We believe it. The Smith bridge on the Blaine road is dangerous, for it has a nasty sag in the center.

Two ex-mayors of Tillamook City have violated a city ordinance. We wonder where the "sinners" expect to go to when they pass in their

It seems that the property owners are not so much concerned about the assessment as they are about the levy. And about the only place to cut down on the levy is the road fund ..

The public schools of the county have started up after a long summer vacation, but isn't it time to give the children another holiday so that the teachers can hold their annual teachers' conventions at the taxpayers' ex-

Business men "stung" again. By a man who succeeded in getting credit and then suddenly took flight. Isn't it time for the business men to tighten up on the credit system, and get together to prevent being "stung" in the future?

Some persons are advocating bonding the state for $10,000,000 for road improvements, while others want $1,000,000 raised in taxation every year for the next ten years, and there-by avoid bonding. It's a good plan to pay as we go and not run into debt, if it can be avoided.

We are not going to say another unkind word about a Ford. One performed a herculean task on Saturday, when it packed Bro. Trombley, the Democratic free trade booster, to Blaine and back and did not collapse under the immense load. When a tin sissy can do that it must have some

We find a number of taxpayers who coincide with the snap shot man, and who believe that a uniform school tax should be levied for the county, doing away with special school taxes. There are good and just reasons why this should be done, for it is not fair to tax one district with a special tax and not the other.

The Germans who came to the United States after the Franco-Prussian war showed their good judgment. Their sons would now be engaged in the horrible butchery that is now gothere. And all because the Kaiser wants to be the political boss and military director of Europe.

We noticed that over ten thousand persons visited Crater Lake this summer, With a road built around Necarney mountain there would be a continual stream of autos coming and going around that picturesque spot. And the time is coming, and is not far distant, when the people of Tillamook will demand this improvement.

Bro. Dunstan didn't get the first prize in the procession at Blaine on Saturday with that bunch of pretty girls in his auto. We must admit that Blaine has some handsome young women and we were wondering whether Bro. Dunstan was gathering them up to exhibit them at the state fair, as he appears to be gathering up all the best things in Tillamook for that purpose.

No doubt, for the sake of notoriety, some county attorneys will endeavor to enforce the Sunday closing law. They will have the time of their lives in doing so. The case we referred to last week, where the law was attacked, Marion County paid circuit and justice court expenses to the parties who were arrested for violating law when the judge decided that there was no Sunday closing law. Now we are informed there is. There's a cog lose somewhere.

Some persons blame the scarcity of money to the automobile craze. Figmoney to the automobile craze. Figures just compiled show there were on August 15, 21,732 autos in Oregon, or one for every 36.8 persons, valued at $16,000,000. What is most surprising considering that money is so tight, 4716 new cars were purchased in this state the first eight months of the year. It is estimated that it costs tight, 4716 new cars were purchased in this state the first eight months of the year. The Oregon Voter, which made a big smudge about the boundary lines of school district No. 9, don't appear to have much weight with the Su-preme Court judges. It evidently tried to make much ado about nothing and amentably failed in its premeditated effort to influence the Supreme Court with the articles which the attorney drew attention to when arguing the case. We believe the whole system of levying special school taxes is wrong and the law should be changed so that every taxpayer would pay their proportion to taxes for schools and every pupil in the county should enjoy the same privileges of receiving a common or high school education. If the Oregon Voter would advocate this it would be getting at the whole trouble.

The snap shot man feel sorry that Thomas Gilford Stillwell is seeking recover the land he gave for the children's park and play ground, not because the citizens did not appreciate the splendid gift but on account of its management, brought about by conditions he imposed in the deed. We felt at the time that Mr. Stillwell had been wrongly advised when he specified a special board to look after the park and with so many "strings embraced in the deed. We are a little in doubt what is best for the city to do under the circumstances. are those who think Mr. Stillwell is not doing the square thing because those who have had the management of the park have not made the show-ing they might have with the money already expended, but it was his wish and desire that it should be managed by a special board, and, as we look at the matter, he is as much to blame as any one else if the affairs of the park have not been properly administreed. As we have previously stated, Stillwell was badly advised in this respect, and being sick at the time, probably did not realize that he had made a mistake. We appreciated Mr. Stillwell's gift at the time and admir-ed his public spirit, and for that reason we feel sorry that he has seen fit to recover the land on account of a few alleged irregularities in not complying with the conditions. Tillamook City has been unfortunate in not having any public spirited citizens who saw the need of a children's play ground and park, notwithstanding many have made a pile of money while residing here, and the thought occurred to Mr. Stillwell, while sick in California, that he would be that generous and public spirited citizen, notwithstanding that the land was all must give Mr. Stillwell credit for being sincere at the time he made the

Price of Tillamook Cheese.

Cheese has been on the down grade to far as price is concerned for some time regardless of the fact that there is no foreign competition. If the tariff on cheese was higher than Gilroy's kite, it would make no difference in the price of cheese today, regardless of the rantings of Bro. Baker. The war has protected our cheese market better than any tariff could, still the price of cheese has been going down of late. We are pleased to note, however, that the late market reports state that the price will soon be on the upgrade again.—Herald. Bro. Trombley overlooks one im-

Every pound of Canadian cheese sold in the United States displaces just that much American made cheese. This is a fact that admits of no evasion by even so good a dodger as Bro. Trombley. While professing to be a friend of the American producer, who supports him, Bro. Trombley advocates a policy that invites competition against the very ones who feed him. Evidently Trombley will have to revise his policy or the local producer will tell him to look elsewhere for his support—to the non-American tax payer whom Trombley, and every other Democrat, is so solicitous about

On Sunday morning when the milkers went to their work at the Harrison ranch they discovered fire in one newspaper sometimes does the same thing by a different—although a located in the middle of the mow near located in the middle of the mid once and the small garden hose was brought into use. All of the places where the smoke was coming through except one was blocked up to stop the draft, and water was turned into the one hole in an endeavor to put out the fire. In the meantime hose from the city fire department were joined and connected to the nearest hydron and more water was brought into play. During this time a large force of men were busy hauling the hay out of the barn in wagons and carrying it away from the barn. It was nearly noon before all the hay was carried from the barn and the fire was entircly out. The barn contained two mows full of hay. One mow was not damaged at all and much of the hay that was carried out will be saved will be saved.

HOMESTEADERS' FAIR.

Large Gathering at Blaine-Minister Meets With Bad Accident.

Between three and four hundred people attended the homesteaders' fair at Blaine on Saturday, which was held at the Magarrell place, quite a few homesteaders coming from Mt. Hebo. The day was ideal, and all who attended enjoyed the beautiful weather, quite a number from this city and urrounding country being present. There was a good display of fruits, vegetables, grasses, poultry, etc., and several head of blooded stock.

R. Y. Blalock won the prize for the best float in the parade, but that which came in for the most attraction was "Going to Oregon" by W. R. Speece.. He drove a team of cows to represent the proverbial ox-teamwhich drew a sled with his wife seated in it, with the inscription "Going to Oregon" above. Mr. Speece packed one child on his back, and a boy carried what everybody supposed was a pig in a sack, which, however, proved to be a dog.

In the homesteaders' exhibits that of W. R. Speece was decidedly the best and worthy of special mention, for it not only contained a varied collection of fruits and vegetables, but also what a good homesteader's wife can do in the culinary department.

Of the farm displays, R. Y. Blalock, acob Nicklaus, Fannie Smith and H. .. Jensen showed what the Blaine country could do in producing fine fruit, vegetables, corn, grasses, etc., and these exhibitors are entitled to a good deal of credit for their varied and nicely arranged displayes.

W. C. King had a good display of apples and pears, and R. C. Magarrell also had a varied display, both of which were excellent. Dave Reddaway showed some fine artichokes.

The children of Blaine should not be forgotton, for they are taking a the same was rejected.

In the matter of the petition of Solon Schiffman and John Schild for and these young folks showed on Saturday that they know how to raise them by the excellent showing made.

Unfortunate Accident. The base ball game attracted a good crowd, but one unfortunate accident occurred. While Rev. J. Samples was batting he was struck on the jaw by a ball, which broke the bone in two places. The rev. gentleman was a baptist minister, and had been called to a church at Gateway, in Eastern unfortunate man out.

Dr. Shearer, of Cloverdale, was attending the fair and he took Samples there in his auto to have the injuries attended to.

County Agriculturist R. C. Jones, made a speech in the afternoon, in which he complimented the people of of the big mows. The fire was caused Blaine for the fine showing they made
