Several thousand dollars are to be spent on road improvement in the North Fork district this season and work will commence up there just as soon as weather conditions permit.—Wheeler Reporter.

Death of Herbert Cooper
Herbert Cooper was born in Tillamook County, Oregon, June 9, 1887; died near Olympia, Wash., March 11, 1916, aged 28 years, 9 months and 2 days. *
He was a member of the first 12 grade graduating class of Tillamook High School. He was also a graduate from Washington University, after which he was teacher in the Y. M. C. A. of Portland. *
He was married in 1909 to Miss Helen Shaver, of Tacoma, Wash. Besides his wife he leaves a son Donald, six years old, father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cooper, now of St. Helens, Oregon, and one sister, Mrs. E. H. Whitney, of Portland, Ore. *
He was of a quiet unassuming disposition and greatly loved by his friends and associates, who will truly mourn his untimely death, and will deeply sympathize with his dear ones in their sad loss.

Christian Church.
A very large crowd was present last Sunday night to listen to our special services, and the interest is continually growing. Hear the following questions answered next Sunday night. *
When was the Sabbath changed to the first day of the week or was it ever changed? If it was changed who did it, if not why do we keep the first day? Is it the "mark of beast"? What had people ought to do on Sunday? work or rest? *
We promise those present an interesting time next Sunday night. *
Prof. Humbert will speak at the morning service on a vital subject. We are glad to give the citizens of Tillamook this opportunity to hear one of our educators who is already so well known by the public. "I come to thee" is the name of his solo for the evening service.

THE OPERETTA A SUCCESS.
High School Glee Club Gave a Splendid Entertainment.
The new city hall was filled to its limit on Friday night when the Glee Club of the Tillamook High School gave the musical two act operetta "Isle of Chance," in a most commendable manner, it being one of the best amateur theatrical performances given by the high school in this city. *
This was the first time that the new city hall had been used for a public gathering, and the crowd there on Friday evening was not only delighted with the hall, but with the performance as well. *
A great deal of praise is due Miss Hazel McKown, musical director; Miss Lucia Macklin, dancing and drill director, and Miss Pauline McElvain, dramatic director, for the success that attended the performance, and they are to be commended for the excellent manner in which everything was carried out, the play, going through without a break, which showed that they had taken a great deal of pains training the performers in their respective parts. *
Those who took part in the play are also deserving of a word of commendation. Harold Humbert carried the part of King Greed well, as did John Ebinger, captain of the Ship Ease. Lee Doty made an excellent Lord What's the Use, and his quaint remarks caused considerable laughter. Miss Zylphia Switzer, as Lady Frivolous, and Miss Mayma LaFollette the leading lady characters in the play, did remarkably well, the solos by the latter being encoured. The sailors from the Good Ship Ease were Tom Coates, Trevor Hare, Max Beals and Joe Erickson and they put some life in the performance. They certainly acted their parts well as jolly tars. Ernest Crockatt carried a difficult part as On-a-Grouch, with Jeff O'Donnell as the shadow, both doing well. *
Two of the most pleasing features of the operetta were the choruses and the drills given by the Follies in their picturesque costumes. The hearty applause they received showed how highly the audience appreciated the choruses and the drills. It was a jolly bunch of young ladies, and they put a great deal of zest into their parts. Those who composed the chorus of Shadows and the Spirits of Spring were Misses Nellie Gaylord, Gertrude Ebinger, Pauline Beals, Fay Hill, Fay Harris, Beulah Rogers, Lucile Rowe, Margaret Coates, Margaret La Follette, Mable Goynne, Bernice Nelson Irma Sumerlin, Kitty O'Donnell and Hazel O'Donnell. *
The McGhee orchestra furnished the music, and this added to the pleasure of the evening. *
Between the acts Miss Kitty O'Donnell, who was one of the Follies, appeared between the curtains, and sang an appropriate ditty to a number of young men who occupied the front seat. It brought forth an encore, and was as follows: *
Oh, you Hank Heisel, Oh, you mut Leach; What you came for we all know, You said "Just to see the show," But that's what they all say, Now all of you bald heads, Are all just the same; That you are not deaf We all know; Yet why did you choose the very front row? Trust me, the Follies know.

Swastika Club.
Mrs. Thad Robison entertained the club this month. All the members being present. *
The rooms and table were beautifully decorated with Moss and Shamrock, the table center piece being especially attractive. *
After a guessing contest the members were invited to the dining room, where each partook of delicious refreshments prepared by the hostess. After spending some little time in a social way the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Miller in April. *
Sons of Veterans Take Notice. *
All those who have signed up, and all others who wish to go into the Sons of Veterans Camp are requested to be on hand Saturday, April 1st, 1916, at one o'clock p.m., at G. A. R. hall over Gem Theatre at Tillamook, Oregon. *
One o'clock means one o'clock, so be on hand and on time, as the application blank has to be returned and all names not mustered will have to be erased. Will the drum corps be kind enough to come out and help the boys along? *
By order of C. E. Reynolds, Organizer.

"Isle of Chance" to be Repeated Friday Night.
The success of the High School Operetta, "The Isle of Chance," last Friday night demands a repetition. So in order to give you people who did not see it another chance, to say nothing of those who want to see it a second time, another presentation will be given Friday evening, March 31, at the city hall. *
Tillamook never realized it had so many pretty girls until it saw that chorus of Follies. Did you see the imposing King in his variegated costume, and hear his mighty voice? How all the ladies love the jolly Sailor Boys in their "Hornpipes"? If you ever felt blue and down hearted, you can sympathize with Mr. On-a-Grouch, and the gloomy Shadows. Surely, the sturdy Captain snacks of salt sea. *
Well you can see all the good things at once. Oh yes, we forgot Lord What's the Use. He is a true blooded Englishman with his monocle and bored drawl. And, Oh joy, Despair, our Jeff O'Donnell, is going to sing some specials. Isn't it worth the ticket?
