TILLAMOOK COUNTY FAIR. Best Displays Ever Seen Handicaped By Wet Weather.

The rain that makesTillamook famous poured down in copious showers this week and which placed a damper on the best arranged and largest display of live stock and agricultural produce ever assembled in the county. The rain was disappointing soc. to those who have labored so long and faithfully to make the fair a success as well as those who attended it or did not see it on account of the (no cempetition.) bad weather

The nicely arranged pavilion where the cheese and other agricultural displays were exhibited, also flowers, needlework, domestic baking and canning, paintings and photographs, Donaldson, $1.00, (no competition.) presented a pretty picture and was a credit to the county, not only for the large amount of exhibits, but for the artistic manner in which they were

The cheese as usual was an attractive feature, as well as the grange displays. What appeared to interest visitors as much as anything, was the large displays made by two individuals-C. E. Donaldson and R. Y. Bialock-of home grown products. Mr. Donaldson certainly deserved the first prize and is deserving of a great deal of credit. It showed, however the great variety of fruit, vegetables and feed that can be grown in this county, even on hillside land, where most of Mr. Donaldson's exhibits were grown.

There was a fine display of dairy stock, the best ever seen in the county, as well as poultry.

On Thursday afternoon Dr. Withycombe spoke in the pavilion and notwithstanding the inclement weather, there was a large attendance. The Dr. commended the people of Tillamook for the fine display they had made, which was a credit to any county. He specially referred to the fine stock and was highly delighted to see the progress the dairymen had made along those lines. Dr. Withycombe then dwelt upon the necessity of making the farm home pleasant and attractive for the women and the children and those who lived on farms and advocated all modern conveniences for their benefit. Dr. Withycombe said when he first visited Tillamook about 20 years ago he advocated better stock and co-operation amongst the farmers, and he was pleased to find that they had done this and were turning out a splendid cheese that was a credit to the dairymen. He spoke of the great possibilities of increasing the agricultural products of the state and how this could be brought about.

Dr. Withycombe's remarks were well received especially where he advocated making the farm home attractive with modern improvements and comforts for the women and

Dr. Withycombe Visists Tillamook.

Dr. James Withycombe, Republican nominee for Governor, arrived at Tillamook last evening. The doctor was met at the depot by committee of our citizens and escorted to the city by a company of 16 young ladies on horse back. This was greatly appreciated by Doctor Withycombe, and was considered by him as one of the most forceful tributes of his campaign.

The Doctor stated that the outlook for the success of the whole Republican ticket in November is good and that this was unquestionably a Republican year. He said "There is a general impression that the Underwood tariff bill discriminates unjustly against western industries. In fact, practically every industry in Tillamook County has been more or less adversely effected by this bill. I am a staunch believer in the principal of American markets for Americans. These, however are national questions and the voters of this state are vitally interested in state issues. opment of agriculture which will be the great permanent basic wealth agriculture will be beneficial to the whole community. The excellent exhibits of your county fair are tangible evidence of production. The improvement of your live stock is quite marked. This improvement is reflected in the increased production of your dairy output. This is indeed one world and the development of this industry should be pushed to the limit. "I am delighted to see Tillamook County coming into its own. Your city is clean and modern and your rural homes and buildings show progress and thrift and you are on the highway of prosperity and the citizenery of this section of our commonwealth will be known as a contented happy people.
