

"Yes; I have raised it for a birthday present for my wife."—Uk.

PRIZE ORCHARD,

[Non-Irrigated,

FOR SALE OR TRADE FOR DAIRY.

15 Acres, Half Mile from White Salmon, Wash.

Best orchard and country home in the Famous White Salmon Valley—Strictly commercial varieties—10 acres apples with peach fillers and 5 acres solid apples. Eight room modern concrete bungalow, new 26 by 40 barn, carpenter shop and chicken house, well and elevated tank (also spring water), piped to all buildings, electric lighted throughout.

This orchard has an immense growth of trees, they being the largest of their age in the valley. Peaches are bearing now and apples will bear after next year. This property has a very gentle south slope, with the best of water and air drainage. Elevation 800 feet. Soils: Volcanic ash and red shot.

This place will make an ideal location for anyone wishing to retire from active farming and still have a fine income. The buildings are very homelike and convenient.

The improvements are easily worth $4000, and the orchard $10,500, making an actual valuation of $14,000. I own 15 acres adjoining this and so can match a trade up to $28,000.00. Property is free of encumbrance. Will assume a reasonable amount.

This proposition will bear inspection and if you are interested write what you have and I will send photographs.

C. T. DEWEY, White Salmon, Wash.

The Range With A Reputation

Some of the Reasons Why

A perfect burner—absolutely dependable, every day, year in, year out. Built on honor, of the best materials.

Outwears Three Ordinary Ranges

The only range made entirely of charcoal and malleable iron. Malleable iron can't break—charcoal iron won't rust like steel.

Economical in Fuel

The seams of the Majestic are riveted (not put together with bolts and stove putty)—they will always remain air tight, because neither heat nor cold affects them. The Majestic even is lined throughout with pure asbestos board, held in place by an open iron grating—you can see it—and it stays there always. Air tight joints and pure asbestos lining assure an even boiling heat, saving one-half the fuel.

All doors drop to form rigid shelves. No springs. Malleable iron oven racks slide out automatically, holding whatever they contain.

The Great MAJESTIC Charcoal and Malleable Iron RANGE

—Just as copper reversely which heats like a tea kettle, though a proper pocket stamped from one piece of copper, setting against its hard lining of fire bars. It boils 15 gallons of water in a very few minutes and by turning a lever the flame and reservoir move away from fire. An exclusive patented Majestic feature. One eye sees down away with shoveling safety—ventilated pipe prevents flame from entering fire—each cup catches drips, never put in a range.

Don't buy the range you expect to last a life time "unsure, unsafe," or you'll be sure to be disappointed. Come to our store, and see the Great Majestic—have its many exclusive features explained—find out why the Majestic is the strongest, most reliable range where most ranges are weakest. It is the best range at any price and it should be in your kitchen.
