Weddings.

Married on the 29th of June at the M. E. Parsonage, in Tillamook, Earl Strong and Miss Esther Thomas, the Rev. Edward Gittins performing the ceremony. A few intimate friends attended the wedding, after which the happy couple left for Portland and other points.

Married at the home of County Commissioner George R. McKimms, father of the bride, at Mohler on the 27th of June, Albert Boon and Miss Gertrude McKimms, the Rev. Ernest M. Smith performing the ceremony. The groom is in the blacksmith business at Cloverdale, and the bride has taught school and was recently employed as a clerk in the Cloverdale Mercantile Co.'s store. They are highly respected young persons and they carry with them the best wishes of a large number of friends. They left on Monday for a honeymoon trip.

Married on the 16th of June, at Nehalem, Edgar E. Smith and Miss Mary F. Batzner, the Rev. Ernest M. Smith performing the ceremony.

On Monday afternoon Francis E. Mercer and Miss Elsie Lee Lamb were united in wedlock by the Rev. Ed. Gittins, pastor of the M. E. church at the home of T. E. Epplett in this city. There were present relatives of the contracting parties and a few intimate friends. The groom is a graduate of De Pan University, of Indiana and is a Phi Gamma Delta man, with a number of friends here. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lamb, and is one of the young women who graduated from the Tillamook high school and then taught school at several school districts in the county. Her pleasant disposition won for her many friends and respect. The happy couple left for Portland, where they will spend a short honeymoon.

Boys and Girls and Civic Improvements.

At the time the children's lawn and garden work was being arranged, the proprietors of each theatre suggested giving free matinees during the summer as a reward to those who had done such work and as an incentive for continuing.

Certain conditions must be complied with, however, in order to be entitled to the courtesies offered.

Boys and girls through the grades including the 8th, will be admitted if accompanied by some one of the committee in their district who can vouch for work done, or if they have a certificate to that effect signed by one of the committee. It is the intention to reward only those who have actually worked. Boys or girls who have not yet begun may do so now and be entitled to the matinees later.

The first entertainment will be given Monday afternoon, July 5 at two o'clock at the Gem Theatre, the next Tuesday afternoon, July 6 at the Star and from that time on through the summer at dates to be announced later by each of the proprietors.

The interest shown by Mr. Smith and Mr. Partridge is highly commendable, meaning both time and expense and it is greatly appreciated by the people of the city. It is hoped that every parent will co-operate in the work by urging the boys and girls to continue activity in making more attractive lawns and gardens.

Governor not to Convene Legislature In Land Matter.

Medford, Or., June 29.—"I have no intention of calling a special session of the Legislature to consider disposition of state railroad lands," said Governor James Withycombe tonight on his departure for Salem after spending a day at Crater Lake. "But ex-Governor West's letter has had my careful consideration and will be presented to the Desert Land Board next week."

"I fully realize the importance of this question to the people of the state and the desirability of some measure which will return the values latent in these lands to the people of the state, but I am in no position to declare what that measure should be. The members of the Desert Land Board and myself will go over the matter with greatest care and thoroughness and, when we have decided on the best plan, it will be duly announced."

"The most inspiring sight I have ever witnessed," was the state executive's comment on Crater Lake. "It is a natural marvel that ranks with the wonders of the world."

The Ideal Celebration.

We should all help to reclaim the Fourth of July celebration from the bad habits which cling to it. Within the last few years it has regained some of its lost character, but there is still room for improvement. We can all remember the dismal days when the Fourth of July had become nothing better than a riotous holiday with hardly a particle of patriotic significance. Noise, wounds, calliopes, dances and sack races were its least unworthy features, and it required a good deal of imagination to connect such performances with the birth of a Nation and the sacred scenes of American History.

We do not object to sports in their proper place, but the celebration of the Fourth of July should be devotional rather than sportive. There is a time for fun and there is also a time for solemn reflection and the great memories of the past. The Fourth of July is the only day in the year when we may most appropriately turn our thoughts to the privileges and duties of American citizens. Young men who have lately been naturalized are under peculiar obligations to celebrate the Nation's birthday with a serious purpose to learn what duties they have undertaken and what privileges they have acquired.

United States citizenship has often been too lightly regarded. The oath of allegiance has been looked upon as a more or less jocos formula entailing no weighty duties and requiring no deep study. The Fourth of July is the best day in the year to correct this error. The time has come when we need a well instructed, earnest and devoted body of citizens. There should be no more trifling with the great ceremony of naturalization, and those who have taken the oath should learn its full significance. To this end the Fourth of July celebration should be the great civic event of the year, in which all the organizations contributing to our municipal life should participate. It should be made so imposing and attractive that everybody would be irresistibly drawn to attend. And the attraction should not be
