What might have been a serious accident happened to Chester McGhee and Miss Neva Hydorn on Friday night. They were driving in a buggy south of town, after the entertainment, and in an endeavor to avoid an automobile coming from Cloverdale the horse ran into a tree, which threw the animal to the ground and threw the occupants of the buggy to the ground. McGhee was rendered unconscious and sustained a dislocated elbow joint and thumb, while Miss Hydorn was badly shaken up, but not seriously injured. It was not until after McGhee was taken to the doctor's office that he regained consciousness. He will be on the sick list for several days on account of the accident.

J. H. McDermott, representing the Standard Oil Co., was in the city on Tuesday for the purpose of selecting a location for a distributing station for oil for the county. The company has been figuring on erecting a station in this county for several months with water and railroad facilities, and money is now available for that purpose. The station will in all probabilities be located in this city, the company negotiated for the purchase of the Small property on the water front, with a proviso that the city will give the company a franchise to erect and maintain a station in the city. Some of the business men took Mr. McDermott for an auto trip on Wednesday morning, and he was surprised at the large amount of agricultural land in the vicinity of this city and extent of the dairy industry. It is the intention of the Standard Oil Co. to ship the different oils into this county by small tank steamers, and it will be distributed over the county from the station. Bay City has offered to give the company a site if it will locate at that place, but now that Mr. McDermott has seen for himself that

Secretary of State Olcott announced Tuesday that Multnomah county would receive $12,648.79 this year as the apportionment under the law providing for a levy of one-twentieth of a mill on taxable property for support of county fairs, land-product shows or live stock exhibitions. Counties not expending apportionments for purposes named in the act are required to place them in the general road funds. A law passed at the last session of the Legislature increasing the maximum initial amount apportioned to any county from $10,000 to $12,500, and the excess of one-twentieth of a mill on the taxable property in Multnomah County, amounting to $5,207.63, will be divided equally among all the counties of the state. Tillamook County receives $148.78 out of that amount. The apportionment to the two sums making $1,147.12.

Chautauqua News.

Tillamook's first Chautauqua will open in this city on Monday, July 12, and will continue for six days. The program consists of two entertainments each day—one at two thirty in the afternoon and another at 7:30 in the evening. Mornings will be devoted to the children. The junior Chautauqua, as it is called, commences at 9:00 a.m.

A number of high class attractions will be offered. Among them are the Adelphian Quartet, Witpeksie's Royal Hungarian Orchestra, Charlotte Bergh, soprano, Buckner's Jubilee Singers, Mrs. Marion Ballou Fisk, cartoonist, Marietta La Dell, impersonator and dramatic reader, Col. William Hamilton Miller, Arthur A. Franzk and United States Senator Elmer J. Burkett, of Nebraska, lecturers. This organization is now traveling through California and reports from cities they have visited speak very highly of them.

The daily entertainments, except those of Thursday and Saturday nights, will be almost equally divided, as to time, between musical numbers and lectures. Lectures will not be of the dry and sleepy kind. The speakers have been engaged in Chautauqua work for a long time and they have learned to make the orations not only instructive but witty and entertaining. On Thursday and Saturday evenings the program will be devoted almost entirely to music.

Season ticket admitting the holder or a member of his family to every program cost $2.50.
