County Court's Budget of Expenses for 1914.

The budget of expenses for next year, as prepared by the County Court, is a subject for discussion and careful consideration, owing to the continual increase in taxation from year to year in Tillamook County. In the first place we want to say that although we are heartily in favor of a progressive policy, it is well to go somewhat slow in undertaking too many expensive projects, especially in a year when the State tax for this county will take $75,000, which is a large increase over the preceding year, and with an outstanding indebtedness of $32,388.28. These two amounts are a heavy load on the budget, especially as the State tax jumps from $18,231.50, which was the amount paid this year, to $75,000 for 1914. It is a notorious fact that salaried officers and commissions are becoming too numerous, all of which help to increase taxation, and notwithstanding the introduction of what is called the Oregon system, which was to act as a salvation to the State, taxpayers find their taxes jumping skyward every year. The greatest expenditure is for county roads and bridges, estimated at $200,000, which we consider is none too much considering the great demand for more and better roads from all parts of the county, and to obtain them we believe it is the better part of judgment to economize in other directions, for it is the counties with good roads that attract home seekers and adds to the comforts of the rural population. We agree with the Court in straining every effort to give Tillamook County good roads. County schools, libraries and institute, amount to $45,450, not including special school taxes, which amounted to $36,413.00 more this year. One thing we object to here and that is the teachers' institute. There is no sense nor logic in closing up the entire schools of the county, at the taxpayers' expense, while the teachers talk "shop." The ill effect of this was seen last week in boys getting into trouble, when Oral Thayer accidentally shot Leo Doerge, for had school been in session this would not have happened. It will be noticed that there are some additions to the budget that the Court will have to provide for, viz., Widow's pensions, county veterinarian, sealer of weights and measures, scalp bounty, etc. We do not see the need of a sealer of weights and measures, unless it is to create a soft job for somebody. This should be part of the duty of the sheriff outside of incorporated cities and the police force in cities. It is also a question in our mind whether the widow's pension law will be abused and become a burden, for this reason, we do not think that it is right to pension a widow where she has sons, daughters or other relatives who are in a position to provide for her. Two items causing most discussion are $26,000 for a poor farm and expert advisory work and $32,000 for court house additions and furnishings. The advocates of a poor farm are amongst the dairymen who want to use it in connection with the experiment work and a county expert and a place to hold the annual county fair, and, from all appearance, have their approval. In regard to an addition to the court house, this took people by surprise because they were not familiar with the inconvenience and cramped conditions that exists there. Those who have business there have known for a long time that numerous improvements are necessary, and the County Court has a plan to accomplish this which it will submit at the meeting which is called to consider the budget. It seems that the budget is discussed in a spirit of fairness, the only question raised being as to the advisability of carrying a few items in the list over another year. The County Court is entitled to considerable credit for the excellent work done on the roads, and with $200,000 to be expended on roads, bridges, etc., this amount will make a wonderful good showing, yet it must not be overlooked that the eight hour law is making the construction of county roads more costly and another added and permanent burden upon the taxpayers.

Editorial Snap Shots.

It is reported to us that F. R. Beals will be put up for mayor. He has been knocked down for that position twice before.

It will soon be tax paying time again—as well as Thanksgiving. So let's be thankful for both events without registering a kick.

The "wets" are having a hard time in the cities which we call "dry," or we should have said they are having their legs pulled by the attorneys who are in need of a job.

The props from under the argument that the construction company would not be able to collect any thing for laying the pavement appears to be giving out.

A previous city council established a good precedent when a railroad asked for a franchise. It offered them the glad hand, and told them that a franchise would be granted whenever they had constructed the line and was ready to enter the city.

We were told that the citizens obtained "first blood." Did it ever occur to our citizens that if Judge Campbell's decision is affirmed it will be drawing the "first blood" from those who will have to pay for paved streets abutting other people's property?

Editors and the Bay City Examiner don't appear to hang together very long, not that they die off as readily as they skip off. The system of starting a newspaper to "fill a long felt want" is not what it is cracked up to be when there is not enough in it to satisfy the wants of the inner man.

The pupils of the high school should provide a little set of wings for "Wee Dolittle, Jr.," for he is too little to remain on this terrestrial globe any longer. When anyone can admire football and denounce dancing it is proof enough that "Wee Dolittle, Jr.'s," reasoning power and logic are exceeding little. He has rightly named himself.

Judge Campbell has decided the pavement injunction suit in favor of the citizens. But that does not decide it by a long way. It will go to the Supreme Court on appeal, and if a like decision is rendered there, then the suit to compel the city to pay for the pavement, not the abutting property owners, will be tried out in the courts, which will mean a long time before the case is finally settled. However, those who involved the city in expensive litigation have drawn the first blood.

Simply because the Mayor did not sign an ordinance at the proper time, the citizens who involved the city in litigation have thrown the burden of paying for the pavement upon the city. Well, that was predicted what would happen. No wonder that those who have paved street abutting their property feel happy on account of Judge Campbell's decision. But what about the property owner who has no paved street but who will have to help pay for the pavement?

We have no sympathy for professional and business men who get "stung" by advertising fakirs who drift into the city with directory and other advertising schemes. Having been worked so many times it is surprising so many bit again, only to be swindled and imposed up. The professional and business men would be saved a good deal of annoyance if they turned down advertising propositions by strangers until they had the endorsement of the Executive Board of the Commercial Club.

Governor West is getting the horse laugh again in threatening to declare martial law in a town this is peaceable and quiet. Florence took the wise precaution to rid itself of agitators, who went there to make trouble, and because they did so the Governor, as usual, went off half cocked and made all manner of threats and what he was going to do with the people who used the best of judgment in their efforts to keep their town peaceable. The Governor has surely missed his calling. His hot air, bombastic spasms don't carry any weight in Oregon. Perhaps, at this critical period, it maybe the Governor might do some good in Mexico with his hot air.

Is it a sin to dance and play cards? Some persons believe it is, but when pressed for a logical explanation why card playing is any more sinful than playing checkers, billiards and similar games, they fall back on the argument that gamblers use cards to gamble with, which is a pretty lame argument. Because one person plays cards for a little pastime and pleasure, and another person is a devotee at the gambling table, that does not justify anyone saying that card playing is sinful, any more than it would be sinful to receive money when the plate is passed around on Sunday, when some pillar of the church slips five cents into the plate and a gambler drops in a dollar. It is abusing card playing where the harm comes, and the same can be said of dancing.

The "Tillamook System" of raising the valuations of land in this county needs to be exposed. Here it is in a nutshell. Real estate agents obtain options on farm and other property for specified amounts. There is nothing wrong about that provided the real estate agent sold the land with a fair commission added or at the stated amount if the commission is to be paid by the owner. But here is where the real estate agent does the double-shuffle in a get-rich-quick scheme. He adds several thousand dollars to the purchase price, and instead of giving this to the person whose property he sold at an advanced figure, he puts it into his own jeans. Our attention is being called to cases where real estate agents have added astonishingly large sums of money to farms after being placed on the market. In this way a large amount of inflated valuation have been injected into dairying land in this county, which increases the valuation and taxation upon every dairy farm in Tillamook county. It may be that some of our citizens will disagree with us, but here is a sticker they cannot refute. When the price of dairy farms are sold on the "Tillamook System" plan, and farms valued at from $30,000 to $40,000 change hands with but a small amount of cash and a big amount of interest bearing notes, it is conclusive proof that the price of the farm is placed at the highest possible figure, and that sales like these have raised the valuations on other farms lands, giving them a fictitious valuation.

Declared War on Colds.
 A crusade of education which aims "that common colds may become uncommon within the next generation" has been begun by prominent New York physicians. Here is a list of the "don'ts" which the doctors say will prevent the annual visitation of the cold.
 "Don't sit in a draughty car."
 "Don't sleep in hot rooms."
 "Don't avoid the fresh air."
 "Don't stuff yourself at meal time. Overeating reduces your resistance."
 To which we would add—when you take a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. To accomplish that you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most excellent. Sold by Lamar's Drug Store.

Why You Need a New Range

Made in Three Other Styles
 Perfect Baker A Fuel Saver
 Body Made of Malleable and Charcoal Iron, Adding 30% to Life of Range

Great Majestic Malleable and Charcoal Iron Range

Outwears Three Ordinary Ranges

It is the only range made entirely of malleable iron and charcoal iron. Charcoal iron won't rust like steel—malleable iron can't break, and while the first cost of a Great Majestic may be more than some other ranges, it outwears 3 ordinary ranges.

Half The Fuel

The Majestic is put together with rivets (not bolts and stove putty) making it absolutely air tight, like an engine boiler. The joints and seams will remain air tight forever as neither expansion nor contraction can affect or open them.

Pure Asbestos Lining

In addition, it is lined with pure asbestos board, covered with an open iron grate—you can see it. No heat escapes—no cold air gets into the oven—saves half the fuel and assures perfect baking.

Movable Copper Reservoir

The reservoir is all copper, heated like a tea kettle through copper pocket (stamped from one piece of copper) setting against left hand lining of fire box. It boils 15 gallons of water in a jiffy and, by turning lever, the frame and reservoir—moves away from fire. This feature is patented and can be used only on the Majestic.

Improvement over put into a range—makes Majestic 30% stronger where other ranges are weakest.

Other Exclusive Features

It's the best range at any price, and should be in your kitchen.
