Mirabeau as an Orator.

No one, not even Talleyrand, could approach Mirabeau as a speaker, and. curiously enough, this violent, emotional man was, as orator, perfectly self possessed:

"During the debate on the disturbances at Marseilles the Right interrupted his speech with cries of slanderer, liar, scoundrel, assassin. He stopped for a moment and looked at the excited members who were bespattering him with their vile words: Alta Smith to E P Currey, mtg, 'I am waiting, gentlemen,' he said, 'for these amenities to die down.' Then he where he had broken off.'

His face, pitted with smallpox, was ugly, says the author of "Mirabeau," but his very ugliness, transformed by the play of his countenance, was marvelously turned into a source of power. When he shook his "terrible boar's head" he was terrifying and no man

Meerschaum and the Turks.

Meerschaum used to be considered Screaming Farce at the Guild a mere curlosity by the Turks, who had no other use for it than as a substitute for fuller's soap. The story runs that the Turkish ambassador at the 'A Show'' at the Guild House next Austrian court, in the eighteenth century, was a native of Eski Scheir. Wanting to help his city at a time of great poverty, he took a sample of this queer stuff to Vienna, thinking that the "Franks," as all foreigners were splitting farce. The country 'Dees- then called, might have some use for trick Skule' 50 years ago. A spec- it. The Germans were quick to see ial stage will be built for the school its utility for pipe bowls, but declared than a century has confirmed this judgment, for who has yet discovered any other use for meerschaum? For pipe making it is an ideal raw material. Here is a stone which is easily

The Scot's Consolation.

He was a frugal Scot, and when the collection plate came round he dropped Drew and Mr. George Hoskins; in a florin in mistake for the humble copper. Speedily discovering his mistake, however, he stepped softly down the aisle and requested the collector to give him back the coin, which request was politely but firmly refused. slowly back to his pew. "Aweel," he said, "it's a loss, but there's some sma' consolation in reflectin' it's a bad one. It might have got me into trouble anywhere else."-Pall Mall Gazette.

Constructively "She."

In a well known college for women where the faculty consists chiefly of the gentler wax a meeting of the academic council was in progress. Here and there a lone man sat islanded in the concourse of learned ladies. An chett, "Samantha" Pennington, amendment had just been proposed. "Where is the person who offers this Haltom, "Mariar" Severence, amendment?" inquired the president. "Who is she?"

Whereupon Mr. Flower, the popular young professor of a favorite subject, rose and replied deprecatingly, "I am she."-Youth's Companion.

Old Age a Paradox.

Dr. Lyman Abbott, discussing old age at a dinner in New York, smiled pensively and said:

Old age is not so sad as youth son, Parker, Uland. Gossip says deems it. Old age is a paradox. It some of their beaux have 'popped may be truly said that the best years of a man's life come after the best
