 County Judge Homer Mason informs us that he will not be a candidate at the primary election, as he contemplates spending a large amount of his time next year in California with his family. Mr. Mason has made a good county judge and is entitled to a great deal of credit for the interest he took in road and bridge work. He certainly has done some good work for the county. He thinks that Mr. Hare will make a good county judge, as he is careful and economical, and he retires from the race in his favor.

 "The Way of The World."
 The Dramatic Club are working hard to get this play in shape to offer to the people in the near future. The one now under way is very different from any that the club has attempted in the past, and they all feel satisfied to work hard in order to present this play in such a way as to show the delicacy with which such plays must be handled. There are some new faces in the cast in this play especially selected for the many different parts. Watch for the date. It will be offered at the Star Theatre.
 Later—The Way of The World will be presented at the Star Theatre two nights, Thursday and Friday, March 5 and 6. This is a great play.

SAFETY. SECURITY. SERVICE.

I. O. O. F. Hall Dedicated.

Over 500 persons took part in the dedication of the new I. O. O. F. Hall in this city on Tuesday, in the new building recently erected by the local lodge at a cost of $30,000, which is one of the new substantial structures in Tillamook City. The lodge room and other rooms are amongst the finest in the state.
 Large delegations of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs from all parts of the county attended the dedication. Circuit Judge W. Galloway, deputy grand master of the Grand Lodge of Oregon, conducted the dedicatory service according to the ritual of the order, assisted by Grand Marshal R. T. Monk and Grand Herald J. C. Holden, H. Crenshaw, John Aschum and R. L. Shreve, which was nicely carried out.
 Appropriate addresses were made by Judge Galloway and Attorney H. T. Botts, after which a banquet was served in the dining hall to over 500 persons.
 A great deal of credit is due the committee who attended to the arrangements especially to the Rebekahs.

His duties were to look after the property of the Mead estate, which was being cared for by the bank.

After his connection with the bank was severed Mr. Virgel devoted his time to looking after his own interests. His estate is estimated to be worth above $100,000.
 Three years ago he was stricken with paralysis. His recovery at the time was considered impossible, but he finally recovered from the attack. He had another attack about a year ago, but it was not serious. The message announcing his death contained no details. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Caroline A. Virgel, 324 East Thirteenth street North, Holladay Addition. He has a brother in Maine and a sister in Massachusetts. He has no children. The funeral will be arranged on the arrival of the body from Woods, which is 32 miles from Tillamook City. Mr. Virgel passed much time at Woods and became much interested in good roads in Tillamook County, especially in a road leading to Portland.—Oregonian.

Death of E. H. Virgel.

E. H. Virgel, a well-known pioneer and capitalist of Portland, died at Woods, Tillamook County, Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. His death was unexpected, although he was not in robust health. Mr. Virgel started for Woods last Wednesday alone over the protest of his wife, but he was in the best of spirits and felt able to make the trip. A message was received by Mrs. Virgel, his wife, announcing the death of her husband, and she started for Woods yesterday morning, and will bring the body to Portland for interment.
 Mr. Virgel was a pioneer miner. He was 85 years of age. He was in California in the early 50s, where he engaged in mining for several years before coming to Oregon. While prospecting on the Fraser River with a partner he accidentally found a gold nugget, which was the foundation of the fortune he accumulated. This nugget was the second largest ever found on the Pacific Coast.
 He came to Portland in 1861. For 27 years he was employed by Ladd & Tilton, bankers and W. S. Ladd.
