ABOUT HALIBUT BANKS.

Writing to J. O. Bozorth, of Bay City, in regard to the cod and halibut banks, Congressman Hawley says: "With further reference to your letter of April 21, I beg to say that investigation at the Bureau of Fisheries develops the fact and confirms my understanding also, that it is the present intention of the Bureau of Fisheries to extend their surveys of cod and halibut banks all along the Oregon coast to include the Tillamook Bay region as well as the region around the Yaquina Bay. The Commissioner of Fisheries advises me that the Bureau of Fisheries attaches considerable importance to this work and I am glad to know that they are so much interested in the matter for I have been urging just such a survey for about two years, when the matter was first called to my attention. The object of the survey is to determine the aquatic resources of these banks and to point out the possibility for establishing profitable fisheries thereon, and I hope this may result as it would mean such to our people."

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

Rev. Sam Bettis, introduced as the "Coyboy Preacher," held a union temperance service last Sunday night at Christian church. Uncle Sam, about 70 years of age, is the same pugna-cious preacher he was when, as he tells us, with his good right arm he "knocked out" five assailants in Texas years ago. With two women scratching him and ten ribs and his left arm broken and he still hits straight from the shoulder, when he fights, as he says, the devil sins of drinking and smoking by men and "paint" and modern clothes of the women, and as he hurled his oratorical anathemas at his large congregation many a "good" church member dodged to escape him.

Uncle Sam is a typical old-time evangelist and makes up in fiery earnestness what he may lack in rhetoric; all must give him credit for not being a hypocrite, although some may differ from him as to policy.

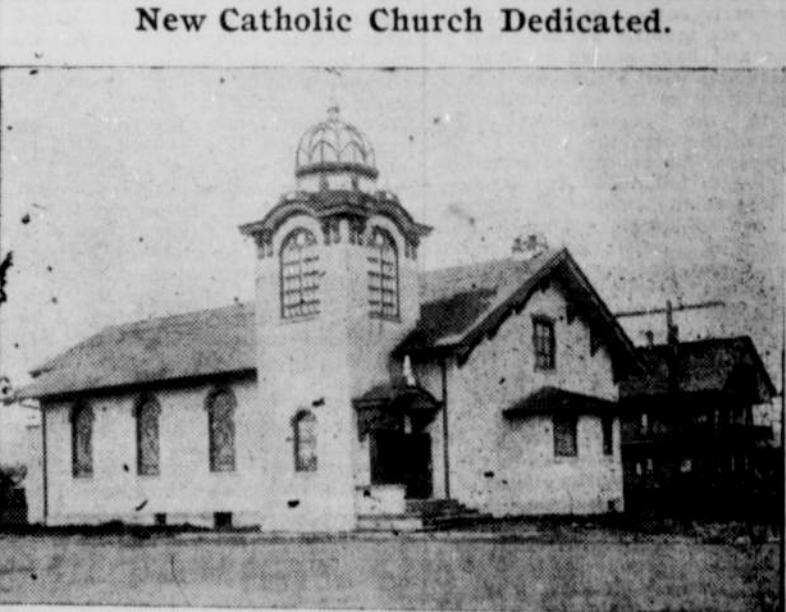

It was announced that he would hold revival meetings beginning next week for four weeks or more and with that end in view, the skating rink will be sealed and efforts are being made to secure the services of an evangelist singer to assist him. He announced that his pay would be only the collections. He says his efforts will be first to "convert" church members and then "clean up" Tillamook.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A surprise was sprung on the band boys at rehearsal on Monday evening, the event being sprung on the unsuspecting horn-tooters by one of their most enthusiastic members, assisted by three of Tillamook's fair daughters. You see, Mr. William G. Larson was recently united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Hazel Petty, the young people are generally popular and in token of their esteem for the members of the band the surprise was hatched. Short ly before the close of the evening rehearsal, the newlyweds brought forth a large freezer of ice cream with numerous cakes, and assisted by the Misses Larson and Brown, the boys were served in most generous and copious quantities to the entire satisfaction of those present. After enjoying the refreshments, Dr. Thomas Monk presented to Mr. and Mrs. Larson, with the compliments of the band, a very beautiful glass water set consisting of pitcher and goblets it token of their high esteem. The compliments of the evening were passed which all enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Larson will be at home to their friends on the Lyster ranch, south of town which Mr. Larson has rented. The band boys hope that Mr. Larson's matrimonial bliss will not prevent him from being a regular attendant to rehearsal in the future as he has been in the past, as all are anxious that the present organization hold together in view of the San Francisco trip which is planned for the exposition next year.

SAFETY. SECURITY. SERVICE.

The new Catholic Church in this city was dedicated on Sunday by Archbishop Christie, when a large congregation attended the morning services. The Archbishop was assisted by Monsignor Rau, Vicar-General of the Diocese, Father Gregory, president of the Columbia University and Father Darby, of Liverpool, England, the latter conducting the services.

The Archbishop prefaced his sermon by referring to the loyalty of the Catholics to the United States, and severely criticized those who circulated reports that Catholics were drilling in basements to overthrow this government. He stated that there are no more loyal people in the United States than Catholics, and if it had not been for them the revolutionary war would never have taken place.

He stated that he was a descendant of one who had fought in that war, and he questioned anyone to deny his loyalty to the United States. He asked if any of the A. E.'s were offering their services to the country, and stated that it was a young Irish-American who was the first to fall in Mexico.

In referring to the new building, the Archbishop thanked Father Van Clarenback, the members of the church and their non-Catholic friends who had contributed in any manner to the building and completion of the church. It was one of the best churches in his diocese. He also thanked the two young men who had given the beautiful baptismal font and advised the young men of the parish to emulate them, so that the church should be properly furnished, and he also praised the choir for the splendid music.

Martin and Theodore Berns were the donors of the baptismal font.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Durrer donated the high altar.

Attorney S. S. Johnson donated the altar cross.

John Berns donated four chandeliers and Will Spaulding, Dave Fitzpatrick, Henry Springer and the Ladies' Altar Society each donated one chandelier.

SUCCESSFUL MUSICAL.

The musicale at the Christian church on Tuesday evening by Mrs. DeBar and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Koch was the treat of the year. The audience was small but appreciative and those that did not attend missed an opportunity for enjoyment. The writer hereof has listened to high priced musicians in many cities without flattery, declares that at no time and at any price has he enjoyed his exquisite melodies of music that thrilled the soul with classic and popular selections more than those so well rendered by this talented trio of musicians, and it would have spoken better of our citizens had they been crowned as it deserved.

Miss DeBar's stage presence is adylike and unaffected, her pleasing personality was made more attractive with a beautifully rich gown of Paris an creation of white satin, draped with voile; her exquisite technique with the violin reminded us of the talented Miss Powell, her rendition of the classic solo, "Legende," did her such credit, and her dainty bowing in the encore "Natchshunk," reminded us of the soft night southern
