THE TILLAMOOK HEADLIGHT.

Editorial Snap Shots.

The dry weather and free trade is playing havoc with the size of milk checks in this county.

There is this to be said about increasing the valuation of property to its full value—it is dollars to dough nuts that the taxpayers will have to pay more taxes eventually on account of the raise.

We don't see any difference in the value of Wilson river bottom land and the Nestucca Valley bottom land, for each will produce the same amount of revenue and should be assessed alike.

There is one thing that is noticeable with the campers this year. Instead of driving in with narrow tired wagons, they are now driving autos—of all descriptions and sizes. This is proof that the farmers are discarding their wagons and buggies for autos.

The "drys" and the "wets" are getting their ammunition ready for the fight. And so are the Republicans and Democrats, and the fight between the latter is for protection on the part of the former and free trade by the latter. The snap shot man is lined up with the Republican party, and does not propose to be drawn into the prohibition fight.

The best business corner in the city—the old Headlight building—is still to be adorned by the old shack. It was a selfish, dog in the manger system that droye business and business houses for Main street, and keep those old shacks on the three corners opposite Lamar's, and it was the same short sightedness which increased the value of property and business in other parts of the city and decreased the value of property on Main street.

We heard a wordy discussion between a "dry" and a "wet" and the point they argued on was whether it would be lawful to ship liquor into Tillamook provided the state went "dry." They seemed to agree, after making some uncomplimentary remarks one to the other about incroaching upon one's liberties and this being one of the strong points of the prohibition party, that it would be unlawful to ship liquor into Tillamook.

Let our public bodies economize and, if possible, reduce taxation. Why not commence with the water commission. The citizens who own property and use water pay three times in Tillamook City what is paid in Portland for water. And the property owners are taxed every year as well to help create a sinking fund to help pay off the bonded indebtedness. As there is such an abundance of water in Tillamook, it looks to us that the wettest city in Oregon is taxed about all it will stand for water.

There is one thing connected with the war that should not be overlooked. England is in a position, with her large government and private ship-building yards, to build a formidable fleet within the next twelve months. And it is safe to say that these ship-building yards are working night and day building ships for the present war, for England realizes that the war will extend over several years. It is to be hoped that the present war will open the eyes of the people to the enormous cost of standing armies and navies, and be the means of all civilized countries settling their difficulties by arbitration.

There is just cause for complaint. The government proposes to tax soft drinks. If that isn't enough to drive a man to quit drinking soft drinks we don't know what is. But, then, why not make the person who takes soft drinks help pay the running expenses of the country equally with those who use liquor for their drinks? It seems, however, that the government is going to get everybody in the drinking habit, whether he is a tea boozer, coffee boozer, soft drink boozer, whisky boozer, beer boozer, or wine boozer, and, no doubt, the water boozer, will be drawn in by some hook or crook.

It is worthy of note that few persons attended the special school meeting on Friday for only about a dozen persons were present. It is a little surprising when we hear so much about excessive taxation so few taxpayers put in an appearance and raise a protest. This is no time to increase taxation, for financial conditions are in such a state one hardly knows what is going to happen. Suppose, for instance, that the suit now pending against this school district goes against it, the school tax will jump to 12 to 14 mills, to say nothing of the additional taxation for the building of a gymnasium and the extra teachers for the kindergarten. We think it is wise to go slow these times and not overburden the people with excessive taxation.

Inheritance Tax for States.

Representative Murdock of Kansas urges a federal inheritance tax as an emergency measure to make up for the shrinking in revenue due to the war checking imports. He has called on the Treasury Department for a list of annual incomes of $250,000 or more. This list should be interesting aside from Mr. Murdock's immediate purposes. As an emergency measure an inheritance tax would not be an ideal substitute for import duties. By the time the people died and their estates were appraised shipping might be sufficiently restored to yield an adequate revenue through customs receipts. Doubling the present income tax or doubling its higher rates increasing the internal revenue taxes or providing for a stamp tax such as was levied during the Spanish-American war would yield a more immediate and reliable revenue. Mr. Murdock's speech indicated, a livelier concern about reducing swollen fortunes than about temporarily increasing the government's revenue. In other words, he was thinking of the constitution's preamble reference to promoting the general welfare instead of the broader powers for levying direct taxes given by the recent constitutional amendment.

Canadian Cheese Situation.

Under date of August 22 the Montreal Trade Bulletin says: "The government of the province of Quebec having made a gift of 50,000 boxes of cheese to the imperial government, that quantity has been lifted from the market, and has had the effect of steadying what was previously regarded as a condition of ease. There has quite a decent turnover since our last report, some 12,000 to 15,000 boxes being reported sold of July and the first half of August goods at 13 1/2 at 13 3/4c. for finest western and at 12 1/2 at 13c. for finest eastern and townships, seconds bringing 12 1/2 at 12 3/4c."

"Mr. A. Trudel, manager of the co-operative Society of Cheese Manufacturers of the Province of Quebec, states that owing to the decision of the legislature to make a gift to the imperial government of 50,000 boxes of cheese, the Thursday afternoon auctions at the board of trade will not take place until further notice. The cheese are to be furnished at five thousand per week.

"A cable was received from Liverpool on Tuesday stating that finest Canadian cheese was quoted at 58, to 71s, whereas a few days previous sales of Canadian cheese in the same market had been made at 74s.

The Folly of Worry.

The same brain can't at the same time dwell on work and worry. You can't dare while you despair. Don't meet trouble half way—make it race after you. There are obstacles in all roads and they are only insurmountable to cowards. No one ever got to the top without a tussle. It isn't so much the quality of a man's mind as the quantity of his nerve that brings him through. So long as ruin is only a possibility there is always a chance to escape. Get out of the fright habit and into the fight habit. Many a man has missed a picnic because he was certain a cloudy sky meant rain.—Women's World.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

WATCH THIS PAPER FOR THE TRUTH ABOUT PROHIBITION

Here is the exact issue that confronts you

The prohibitionists ask you to adopt an amendment to the State Constitution to prohibit the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages, except for medical, mechanical and sacramental uses.

The adoption of this amendment means the entire wiping out of the present splendid home rule and local option laws.

Thereafter the regulation and control of the liquor traffic in Oregon would pass from cities and towns and be retained exclusively by the state.

Note carefully there is no mention of prohibiting "distribution," "transportation" or "use" of alcoholic beverages. Only "manufacture and sale. Distribution, transportation and use intentionally were left out by the prohibitionists. Shipment of liquors into the state, or through the state, or drinking of liquors within the state would not be prohibited by the amendment.

Washington, Idaho and California naturally would immediately begin shipping liquor into Oregon and throughout Oregon. The saloons, where it now exists, would merely have given away to the "blind pigger," "bootlegger" and "moonshiner." All cities and towns now either wet or dry would be at the mercy of the state police authorities and state law makers.

Present "dry" cities and towns would realize that they had come nearer to voting themselves "wet" than they now are under the splendid home rule and local option laws.

If the state authorities were derelict or failed to enforce the law, as they are in Kansas and Maine, the cities and towns would realize that they had voted away their present direct control and regulation of the liquor traffic. These articles will show later that Kansas and Maine authorities are derelict and do fail to enforce the law. To undo the mistake Oregon would have to repeal a constitutional amendment and not a mere law—a very difficult undertaking. Deceit and perjury in securing liquor illegally would have been substituted for what today is a steadily improving, healthier public opinion regarding true temperance, and true temperance would have been done an irreparable injury requiring many years to recover from.

Kansas is pointed to by prohibitionists as the model prohibition state. They want Oregon to become a Kansas. Watch these articles with a fair, open mind, and learn what thirty-three years of prohibition law has done for Kansas without prohibiting or advancing true temperance.

All figures will be taken from latest United States Government Reports

N. B.—Prohibitionists are spreading the opinion that, if the proposed amendment is defeated, the present dry towns and cities will become wet again. This POSITIVELY IS NOT SO. The present home rule and local option laws would remain just as they now are.
