Plans for the jetty for the improvement of Tillamook bar have been sent to Washington, and as soon as these are approved and returned, bids for material will be called for. There is some doubt as to the rock in this county being suitable, and it is thought that the rock will have to be brought from the Columbia river, which will be a disappointment to those who have rock.
Eddie Glad, son of Erick Glad, is confined at the Beals' Hospital in a very bad condition with a sore foot. The boy had a fall several weeks ago, which resulted in a bruised heel. It has grown steadily worse, the doctor being compelled to lance it nine different times, the last one occurring Tuesday, after which he was too ill to return to his home, his father leaving him at the hospital.

We have to announce the death of W. G. Kelso, who was one of the early settlers of Tillamook county, who died in Southern Oregon from paralysis. He owned a dairy farm on the Wilson river and left here about ten years ago. He is survived by his wife and two sons, Arthur and Edward. Mrs. Kelso is an aunt to Homer Mason and Mrs. Albert Plank and the Tillamook Brothers of this city.

There is some agitation in the city in favor of the water rates being reduced, as the water rates here are more than double those of other cities. To prevent any disagreeable and unpleasant features arising between those who think they are paying too much for water and the Water Commission, it is to be hoped that the different persons interested will get together and settle the rates satisfactorily to all and to the best interest of the city.

It has been suggested to the editor that Tillamook County have a large exhibit of cheese at the State Fair at Salem this year. The idea is a good one. As this is a matter that is up to the different co-operative cheese factories it is hoped that they will decide as soon as possible and send a large display of Tillamook's famous cheese to the fair.
R. W. Hogg, of Salem, Superintendent of the Livestock Department at the Oregon State Fair which opens at Fair Grounds Monday, September 29th and closes Saturday, October 4, promises an exhibit far in excess of that of any former State Fair. There will be more breeds of stock and the number will be greater than at any show ever given in Oregon excepting in 1905 at the Lewis and Clark Fair in Portland. Buying and trading promises to be keen among those who will exhibit and competition at no time has approached what this year's show promises to be. The entries already indicate the banner year in the livestock industry.

Trains Discontinued.
The afternoon trains leaving Portland at 1:20 p.m. and Tillamook at 3:45 p.m., will be discontinued after Saturday, also the extra trains now leaving Tillamook Sundays at 9:10 a.m. and 2:00 p.m.

School Opens Monday.
The public and high school opens next Monday and the prospects look good for a good school year. There are quite a number of new teachers and the list contains the following: A. W. Buchanan, principal; R. U. Moore, assistant principal; the Misses Parker and DeBar and Mrs. Hansen are the other high school teachers. The teachers for the grammar school are: Mrs. Burge, 1st grade; Mrs. Leach, 2nd grade; Miss Gladys Beals, 3rd grade; Miss Eva Wheeler, 4th grade; Mrs. Dunstan, 5th grade; Miss Blanch Lucas, 6th grade; Miss Mary White, 7th grade; Miss Georgia Sours, 8th grade.
Will C. Will will be employed as teacher in the manual training department and Miss Emma Ueland will have charge of the domestic science for the ensuing year.

Is Willing to Work.
To the Editor Tillamook Headlight.
DEAR SIR:—In an article of your paper of the 28th Aug., which has just come to my hand, I would infer that you feel, together with the general taxpayer, that you have been somewhat imposed upon, or rather have made a bad financial bargain. Therefore to the same, actuated by a sense of fair play, and to prove my sincerity in not wanting to impose upon the taxpayers in general, I will make this offer:
That I will pledge my word, together with property valued at $100, under oath or otherwise, to any taxpayer or persons who see fit to assume the bond of $200, under which I am held, to appear before the court and stand trial for the offence with which I am charged, and will agree to reside in the city of Tillamook until such time.

Therefore, Mr. Editor, should you see fit to print the following offer in the hope that some person or persons might thereby save the county $75 expense, I will leave the same to your judgment. In the meantime I am ever ready to treat with any who see fit to assume the foregoing offer.
Respectfully yours,
E. HUMMEL.

Artisans Have Good Time.
The local assembly of the United Artisan Lodge entertained a number of the officers of the Supreme Assembly of that order from Saturday to Monday. On Monday evening the local members and their friends were in turn entertained by visitors. Monday evening's affair proved to be a most enjoyable one, many of the participants in the program possessing considerable talent.
The following program was rendered:
Piano Solo—Miss Lilian Guest, of Tillamook.
Vocal Solo—Mrs. Mabel Pettys, of Bay City.
Reading—Mr. Ivan Martin, of Oregon City.
Duett—Messrs. Ivan Martin and Harvey Hudson.
Vocal Solo—Mrs. Peterson, of Oakland, Cal.
Vocal Solo—Mr. Harvey Hudson, of Portland.
Reading—Miss Mills, of Portland.
Vocal Solo—Miss Leach, of Portland.
Vocal Solo—Miss Hazel O'Bonnell, of Tillamook.
Short addresses were made during the evening by H. S. Hudson, Supreme Master Artisan; C. L. McKenna, Supreme Secretary; J. W. Mills, Supreme Treasurer; and Mrs. Ella Watt, Supreme Instructor of the Order.
Early on Monday the visitors were taken in autos around the loop east of town and visited the cheese factories, and they all speak highly of Tillamook, its progress and future prospects.

Notice to The Public.
