Mrs. Martha Martin left Saturday afternoon with her son Joe Martin and family, for Tillamook for an ex-tended visit. Mr. Martin will make future home in Tillamook .--- Yamhill Record.

The auto driver who "hogs" all the road for miles and refuses to let anyne pass him has no cause to com-lain when somebody else takes the ditch, drives around him and then makes him cat dust for miles. A little courtesy would have saved him a dust bath if he had only appreciated that fact.-Polk County Observer.

Much complaint is heard from those traveling on the roads oiled in Yambill county that they were not oiled soon enough. The result has been that instead of there being a good glazed surface, completely hold-ing the dust in check, there is now dust that is oily. This makes it much dust that is oily. Capt. Jackson, of the Newport, says from his ticked records he finds that the arrivals for the summer are 6,000 short of last year up to August 1st. This is a difference that has been very noticeable, but we are, from all reports, getting the lion's share even at that, as other summer resorts are falling far below this average .- Newport Review.

The Oregon Voter has an illustra-tion showing how school districts are sometimes organized to make the imber holders bear their share of the burden. It cites the case of the city of Tillamook and goes to show how a narrow connecting link is used to connect the timber belt with the district. We see nothing unfair about such a transaction as the timber barons ought to pay their just part of the taxes.-Willamina Times.

According to the Dry Goods Economist, America, "boots sold to the French government proved to be of such inferior quality that the soldiers tore them into strips, and 200,000 pairs of socks, purchased of American mills, were found to be 30 per cent wool and 70 per cent cotton, instead of the mixture being the other way around." If American war ma-terials have been equally base, Ger-many needn't feel so bad that she got none of it .- Telephone Register.

A young married woman was gagged, bound and ravished by two hobos over in Lincoln county last week. The hobos were caught and sentenced to life imprisonment. Such dastardly crimes have been recorded in Oregon before, yet withal capital punishment was abolished, but now with this fresh piece of beastiality staring them in the face newspapers that fought against capital punishment indignantly say, "Hanging is too good for such beasts." Oh, inconsistency, how you do play with the hearts of men!-Sheridan Sun.

This company operat ed in Roseburg and advertised in the columns of The News to the extent of $10.20, during the time it was in existance here. Upon a statement of this account being rendered for payment to the general office at Los Angeles, a long copy of a typewritten letter was received through which with many a "whereas, therefore and resolved," the point was brought out that the company was bankrupt, and if we desired to accept 35 per cent of the amount of the bill in settlement it in full, we should indorse the inclosed certified one and the old adapt of certified one, and the old adage of "a bird in the hand, etc." still holds good, the account was liquidated on this basis. The other day an excited individual rushed into a newspaper office with a choice bit of scandal burning his tongue. It made no difference to this person that the scandal effected the daughter of his neighbor-that the mother of the girl was seriously ill-that the brother was just entering a successful professional career. The scandal was rich in flags scandal was rich in flavor, and he wanted to see it in the paper. He told the editor about it, with every evi-dence of the keen relish of the scandal connoisseur, but impressed upon the newspaper man that the source of the newspaper man that the source of his information must be kept inviol-ably secret. When the paper came out the man returned to demand why the story hadn't been published. Short sharp words followed and the visitor called the editor a coward and left, vowing that a man who was afraid to print the news had no right to be editor. To our mind the editor was a brave man. The informer who de manded that his name be kept secret, was the coward. The editor ran a pa-per in a small town. So closely relat-ed were the lives - of the inhabitants. that the editor new every detail of the story before his visitor called on him. But he could see no profit for himself nor glory for his paper in printing an item that would bring sorrow to the gray hairs of a father, disgrace to a brother and probably serious consequences to a sick moi! er. If the news appetite of his readers were so voracious, he thought as to demand this costly food, he would refuse to pay the price. The editor was right. Many things he has to print which he would rather leave un said, but the scandal which has only its "spice" to recommend it should have no place in the columns of a Fair Notes, School Department.

Nehalem would have had more but we had to make the 1:30 train to catch the train for Cloverdale. Nehalem is the banner locality. At Cloverdale it was too stormy for some of the babies. One mother wanted to come with her child who had the mumps, could be her the same couldn't let her come.

I would never be the parent to keep out of the race for fear of being beaten. I would believe my baby the best ever, if I found cut that I had made a mistake, I would move heaven and earth to have it come near the top next year, not for the prize but because a well baby is a happy baby. When you have a score card you can t ke most of the measurements yourself and see how baby is progressing. Any one having a baby enrolled and failing to show up on July 31st may have the score card for future refer-et ce if you wish. One lady has been having special treatment given the whole year with two of her children because they did not reach her tide of perfection last year. This year one that scored low last year will be in the race, the highest score in her class. That mother will feel well paid, I am sure. The annual statement of receipts and shipments at the Portland Union Stock yards discloses the interesting fact that during the year ending July 31,1915, 6,442 more hogs were received than during the year ending July 31 1914. This fact of course, might be interpreted in two ways. It might mean either that more hogs are being produced in the Northwest than before or that farmers are selling their stock down more closely. It is probable, however, that it indicates the production of more hogs, for the average weight for 1914 was 199 pounds while for 1915 it is 190 pounds A decrease in the average weight hardly indicates heavy selling of brood stock. It is to be hoped that this is the construction to be placed upon the figures, for a decrease in the number of hogs on Oregon farms could not be regarded other than a calamity .- Oregon Register.

There is no just complaint to be made regarding the requirement that only registered pharmacists dispense drugs, that is a safeguard for public good, but in some respects it discriminates against the country druggist. It is a rare country drug store that will justify two registered druggists. If only one is employed the law not permit an ordinary clerk to sell even brush or pencil to customer during the absence of the druggist from the building. The store must be locked to customers every time he steps out. Nor is a doctor, unless he a registered druggist, permitted to fill his perscription within the drug-store in the presence of his patient, during the absence of the druggist. This phase of the law is manifestly unjust and the county druggist and his patrons should work together to these numbers will be well known. have this objectional feature remedied .- Nehalem Times.
