

TWO COUNTIES FORM JOINT ROAD DISTRICT.

Tillamook and Yamhill Counties Agree to Expend $20,000 on Sour Grass Route.

For several months past the County Courts of Yamhill and Tillamook counties have been endeavoring to get together and arrive at some agreement to form a joint road district for the purpose of building a suitable road to connect the two counties, which is an improvement that should have been undertaken years ago. This arrangement was agreed at a meeting of the two County Courts in this city yesterday.

County Judge J. B. Dodson and Commissioner W. S. Allan represented Yamhill County, and County Judge A. M. Mare and Commissioners Frank Owens and Geo. McKimms represented this county. Roadmaster Hobson, of Tillamook was also in attendance.

Both counties have $15,000 each for the purpose of constructing a road between the two counties, and when the movement was first started Polk county was included in the project, but after the first meeting that county dropped out, leaving the other two counties to come to some amicable arrangement in financing it. Two routes were proposed. One by way of Bentley and the other the Sour Grass, and over these two routes there, naturally, was some contention, for local reasons more than anything else. Both counties had these two routes looked over and they were surveyed by engineers and Roadmaster Hobson was also instructed to go over the routes and report. They all reported in favor of the Sour Grass route, which necessitates the building of 4 1/2 miles of new road in Yamhill County and one mile in Tillamook County.

Yesterday there was some little delay in the members of both courts arriving at a decision on account of what territory should be taken into the new road district and what amount of money should be paid by each county, as Commissioner Owens wanted the Little Nestucca road embraced in the new district. This Judge Dodson would not agree to, and it was finally agreed that 4 1/2 miles in Yamhill County and one mile in Tillamook County form the road district. Then the matter of how much money each county should appropriate was a bone of contention. Judge Dodson and Commissioner Allan contended that the building of the road was of more benefit to Tillamook than to Yamhill county, which the members of the Tillamook County Court had to admit was the case. Judge Dodson said they had come over here with a proposition that each county donate $10,000. Although they had $15,000 appropriated they had a large amount of work to do on connecting roads, which would take more than $5,000. Commissioner Owens endeavored to have Tillamook's appropriation placed at $7,500 but the Yamhillers would not budge, and it was eventually agreed that both counties should contribute $10,000 and the additional $5,000 in this County to be used on the Three Rivers.

During the discussion, the matter of the cost of building the 5 1/2 miles was frequently taken up and Roadmaster Hobson was asked numerous questions. He suggested that the work be let in three sections, and he informed the courts that it was his opinion that the road could be constructed and completed in 60 days after work was commenced. This seemed a surprise to the members of the courts, but as contracts are being let at a low figure this year, a considerable saving is going to be made in building the road this year.

Printing the News.

We often hear some thoughtless fellow say, "If I was running a paper I would print the news. I don't care who it might hit. If they don't want to get into the paper, let them keep out of trouble." We remember one particular instance in which a similar remark was made. We had, through the pleadings of a mother and a tearful sister, "Killed" a good story concerning the escape of a rather worthless young man. But to his mother and sister he was not worthless, and they prevailed upon us not to print the item which would disgrace them for ever. And we did not print it. So we were accused of cowardice by this certain critic and were told that we did not know how to run a newspaper. In vain we tried to explain that many things besides our own personal likes and dislikes entered into our weekly labor. It was no use, he said, we should print the news. Six months later the same man came sneaking up to our home in the dead of the night to plead and beg with us not to print a much worse story in which he himself was mixed up. We had the story but had no intention of printing it, for it was one of those things that it is best for all concerned and for the public to suppress. But our critic had heard that we knew the details and, with the unfairness that characterized his first utterance, at once jumped to the conclusion that we would chortle with joy over a chance to flaunt such a choice bit of gossip in the faces of our readers. Remembering his attitude on the other occasion we let him squirm a bit. We reminded him of the former statement and intimated that he had at that time opened our eyes. "We should print the news. If anyone did not want to get into the paper, let them keep out of trouble." He remembered. He admitted that he had so expressed himself. And this case was different. Moreover, he was a prominent man—and married—and he had a family—and all of the same stuff that every editor hears when some one gets into trouble. Well the story was not printed. It never would have been. But we feel sure that our critic believes that the only thing that kept it out was his "prominence and influence." No, dear friend, about the only element that was totally ignored in coming to our decision was you, yourself.

Children Lost in Woods.

Considerable excitement was caused on Wednesday when it became known that two children were lost in the woods. Mr. and Mrs. Percy Sheldon and family were camped near Amos Vaughn's, where Mr. Sheldon is engaged in building. The two children, one 7 and the other 4 years old, disappeared about ten o'clock in the morning. It seems that they had caught a rabbit and went into the woods with the expectation of catching another, when they became lost. It was at first thought that they might have been drowned, and searching parties were organized. It was getting dusk when the children were found about a mile from the road, and it was surprising the amount of territory they had covered in their endeavor to find a way out. Sheriff Crenshaw took a party of nine men in his auto from this city to search for the children.

Printing Point Does Not Bob Up and Down

In an L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter the point on the paper which is to receive the type impression is stationary at the instant the type hits. The carriage does not bob up and down when the shift is made to write capitals.

Why? Because the type is shifted—not the carriage.

The only movement of the carriage is back and forth on its closely adjusted ball bearing runways—and this does not take place while the print is being made. There is no lifting of the carriage.

This is one reason why L. C. Smith & Bros. typewriting is free from blurs and every letter in the right place.
