

BROWNELL'S PLATFORM.

Is Opposed to Expensive Commissions.

Hon. Geo. C. Brownell, Republican Candidate for Governor, issues statement to the people of Oregon, saying he will veto any bill compensating saloons and breweries, which might be passed by the legislature.

To the People of Oregon: Oregon City, Or., Feb. 14, 1914. I have waited with the hope that some of the numerous gentlemen who are candidates for governor in the Republican primaries and otherwise, in announcing their candidacy, would make some declaration as to how they stood upon the National Problem of the sale and manufacture of intoxicating liquor in the United States.

Reluctantly, after due consideration, I have concluded to become a candidate for governor upon this issue as the principal one of my candidacy. I take this position, that the intelligent opinion of all fair minded men and women is unquestionably that the liquor traffic, as now in use and force, is a menace to civilization, and is the result largely of crime, poverty, degeneracy and moral decay, to such an extent as to become a startling danger to the human race.

I also favor National Suffrage to the women of the United States. I am opposed to any and all Asiatics, such as Hindus being permitted to come into this country and into this state and competing in the logging camps and other avenues of work and labor with the laboring men now here.

I desire also to say that I stand irrevocably in favor of free press and free speech, and that if I should be successful in being nominated and elected governor of this state, I will see, so far as my power will permit, that no man or woman, rich or poor, black or white, shall be deprived of the opportunity of fairly and decently expressing themselves anywhere, in public halls, or upon the streets of cities in this state, as long as they conduct themselves in a lawful way.

matter by some of the candidates, although I used it as an argument on the floor of the state senate, for many years endeavoring to induce the legislature to pass a bill calling for a Constitutional Convention, so that the constitution could be amended giving the governor this power, as well as many other changes which were then vital to the interests of the people of the state.

I am opposed to useless and expensive kid-gloved commissions that are sapping the taxes and resources out of the people of the state. I am also radically opposed to the National administration in its wool schedule and wool tariff, which is a direct slap to the great sheep industry of the state of Oregon, and the country at large.

I also favor the abolishment of the fish and game commission as now constituted, but favor reasonable laws protecting game without so much red tape.

I will stand for the abolishment of the useless commissions, believing that the responsibility for the expenditure of the people's money should be fixed in such a way that the public will know just where and when and whom to hold responsible for the heavy taxes and expenditures. I therefore believe that the responsibility should rest with the governor, secretary of state and state treasurer, so the people will know who to exercise the recall on, in case it is desired at any time.

I favor separation of church and state in this state and nation. Sincerely yours, GEORGE C. BROWNELL. (Paid Adv.)

LONDON'S GUNPOWDER ALLEY. The city coroner, who commented upon the "funny" name of Gunpowder alley (off Shoe lane) and confessed that he had never heard of it, may nevertheless have heard of the poet Lovelace, who died in the alley two years before the restoration.

A CURE FOR HICCUPS. Fill a glass tumbler with clear, cold water and place on a table. Then let the patient stand where he or she can look directly into the glass and fix the attention about the center of the bottom of the glass for about a minute.

TO MAKE VINEGAR. Save the parings and cores of apples and put them in a jar with warm water enough to more than cover them. Set in a warm place for several days; then strain and add one pint of molasses to a gallon of the water.

DIFFERENT PROPOSITION. "What is the object of your society?" "To prevent gambling among women." "Nonsense. It can't be done." "Certainly gambling can be stopped."

AGREED. Wife—Do you know I have a very little mouth. In the glass it doesn't look large enough to hold my tongue. Husband (testily)—It isn't. —London Answers.

WOMEN WARRIORS.

One That Was Made a Heroine in Spite of Herself.

There are few countries that have not at one time or another had women soldiers in their ranks—either in disguise or openly accepted despite their sex. England, France and Germany have all had military heroines.

Another girl, Anna Luhring, only eighteen, was traced and claimed by her father after she had enlisted, but her captain refused to dismiss so fine a soldier.

A young dressmaker, Sophia Kruger, who made her own uniform before enlisting, won the Iron Cross for bravery. Maria Werder, a farmer's wife, served, undiscovered, with her husband and was promoted to be a sergeant, although she remained a private.

Her apron was tied to a staff and borne proudly at the head of the regiment. Men cheered her, the king praised her, and she sat at his right hand at a banquet. Later she married and was lionized by the fashionable ladies of Berlin.—London Tatler.

THE IDEA OF A TITLE PAGE DID NOT occur to the early printers. "The books started straight off with 'Incipit' or 'Here beginneth,' without author's or publisher's name. This causes much difficulty in attributing earlier works to the proper sources."

MATCHING PEARLS.

Oriental Believe in Sex and Affinity in the Gems.

Most brides are partial to pearls, and in some eastern countries no other jewels are allowed to figure among the bridal ornaments.

In Persia the notion prevails that the pearls themselves are susceptible of married bliss. Among the hereditary jewelers of the Persian court it is an article of faith that pearls have sex and that every one has its mate, its equal in size and beauty.

It is said that the great glory of the ropes of pearls given to Queen Alexandra by some of the princes of India was the perfect matching of almost all of the pearls.

Some readers may remember that the first whisper of coming misfortune for the beautiful Empress Eugenie arose when the news was spread abroad that her pearls were spotted and crumbling away.

AMERICAN TOURISTS when they visit Paris find unexpected difficulties in gratifying their desire for a bath. Conditions are slowly changing for the better, however, and some of the hotels have introduced bathrooms, an innovation brought about mainly to satisfy American demands.

Like most intimate affairs in France, the bath partakes of the nature of a public function. There is also a choice in the matter. The ambulance bath was one franc fifty a bath, or you got a season ticket for one franc twenty.

THE FOREIGN LADY'S bath is a sort of gala day for the neighborhood. If frequent, the event is discussed by the neighbors across the way.

EDWARD FITZGERALD was utterly careless of his fame. He lived to be an old man, yet not one in a million of his fellow countrymen regarded him as a poet, even if they had heard his name mentioned as an old chum of Alfred Tennyson.

HARRY returned to Sunday school, after a long absence, on the day on which tickets for the annual picnic were distributed.

OLD LADY (offering policeman a tract)—I often think you poor policemen run such a risk of becoming bad, being so constantly mixed up with crime. Policeman—You needn't fear, mum. It's the criminals who run the risk of becoming 'mints,' being mixed up with us.—London Punch.
