THE GREAT WHITE PLAGUE.

Interesting Lecture Delivered in Tillamook by Rev. J. E. Youel

Before three audiences last Tuesday afternoon, Rev. J. E. Youel, of the Presbyterian Church, delivered an interesting lecture on welfare work. In the afternoon he spoke before the high school and received interested attention. Directly after he addressed the Presbyterian Ladies' Guild on the same subject and in the evening he presented his lecture before the I. O. O. F. lodge. The lecture in full is as follows:

Solomon, King of the Jews, has said, "Wisdom is a defence, even as money is a defence; but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom preserveth the life of him that hath it." We gain knowledge for the purpose of enabling us to defend our lives, a possession which was dearly value and labor and fight to sustain and perpetuate. This quality is sure as an instinct in all animal life, beast as well as human. Each individual will war with might, if necessary, to protect the life it possesses, and together as mates or singly, there is cunning and well directed skillful effort put forth for the sustenance and protection of the lives and safety of their offspring. Every form of life seems to have its foe. The question is not alone a biblical one, but arises in the thought of us all, "What is your life?" We cannot answer just what it is. Finite man sometimes finds himself powerless to produce or retain it in the world. A skillful physician remarked to me one time, as he knew that a faithful fight he had made for holding life in a stricken body was a losing one, "Life is a strange thing, isn't it? Life is a mystery."

It is not for us to be concerned so much with what life is as it is to use our wisdom in preserving and making the most of the lives we have. These lines from an unknown author are to the point:

"Tis not for man to trifle: life is brief
And sin is here.
Our age is but the falling of a leaf,
A dropping tear.
We have no time to sport away the hours.
All must be earnest in a world like ours.
"Not many lives, but only one have we;
One, only one.
How sacred should that one life ever be—
Day after day filled up with blessed toil.
Hour after hour still bring in new spoils!"

A good office of wisdom is to recognize the fact of life, and to profit by the discoveries of science through the application of the laws and counsel given us. Yes life has its enemies. There are things that kill it. Generally diseases. One of the deadliest and far reaching foes of life in this generation is tuberculosis, or consumption, which has been aptly called the great American White Plague. One of the sanest movements of today is that of the National Association for the study and prevention of tuberculosis. Subsidiary to this organization there is the Oregon Association for the prevention of tuberculosis, the directorship of which consists of many recognized prominent physicians and intelligent laymen, of various occupations in our states. What I shall say here along the line of specific facts, figures and advice, will be upon this authority, which they have issued in circular form for use in a general educational campaign, the names of which I can furnish if desired.

Tuberculosis is a communicable, preventable and curable disease. Let these terms burn into your minds so that they will never be forgotten as you value life and shall be obliged to wrestle with its foes. Tuberculosis kills 200,000 persons each year in the United States—1 every 3 minutes. It kills one-tenth to one-seventh of all who die between the ages of 18 and 45. It costs in dollars and cents over $500,000,000 a year in loss of life and labor to the United States. Not less than 1,000,000, it is estimated in the United States are now suffering from it.

Tuberculosis is a disease process caused by the growth in the body of the tubercle bacillus or germ. The germ is a vegetable parasite, discovered by Dr. Robert Koch, of Berlin, in 1882. The daily expectation of a consumptive may contain millions of germs. The germ growing in the body destroys tissue and produces poisons or toxins which cause the well known symptoms of the disease. The commonest form of tuberculosis is tuberculosis of the lungs, or consumption, but it may occur in any part of the body, especially in the bones and joints of children, and as scrofula.

There are certain predisposing causes, as, in the person, weakened physical condition, lack of proper food, alcoholism, grippe, colds, pneumonia, measles, typhoid, plury, etc. In the environ, such predisposing causes as bad living and working conditions—especially impure air, darkness, dirt and dust. Respecting immediate causes, I am authorized to say to you, that tuberculosis is acquired, not inherited. One may inherit predisposing causes, as a weak constitution and susceptible physical conditions with not enough exuberant vitality and force to throw off deadly disease germs. There can be no tuberculosis without the germ. The commonest method of infection is by inhalation. Dried germs from sputum of consumptives float in the air and are breathed into the lungs. Hence the necessity of destroying all sputum, and of special precautions in coughing and sneezing. Tuberculosis may also be acquired by ingestion, i. e., by swallowing the germs with infected milk and food, and more rarely by inoculation through cuts and wounds. Commonest early symptoms are, persistent cough and cold lasting a month or longer, loss of weight and appetite, run down feeling, afternoon temperature, night sweats, spitting of blood or streaks of blood in sputum. These symptoms should lead anyone to consult a reliable physician at once, and should be considered as criminal negligence if such council is not sought. This is justly a day when "Safety First" is not only a popular motto for post cards but a sane warning to all, knowing that not only the one life is imperiled but many others as well because of the foolish neglect of one or two careless ignorant, unalarmed or timid sufferers.

Prevalence of tuberculosis in families and among children does not prove that the disease is inherited, but that there is or has been a parent, or other person, who has or has had consumption, and that the fact that others develop it is due to direct infection from one person or another. We observe then the danger from playing in infected floors, and using infected utensils, clothes, etc. The child has an inherent right to life, health and prosperity.

Essentials in the cure of tuberculosis are fresh air, light, cleanliness, rest and wholesome food. Early discovery of disease is necessary for cure. The best method of cure is sanatorium treatment. The disease may be treated at home, if the patient can be given en plenty of food and fresh air under direction of a competent physician. Tuberculosis dispensaries give free advice and treatment to those unable to pay a physician. Avoid patent medicines and advertised cures. They do not cure and are always dangerous. If nothing more you will be losing valuable time and giving the contestant for your precious life a probable winning advantage. There is no danger from association with a careful consumptive who destroys his sputum properly and is always cleanly in habits.

Tuberculosis may be prevented by teaching the consumptive to destroy his sputum without fail. Be teaching people not to sleep, live or work in dark or badly ventilated rooms. By teaching the consumptive how not to infect his family, friends or neighbors. By discovering the disease in its early stages and curing the patient, thus removing a source of infection to others. By educating the community as to the nature of the disease—that it is communicable, preventable and curable. By educating people to keep their bodies in such physical condition as to enable them to resist the germs. By advocating fresh air, out-door life, no overwork, wholesome food, and temperate habits.

I am appealing to you today to use your wisdom in the excellent issue of knowledge, for the preservation of your own lives and the lives of others as a positive defence against the deadly onslaught of the enemy of human life, tuberculosis. It is the war that pays—it brings prosperity. Enlist in the campaign by preaching Red Cross Christmas Seals. Buy them and use them as an expression of your appreciation of the sacredness of life. Buy many of them, one cent each for this is the method adopted nationally for winning the victory. Every seal is a bullet in the fight against tuberculosis. It helps protect your country, your neighbor, your family and yourself from the disease and its cost. These seals will be sold by the ladies of the local Civic Improvement Club at different stations in some of the stores and the post office until Christmas day. Have a definite part in the beautiful philanthropy of "peace on earth, good will to man."

Notice.

There has been a report circulated that prices at the Gem Theater have been raised to 15c for adults on all shows. This is absolutely false. We have only raised our prices on Thursday night programs, which we are compelled to do, as our service for that evening is of the late releases, consequently, it costs more, and we must make the small raise in price. All other programs the same old price 10c and 5c, unless otherwise billed and advertised.

Yours Respectfully,
L. E. Partridge.

Presbyterian Church Notes.

"Human Welfare: Science, Sanjity, and Good Health" will be the subject of the pastor's sermon at 11 next Sunday. This will be the first of several studies dealing with human interest problems in the light of reason, revelation and religion, which will be delivered at intervals during the year. A five minute talk on "What About Tuberculosis" will precede the evening sermon, which will be on the subject "How May I Become a Christian?" Sunday school at 11, and young peoples meeting at 6:30 furnish opportunity for study and action for all ages. Last Sunday was a day of good attendance and interest in all the services. The Ladies' Guild enjoyed their banner attendance day Tuesday afternoon, when over eighty ladies were present. The refreshment committee served a delightful lunch, cafeteria style. All who are at liberty to attend are earnestly invited to have a personal interest in being present at one or all of the services of next Sunday. Strangers especially welcome.

Circuit Court Proceedings.

Circuit Judge G. R. Bagley commenced a special term of the circuit court on Monday, taking up several cases that were left over and what criminal cases District Attorney T. H. Goyne had to try. The grand jury was called to consider several cases.

The grand jury was in session all week, and on Tuesday returned the following indictments:

Coats Driving and Boom Co. vs. Alma S. Johnson. Continued.

Tillamook County, on the relation of James Langley vs. M. M. Mead et al. This case went to trial and was not finished as we went to press.

Tillamook County, on the relation of Sandberg-Logos Co. Action for money. Verdict for defendant.

Carl Possetti vs. Southern Pacific Co. Action for money. Non-suit by plaintiff.

Lehman and Clough Co. vs. Alice Carr and H. E. Carr. Action for money. Judgment and decree.

Samuel Leback et al vs. Allan H. Wilson et al. Foreclosure. Confirmed.

C. E. White and U. S. Lawver vs. R. A. Henry. Foreclosure. Dismissed.

John Weber vs. A. F. Coats Lumber Co. and Coats Driving & Boom Co. Injunction. Dismissed.

Andrew Peterson vs. M. B. Shafer and Sarah E. Shafer. Foreclosure. Judgment and decree.

Ida Hadley vs. Ed. Hadley sr., Lizzie Hadley and Ed. Hadley jr. Dismissed.

Augusta Wallan vs. T. J. Wallan. Divorce. Default.

David Curtis, et al, vs. Tillamook City. To quiet title. Leave to file amended complaint.

Carl Dennis, for forgery. He pleaded guilty Judge Bagley sentenced the prisoner to an indeterminate sentence of two to twenty years in the State Penitentiary.

Cliff Nicholson and Ed. Omar, for burglary. They pleaded not guilty and their case was set for trial on Friday.

W. J. Stephens for allowing a minor in his saloon. He pleaded guilty and was fined $50.00.

English have ceased to protest against Zeppelin raids, possibly because they are so indignant that they are voiceless.
