

MEETINGS THAT INTERESTED OUR DAIRYMEN.

O. A. C. Short Course at Tillamook Proved Highly Successful.

Wednesday night ended what has been, on a whole, a very successful short course in Agriculture and Home science at Tillamook. It is hard to pick out anything that was of more importance than in the meetings than the others. Mr. David Monroe, of Spokane, and Prof. Pitts, of O. A. C., handled the subject of breeding for milk in a very efficient manner, emphasizing the importance of records and obtaining the right sort of a dairy sire. The registry paper does not guarantee the transmitting power of a dairy bull, but this along with large records of production in all the females in the near ancestry is an almost sure guarantee that production will be handed down and augmented. This was brought out very aptly by Mr. Munroe with illustrations of the ancestry of the great Holstein world's record heifer, Funderne Holington Payne, with about 246,000 lbs. of milk and 1116 lbs. butter fat in a year. He showed that the record was produced not merely by chance but by the judicious combination of the blood of eight of the greatest sires of the breed. Mr. Munroe, one of the greatest Holstein breeders of the Northwest, if not in the United States, paid many tributes to the cows of other dairy breeds. He said he would reverently doff his hat in the presence of Murne Cowan, Sophie 19th, Aucherbrain Brown Kate 4th, or any of the large producers, and his only regret was that there was not enough of this caliber to furnish bulls for every dairyman in the country. The Tillamook Breeders' Association, by paying the expenses of Mr. Munroe on this trip, have done a great thing, not only for the breed but also for the dairy industry of the County and for every dairyman, no matter of what denomination who took advantage of the opportunity to hear him.

Prof. Reynolds talks on swine feeding and management, as well as the demonstration of detection of unsoundness in horses, were very well enjoyed by all present.

Professors Lamb and Brown on poultry and horticulture, while not having subjects of quite so much interest to the Tillamook dairymen, still brought out many points which are of greatest importance on every farm. These are the things that make life worth while on the farm, the ability to produce most of our food and have it in the best of condition while the poor city man eats Chinese eggs and wilted radishes.

The talk by Prof. Pitts on feeding and judging the dairy cow were received with great interest. It is a well established fact that breeding is 50 per cent and development the other 50 per cent in getting good live stock. The best bred heifer calf in the world never will make a satisfactory cow unless she is well fed, not only in calfhood but all through life. By "well fed" we don't mean over fed. While our Tillamook pastures are excellent, a large producing cow cannot consume a large enough amount of grass alone to produce to her capacity.

Tillage and manures by Prof. Larsen were talks that every farmer in the county should apply, but the great hit of this part of the program was the trip to the farm of B. J. Beals to inspect his tile drainage system, installed last winter. Party as an effect of this farm demonstration it is planned to reclaim several hundred acres by creating a drainage district in this locality.

Last, but not least, the Domestic Science lectures and demonstrations were largely attended, and some but good words are spoken for Miss Turley and Miss Ueland, who had charge of this department. The art and science of good housekeeping demands as much, if not more, attention than better farming, for are not our children and homes of more importance than our acres and cattle? After the last session the ladies of the Tillamook Civic League gave a very enjoyable reception for the speakers, and the business men of the city presented each of them with a Young America Tillamook Cheese as a memento of the county and to help the Young Americans they had at home to acquire a taste for good cheese.

Two side meetings were held on Tuesday and Wednesday at Cloverdale and Bay City, and while the attendance was rather slim the interest was good. Tillamook will be glad to welcome the O. A. C. lecturers and Mr. Munroe at some future time.

R. C. Jones and the professors left this morning for Nehalem where a short course is being held today.

The Sunday Closing Bubble.

It was mutually agreed between the fruit and candy stores that they would close their businesses last Sunday with the exception of Leo Morrison's store, so as to give District Attorney T. H. Goyne an opportunity to institute proceedings, and notwithstanding that Mr. Goyne has prepared the complaint he seems to have met with a snag, for no one will sign it, and he is in a quandry whether to proceed or to let the matter drop. Sheriff Crenshaw refused to sign it, as well as other leading citizens, who think it is a mistake to attempt to enforce the Sunday closing law. As it is hard to find anyone who is wanting the law enforced, there is not much doubt but what Mr. Goyne will allow the matter to drop on account of the strong opposition to what he intended to do.

Swastika Club.

The month of March meeting was held at the home of Mrs. C. W. Miller.

Besides games Mrs. MacKenzie favored the ladies with several vocal selections, after which delicious refreshments were served.

The invited guests were Mrs. Baker, Mrs. McNair, Mrs. MacKenzie, Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Alderman.

The April meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Burge, where a delightful afternoon was spent. The hostess served a dainty luncheon, after which the ladies adjourned to meet with Mrs. Harrison the following month.

Mrs. C. Holden was elected as a new member. The invited guests were Mrs. Hill and Miss. Tinnerstet.

Suprise Party and Pie Social.

Last Tuesday evening, Mrs. Frank Heyd gave a very pleasant surprise party and pie social, in honor of her husband's birthday. A musical program, was enjoyed by all present. Dr. and Mrs. Monk gave several violin selections and were accompanied on the piano by Miss Conrad. Mrs. Allen Page sang "Why don't You Smile," accompanied by Miss Lillian Guest. A violin solo by Mr. Henry Ellison, a male quartet composed of Messrs Cardiff, Chaffee, Hill and Gilson rendered several selections, and all joined in and sang "Tipperary". This was followed by two piano selections by Miss Lillian Guest.

Assisting Mrs. Heyd in receiving the guests were Mrs. Cardiff, Mrs. C. Stewart, Miss Amanda Feldshau and Mrs. Moulton. The affair was a complete surprise to Mr. Heyd, who by a pre-arranged plan was called away from the shop on supposed business, and was kept figuring for an hour, while a party of men stripped the work benches of racks and tools, converting them into large tables, while the lumber about the shop was used for benches. The tables were beautifully decorated with flowers brought by the guests. Mr. Heyd was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents, among which was a large office desk, presented to him by the 96th Anniversary I. O. O. F.

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs in honor of the 96th anniversary of their order, met at their lodge room on Monday night and marched in a body to the Christian Church where a fine program was rendered.

Ross Shreves, N. G., took charge of the meeting and made the announcements.

The first number was a piano duet by Messdames Koch and Baird. This was followed by a vocal solo by Mrs. Allan Page. The third number was a violin solo by Mr. Koch. The fourth number was a beautiful tableau put on by the Rebekahs. This was followed by a vocal solo by Mr. Baird. The Odd Fellows then put on a fine tableau.

Rev. Van Winkle, pastor of the Christian Church, at the close of the program gave a fine address on the principles of Odd Fellowship, which was full of good thoughts.

Several good lantern slides were exhibited showing interesting scenes relative to Odd Fellowship.

The church was well filled and everyone present considered the evening well spent.

In order to assist the farmers of Lane county to determine the value of their dairy cows and to eliminate the poor ones from their herds, the First National Bank of Eugene plans to place milk testers in the rural schools of the county, the school children to do the testing for the farmers free of charge, under the direction of the county agriculturist. A few of the machines have already been ordered and will be distributed among the schools of the county where dairying is carried on most extensively. The plan has the hearty sanction of the county school superintendent and the county agriculturist.—Eugene Register.

Haltom's

Last Tuesday evening was the last gathering of the Physical Culture Club for this summer. Mrs. R. Jones has been a very efficient leader, and as she is just about to depart for the East and being the last meeting, the members planned a pleasant surprise for her in the way of an appetising luncheon. There were a goodly number present and all did their little part in the way of story telling and speech making. Mrs. Jones was presented with a book from the club as a remembrance of their love and high esteem. The club expects to resume in the fall.
