Annual Meeting Tillamook County Fair Association.

The annual meeting of the Tillamook County Fair Association was held on Saturday afternoon at the Court House, when there was a fairly good attendance of stockholders. President J. H. Dunstan was in the chair.

The first business taken up was expenses attending the fair, the report showing that a balance of about $300 would be in the treasurer's hands after all the expenses were paid.

A vote of thanks to the Board of Directors was unanimously passed, for the able manner in which the Board had managed the fair with so many difficulties to contend with on account of the storm. A vote of thanks was also extended to the City Council and others who had assisted in making the fair a success.

In regard to the balance on hand it was decided to leave this to the discretion of the Board as to how it should be expended.

The matter of a Tillamook exhibit at the State Fair was freely discussed, especially as to a good display of cheese, it being the opinion of most of those present that this should consist of a car load, so as to make a good showing. It was also decided to have a vegetable display, both of which the Board will attend to.

The Board of Directors were elected as follows: J. H. Dunstan, Smith Elliott, Will Spalding, L. M. Kraner and Frank Severance.

The amount of stock disposed of and paid for amounted to $766.00.

Received for concessions, $163.50; received for advertising, $178.00 in booklet; amount collected at gate for admission, $502.70; total expenditure, $1,138.72.

The Board of Directors passed a resolution of thank to W. G. Dwight, Chester McGhee, John Brant, Max Klingner, F. W. Slock and the City Council for the free use of their property and streets, and to the band for the music; also to all who generously helped make the fair a success.

According to the secretary's report, the Tillamook County Fair Association book show, Sept. 17th, 1913:

Total receipts..... $1,576.40
Total expense to date... 1,374.02

Total..... 202.38

We thought at the time of the report to stockholders Saturday, that we had something over $300, as we stated at that time. There were other bills to come in, they are now in and they were more than we had estimated, so it leaves only $202.38. We think that it can be well spent in advertising Tillamook county by a good exhibit at the State Fair.

Monday Last Oregon Day.

SALEN, Ore. Governor West in a proclamation last night made next Monday "Made in Oregon Day." His proclamation follows:

"Whereas, one of the principal factors in the prosperity of a community is its manufacturing industries; and

"Whereas, an earnest effort is being made to bring home to the consumer within our borders the need and propriety of purchasing Oregon-made products, thus aiding home manufacturers and creating additional employment for labor.

"Now, therefore, in view of the foregoing, I, Oswald West, Governor, by virtue of the authority in me vested, do hereby proclaim Monday, September 15, 1913, as 'Made-in-Oregon day.'

"To make the said movement as productive of results as possible I earnestly request that on the said day the display of Oregon-made goods be made a feature by our merchants and manufacturers throughout the state and that the consumer, in making purchases, call only for Oregon-made products."

Gov. Blease of South Carolina is now beginning to attack religion. This may be a tactical blunder in his senatorial campaign, for many of the men most delighted with his advocacy of "hanging niggers" are convinced of the comforts of religion for such as truly love the Lord and all his mercies.

Tillamook Camp at the State Fair.

Mr. H. L. Jensen, Beaver, received the following from the Mayor of Fair Grounds, Ore:

Fair Grounds, Ore., Sept. 14, 1913

Mr. Dear Mr. Jensen:

Yours of the 10th is at hand, and I assure you that even though you people come a long distance you will stand an equal show with those right here within the grounds. It has always been a pleasure to look out for the Tillamook people. Have arranged so that you will all camp together in your old location opposite that cottage or a little to the east, in the grove. Two years ago a light was placed on that street. This to accommodate the Tillamook camp.

Your camp numbers will be as follows:

Wisdom avenue; 35—Woods J. H., Blaine; 37—Coulson, P. R., Blaine; 39—Moon, S. L., Blaine; 41—Jensen H. L., Beaver; 43—Hansen, N. P., Hebo.

Above are on north side of street and facing south. Odd numbers on north side and even numbers on the south side.

Your stalls are as follows:

If you see any of the above you can hand them a copy of the enclosed.

Hoping that you will have a very pleasant trip over and that you will be here and enjoy every minute of the Fair, I am as ever,

ALBERT TOZIER,
Mayor of the Tented City.

THE MAHOGANY MILL.

James Lick Made Good His Beasts When Scorned as a Sutor.

The story of "Lick's Folly, or the Mahogany Mill," has to do with the romance of the life of James Lick, the founder of the Lick observatory.

In early life young Lick fell in love with the daughter of a well to do miller for whom he worked. When he made known his love, which was reciprocated by the girl, the miller was angry and is said to have replied:

"Out, you beggar! Dare you think of my daughter, who will inherit my riches? Have you a mill like this? Have you a single penny to your purse?"

To this Lick replied that he had nothing as yet, but one day he would have a mill beside which this one would be a pigsty.

In 1854 the quiet, parsimonious James Lick surprised everybody by building a magnificent four mill near San Jose. The mill was finished within in solid mahogany, highly polished, and was furnished with the best machinery possible. He made the grounds about the mill very attractive and began early to set out trees both for fruit and ornament.

Lick caused his elegant mill to be photographed without and within and sent the pictures to the miller who had scorned him in his youth.

Nineteen years after Mr. Lick built his mill, Jan. 10, 1873, he surprised the people of San Jose again by giving it to the Palme Memorial society of Boston, half the proceeds of sale to be used for a memorial hall and half to sustain a lecture course.—Exchange.

FIERCE ARAB DOGS.

Easy to Put the Big Brutes to Flight if One Knows the Trick.

The village dogs of Arabia are a real danger to strangers, whom they attack on sight without provocation. By strangers I mean any one except their own immediate owners, whether natives or not, writes Lady Ramsay in the Sunday School Times. They are, as a rule, great, powerful brutes, often very handsome, extremely fierce and capable of defending the flocks from wolves and other marauders. I have often been told that when attacked by these ferocious animals the proper thing to do is to sit down quickly on the ground, when they will at once desist.

But for my part I never had the courage to try this plan and had never seen it done during all my years of travel till last year. We had stopped to rest and eat our lunch in a village old, and I was looking out from an open balcony and saw an elderly Turk coming along between some houses opposite.

Suddenly two huge dogs, barking furiously, dashed at him from an open gateway. Instantly he dropped to the ground in a sitting position. For a moment I thought he had fallen and expected to see the dogs on top of him. To my astonishment they turned and fled, their tails between their legs.

Before they could return, if they would have done so, a couple of villagers appeared, helped the old fellow to his feet and accompanied him out of the range of my vision.

Not Mysticism, but Mathematics.

Mrs. Madison, whose latest hobby is the psychology and the esoteric intelligence of colors, was deeply gratified when her husband admitted without urging that there might be something in her theory after all.

"Dawson put me on to it today at the farm," Mr. Madison confessed.

"Dawson?" questioned Mrs. Madison, amazed, for Dawson is the manager of her husband's stables and unknown among psychologists.

Mr. Madison nodded. "He says the bays eat more than the grays."

"Really?" It was a humble victory, but Mrs. Madison's face glowed with triumph. "How does Dawson account for it?"

"There are ten more bays than grays," said Mr. Madison.—Youth's Companion.

Going In For Methuselah's Record.

An ambitious new citizen, with the habit of taking literally the every day expressions of Americans, obtained a position as train caller at the Union station.

One day he had just called, "All aboard—rd for Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake, New Orleans, Cincinnati, Buffalo, Baltimore and New York!"

A man ran up to him and almost breathlessly asked, "I want the last train out for Cleveland?"

The perplexed caller exclaimed, "What, you should live so long?"—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

"Why didn't you?"
